On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Title, line 3, strike out 'that they be sold under official tags bearing" insert "certain statements to be filed, license fees to be paid and other statements to be made which shall be"

Section 1, line 30, after "to" insert "be"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments as read will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

AUTHORIZING ADDITIONAL PRINTING.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, in the reprint of House Bill No. 183, known as the Public Utliities Bill, the printer has failed to carry out the rule of the House in noting the amendments. The amendments should have been inserted or printed in italics. It is practically impossible to follow and ascertain what the amendments are and I offer the following motion. Another thing, the copies are likely to be exhausted and there is a great demand for them and that is the reason for offering this motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that the amendments were passed over the section and from that it was inferred by the Clerk that the Committee desired the bill printed in the manner in which it was presented.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved that the Chief Clerk be authorized to have 500 additional copies of House Bill No. 183 printed, and that the printer be instructed to print the amendments that have been made in italics.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent at this time to call up House Bill No. 1025, file folio 2485, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved tne eleventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine entitled "An Act to authorize cities of the first class to levy and fix a tax rate the time of opening and closing the tax duplicates to regulate the apropriations and expenditures of said cities and prescribing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act by fixing the first of October in each year as the time on or before which the city controller shall be required to furnish to councils the estimate provided for by such act and the first of December in each year as the time on or before which the tax rate for the ensuing year shall be fixed on page 35 of yesterday's calendar, Bills on Third Reading, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the bill at all. I simply want to make at this time a protest against the general practice of calling up bills for amendment on third reading, out of their order. The result is to pass the bill on third reading and have it prepared for final passage in such a way that they take precedence over all bills previously reported. I make no objection now, but I will make objections the next time this is done.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to consideration of the Bill at this time. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 1025, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine entitled "An Act to authorize cities of the first class to levy and fix a tax rate to fix the time of opening and closing the tax duplicates to regulate the appropriations and expenditures of said cities and prescribing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act" by fixing the first of October in each year as the time on or before the city controller shall be required to furnish to councils the estimate provided for by such act and the first of December in each year as the time on or before which the tax rate for the ensuing year shall be fixed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 58, by striking out the word "October" and substituting therefor the word "November"

Amend title, line 7 by striking out the word "October" and substitute therefor the word "November"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments as read will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

The SPEAKER. Notice has been given that unanimous consent will not be granted for any other amendments at this time. The gentlemen will save the time of the House by not requesting unanimous consent to call up bills out of order.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 822 (Senate bill No. 103) as follows:

An Act to provide that certain teachers of long experience in the Comcmnwealth of Pennsylvania shall be appointed permanently and defining the manner of changing their positions and salaries making it the duty of the president and secretary of each school board in this Commonwealth to enter certain contracts and providing penalties for the neglect or refusal to perform such duty

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the first day of September Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen whenever any teacher holding a certificate which confers a permanent right to teach shall have taught for ten years in any one school district of this Comonwealth it shall be the duty of the president and secretary of the board of school directors to execute a contract of permanent employment with such teacher in the school work of such district and thereafter he or she may not be dismissed from the employ of such district except for causes specified in the laws of this Commonwealth

Section 2 That the salary of any teach permanently employed acording to the provisions of this act shall not be reduced nor his or her position changed without his or her consent in writing or upon the recommendation of the two-thirds vote of the schcol directors of the district

Section 3 That any president or secretary of a school board who neglects or refuses to perform his duty as specified in this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Ulerich.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, this bill comes over from the Senate and on the face of it I suspect we ought to think it a good bill but it is not absolute evidence that it is a good measure because it came from that body. They have a great deal of Senatorial courtesy and it is possible that they will send a bill over here just as we sometimes send a bill over there. In the Committee on Education I have voted to place this bill on the calendar, not because I thought it was a meritorious measure, but because of the more than ordinary interest that is being taken in it by a goodly number of the teachers of this Commonwealth. I thought that a measure which involved as important and as worthy a body of individuals as the teachers of this Commonwealth deserves to be considered by all the members of this House, rather than only by its Committee. There is no doubt in the world and I think we all believe that the teachers of this State are not getting all they deserve. They deserve more in money, they deserve more in kindness, they deserve more in helpfulness, and they desere more in co-operation than they are getting. They are the character builders, in a large measure, of the citizenship of this State. Upon them depends more than any other source or as much as any other source the future greatness of this State. I think each one of us is in sympathy with the school teacher. I am sure we are and I think we are willing to vote for any reasonable measure that would benefit the condition of the teacher. I am sure if it were up to me, that I would be willing to vote for a measure that would make the salary of the teacher, who serves the children in the Commonwealth at least seventy dollars per month and then they should be held in the same high regard as the lawyers, ministers and bankers and other highly respected citizens. They deserve all you give them, but Mr. Speaker, I don't think that this measure is going to help the school teacher. I feel it is going to injure the child. Mr. Speaker, school legislation can always be enacted in the interests of the children. No matter how much you love the school teacher, however, we ought to love the child more. After this measure had passed the Senate, I wrote to twenty of the leading educators of the county, which I have the honor to represent. I enclosed a copy of the bill and I asked them to write to me and tell me what they thought of the measure and if they liked it, they should say so and if they disliked it, they should tell me why they disliked it.

They are as anxious as anybody for the success of the teaching force under their direction, because success for the individual teacher and success for the body means success for the principal and the superintendent, and if, for no other reason that the selfish reason, they are anxious that that body be as efficient as possible. Here is a summary of what these men wrote me. I would like to have the attention of the House in regard to these seven reasons why the bill should not pass. In many cases the necessity of holding the job is a stimulus to fair teaching; remove this incentive and many average teachers would be a decided handicap to the school. There is no question about that. There are average teachers, teachers that are teaching good or fair, simply because they feel that if they do not, and if they go below that standard, they will not get the job the next term, and hence they are doing everything they can to keep up to the mark. If you would elect that teacher permanently, without the power to put them out except under the provisions in the school code, which you would have to go into court to prove, these teachers would not be average teachers. This bill, if enacted into law, would encourage unprogressiveness, self-satisfaction, inactivity and incompetency. It would counteract, in a large measure, the beneficient results of supervision. I want to call the attention of the House to that point. In the school code, we made provision for a large amount of supervision. Now, if you elect the teachers permanently, you will take some of those teachers out of the reach of the supervisors. There is no question about that, and the result is that the children will suffer. Such a law is not needed, for good teachers at present are not only permitted to remain, but are urged to remain. This measure is a purely selfish one; with such a law in force many school boards would, at the end of nine years, refuse to elect a teacher, solely because they would be going into a permanent contract with the teachers. This bill, if enacted into law, would protect the poor teacher and would not in any way benefit the competent one. I want to give you a little concrete example. I know a township that has five teachers in it at the present time who are rather farmers than teachers. They make teaching a sort of side line. These men have all taught for ten years. They are not up to the standard, but teachers in our section are scarce, and they are a little bit better than the sixteen or seventeen year old girl without experience. If this bill were to become a law, these teachers would become permanent teachers—farmer teachers, not very much interested in the school, but teaching as a side line. If you want to do anything for the teachers of this Commonwealth, when the amendment comes up to vote—I think it is—$225,000 to make the minimum salariese $45 and $55 a month, vote for that measure; and then, when the General Appropriation Bill comes up, if you want to do something worth while for the teachers, when $15,000,000 is provided for in the appropriation, vote it $16,000,000, and make a provision to give the teachers one-half of the extra million. In that way you will do something for the teachers of this Commonwealth.

Mr. FLYNN in the Chair.

Mr. GRAMLEY. Mr. Speaker, the bill that is before us, in my opinion, is not a good one. If there is a man on this floor today that has a warm heart for the school teacher, the speaker is that man. If there is one here in this House that has a kind word to say for the good, affectionate teacher, I claim the vanity to be that man. I honor the teacher. Why should I not? It has been my lifework. I respect the woman or the man who makes annual monthly, yes daily sacrifice for the boy and for the girl. I furthermore respect the school board, when the school board to a man stands by its teachers, when they aid this good work. A good school board can do nothing else. It is the duty of a school board to do that. If it does not, it is delinquent to its duty and should be removed from its office. But, Gentlemen of this House, I regard this bill a dangerous one—no, I will not use that word. I say it is not a good bill, because of the fact that it is human to err. The best of us may fall, the best of us may become derelict to duty; the best one of us may forget himself in the performance of duty, if there is not some spur or whip back of us to keep us at our work. Now, that is true in the school room. My observation and experience in school life has shown me that to be a fact, but while I have said that we must care for the scshool-marms, for the teachers, but after all, gentlemen, back of it all is the boy for whom we must legislate. Now, when I say "boy" I mean the girl, too. If it were not for the boy, we would not need our education department at Harrisburg; we would not need our county and city superintendents; we would not need our school boards; we would not need our teachers; so after all, whatever we do in this lien of work is done for the man of tomorrow and for the woman of tomorrow.

I have a little clipping that I cut from the Philadelphia Ledger a few days ago, and with your permission I will read it.

"Ventnor City, N. J. March 19. A new way of evading the teachers tenure of office act has just been discovered by the Board of Education, which will dispense with the services of the entire staff of teachers at the close of the school year and engage a new staff.

Under the teachers' act teachers continuously employed for three years and engaged for a fourth come under the protection of the statute and cannot be dismissed without formality of hearing and trial. Unless its policy is changed the Ventnor board will employ an entirely new force of the youngest and brightest teachers obtainable for each school term."

Now, gentlemen, I have not read that little article because I am in sympathy with it; absolutely not. I will certainly not support a school board that takes that course. But, gentlemen, are we not enacting this bill into a law and permitting school boards in Pennsylvania to become unscrupulous and injudicious? Will they not do the very same thing? If that is the case, you are defeating the very thing that you want to do. I don't believe, gentlemen, that one efficient teacher will be thrown out of office out of a hundred, because school boards are prompted by politics or by creeds or by something else which would influence them. I know teachers in Centre County who are holding positions under school boards of different political faiths for twenty-five years, and they are sure of their positions today, just as sure as though this bill were a law. But those teachers are doing their duty, and that is what will be the case if they are faithful to their duty, if they do their work they will not be likely to be disturbed. If they are, your remedy is to disturd the school board; the power after all lies in the hands of the people. I am not to sure, gentlemen, whether this bill does not reflect upon school boards. A good efficient school board may well think it is aimed at them. "That legislature is of the opinion that we don't take care of our teachers; it will dictate to us." Isn't that true? Can you and I legislate for them better than the school boards can? And, furthermore, is that our right and privilege? Is that our right and prerogative. At the same time, with the County Superintendents; would you think of doing that? Would you think of hiring and electing your school boards under the same provisions? Would you think that your Educational Department here at Harrisburg should come under this rule, and Dr. Schaeffer, our present superintendent, who held the fort for twenty years plus. I believe, gentlemen, we would better. for the good of our school boards and our school teachers defeat this bill. One word more: I incidentally came in contact with a few educational people in our state since this bill has been on the calendar, and I find no one favors it. Just an hour ago, I read a letter written by a superintendent residing in Centre County, in which he takes strong grounds against this bill. He says it will spoil the teachers. Have you ascertained or have you found a general demand for a bill of this character, outside of the teachers themselves, and not all of them. I am glad to say that I have come in contact with teachers in my county who say, "Don't pass the bill." Teachers that would come under the provisions of this bill. I have not found any general demand for it, but have found objection and opposition to it, and barring the teachers, your teachers' association, I don't believe you have found much of a sentiment in favor of the bill. I believe for the good of our schools it is better for us to vote it down.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Centre.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRAMLEY. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Centre whether or not he was formerly a superintendent of schools.

Mr. GRAMLEY. Yes, sir.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman further whether or not it is true that opposition to this bill comes from Superintendents of schools.

Mr. GRAMLEY. I do not know how to answer that question. No concerted opposition. I know of none. The opposition that I know of came to me incidentally.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ULERICH. Willingly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman from Westmoreland, whether or not he was formerly a superintendent of schools.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I was a teacher in the public schools for fifteen years, and a superintendent for twelve.

Mr. CONNIFF. .Mr. Speaker, I deisre to ask the gentleman whether or not opposition to this bill comes from superintendents of schools?

Mr. ULERICH. Not more than from the teachers in the section in which I live. I have letters from two superintendents to the ones that I sent out, and from seventeen that are teachers or supervising principals.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, this bill in its language is very plain and simple. It is not legislation in favor of superintendents of schools, neither is it legislation in favor of school directors or school controllers. It is simply a bill to relieve school teachers from the actions of school directors who are petty politicians, and it is to take them away from the distress that is laid upon them by certain school directors in different parts of this State. The first section of this bill merely says that when a school teacher has a permanent certificate, a certificate giving her or him a permanent right to teach, that the school directors, through their president and secretary, shall enter into a permanent contract with that teacher.

Now the school directors might get over that first section by not relieving the teacher from his or her school, but by reducing his or her salary or removing her or him to a place undesirable, therefore humiliating the teacher and embarrassing the teacher to such an extent that he or she would have to resign. Now in the argument of the gentleman from Westmoreland and from Centre, I fail to see any argument or any point against this bill. The gentleman from Centre mentioned the fact during his remarks that school superintendents do not favor this bill. The gentleman from Westmoreland, in answer to my interrogation, stated that he had communications from County Superintendents against this bill. We all know that. We know that the Superintendents and the Directors of Schools are opposed to this measure. Nevertheless we are here legislating for the School Teachers as well as for the School Directors and School Superintendents and it is high time in this State that we should legislate in favor of those teachers. I am going to display, or try to display before you at this time, the good that the school teacher does. We all know it. In fact, the gentlemen who have spoken before me admitted that legislation should be made in favor of school teachers; but, as I said before, we believe it is high time in this State that we should legislate for them and even legislate as against School Directors and School Superintendents. Take the teacher away from these petty political strifes and fix her in her school so that she will not depend upon the political complexion of the School Board.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Luzerne tell me why he thinks that Superintendents could be against this measure?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, for this reason: The bill as originally presented to the Senate had in there a clause to the effect that the school teacher might be removed or might be reduced in her salary upon the recommendation of the School Superintendent. The Senate Committee struck out the clause. And as a further reason, I would answer the gentleman that I know of school superintendents in my district or direction who are opposed to this bill from the standpoint of the School Superintendent and because of the fact also that the School Directors have coerced the School Superintendents to come here to this lobby and lobby against this bill. And furthermore, the School Directors in my locality, school directors who are friends of mine in my district, have told the school teachers in that district that they should not send a telegram and should not come here to lobby in favor of this bill.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Luzerne whether he can tell me if he has seen a county superintendent that is now in office, in this room within the last two weeks.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I have seen at my desk here Superintendent Hoffman, Superintendent of the Schools of the City of Wilkes-Barre.

Mr. ULERICH. Any more.

Mr. CONNIFF. Not that I recall within the last two weeks.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman this further question. Why would a school director who has been sworn to do the best he knows how for the children of the Commonwealth or his district, if he thinks that this measure would be beneficial to his school why should he be against it?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I do not refer to all superintendents but I say that some would be against it for political reasons.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, just one word. We have received a great many letters on this subject from one territory, largely from the central part of the State. From all western Pennsylvania, so far as my knowledge goes, outside of Connemaugh, in Cambria County, and one other place, I have not received or do I know a member that has received from western Pennsylvania a letter relative to this measure, but we have received letters asking to oppose it. I have no doubt that up in the gentleman's district, up in Luzerne County, that there must be some politics in the school matters up there; but why should a measure, a local matter of that kind require a bill like this that will, in my judgment, be against the best interests of the teacher and the best interests of the pupil?

Now I want to tell you of a statement made by a school director. He said we have eight teachers and if we hire them in June, they will commence to teach in September. Then just as soon as they have commenced teaching in September we will have to make a permanent contract with those eight teachers. He says that "we wouldn't do it, that we would not elect those teachers at all." That is a sample of what will happen all over the State, that teachers that are good on account of this measure and on account of the unwillingness of the school board to make permanent contracts, that there will be no contract made at all. You are doing the teachers an injury instead of doing them a benefit and there is no question about it.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Education in relation to this matter.

The SPEAKER. Will the Chairman of the Committee on Education (C. M. C. Campbell), permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. C. M. C. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chairman, did you have a meeting of the teachers before your committee some two weeks ago?

Mr. C. M. C. CAMPBELL. Yes, sir.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Were there any superintendents with this Committee of teachers?

Mr. C. M. C. CAMPBELL. Not to my knowledge.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Do you know whether they took a vote as to the stand upon this bill, the teachers themselves?

Mr. C. M. C. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. All right. Mr. Speaker, I believe that most of you have received telegrams and letters, the same as I have myself, in the interest of this bill. I want to say further than that, after receiving a number of messages pertaining to this bill I have taken it upon myself and my time to consult with a number of business men in my county and public school teachers in my county pertaining to this bill. I have asked one gentleman the other day that sent me one telegram, "what was the object of this telegram for this bill?" He says: "One of the school teachers came in and told me it was a bill pertaining to salary, from forty to forty-five dollars and from fifty to fifty-five dollars, Senate Bill 103." I showed him the bill and he seen where he was mistaken and he said he was now against the bill. A number of business men in the town where I live and Bloomsburg and other parts of the county who I have consulted have taken the same view. One of the teachers that was down here the other week says this to me. That in the petition sent to me her name is on; but a number of teachers did not see the bill, never saw the bill and did not know the contents of the bill, but listened to others who had told them. She said: "Now I am against this bill and the teachers are not in favor of it." Of the forty-six teachers present before the Educational Committee a vote was taken and the vote stood 22 to 24 in favor of the bill. The same person tells me that if the entire number could have been there the teachers present would have been against this bill. Therefore, Gentlemen of the House it is my opinion at this time that the passage of this bill is a disadvantage to the school teacher for different reasons, and I think that we should not at this time pass this Senate Bill No. 103 and I hope that your vote will be so recorded.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. Mr. Speaker, if there is any question coming before this House that would interest me, it is the question affecting the public schools. I want to mention a few things that appeal to me in this matter, not desiring to take much of your time, knowing that much time is spent here when members are impatient to vote, and I have no doubt that the members of this House have their minds pretty well made up how they are going to vote on this question. But if I should fail to express my sentiments on this question I would feel that I had been derelict in my duty. I have extreme sympathy for school teachers and interest in their work, and in, as I have said, the schools. I have been a teacher myself and I have sons who are teaching and I regard the interests of schools as of paramount interest in our social and governmental strength.

Now as to the merits of this bill coming before us, a remark was made by my friend from Westmoreland County concerning it being brought from the Senate, I was speaking to a Senator in this room last evening after we had adjourned. I asked him what was the interest in this bill, what he thought of it. "Well", he says "out of respect for the sponsor of this bill I voted for it, but I do not think much of it." Perhaps the majority of the Senate voted for it on that strength and it has come to us to determine what to do. I do not know but that perhaps is the case. We sometimes send bills over there for them to kill.

The provisions of this bill have been stated, that after a teacher has taught ten years in a school district continuously he or she cannot be removed except by cause, which is almost impossible. A teacher could be inefficient and an unworthy teacher and yet there is no possibility to remove him or her except by a cause such as specified in the school code. The only thing that should retain a teacher in a public school is efficiency. Mr. Speaker, a teacher who does not give satisfaction in a school should not stay there for any reason. If a condition was such that a teacher is not at fault, if there is any dissatisfaction even though the teacher is wholly blameless and yet the teacher is unable to do good work there, she should go somewhere else and find work. Efficiency is the one important thing. One of the essential things that would make a teacher efficient is the co-operation and good will of the school and the pupils and the parents at home. If you tie a teacher to one school, you make the conditions such that she cannot be removed, and it is going to cause a certain amount of antagonism to those people when they learn that under such conditions they cannot remove her. If they are efficient and she cannot do the work in that school she should go somewhere else. She should go to some other place to get work, and if she cannot get a school were she can do good work, she had better not teach. I have all sympathy for the teacher, but I also have sympathy for the school and for the children, and under such circumstances I would say that we should not tie a teacher to one school were it will be impossible to remove.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Ulerich.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ULERICH. I will.

Mr. MARTIN. I would like to ask the gentleman if this bill is enacted into a law whether it would not help largely to eliminate the very poor teachers.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, if there were enough good teachers to go around, it would, but there are not enough by one-half.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether if this does not become a law we will still have the poor teachers?

Mr. ULERICH. Just until the time until we have a sufficient number of good teachers.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman further this? Do not a great majority of teachers in the State of Pennsylvania favor this bill?

Mr. ULERICH. I do not think so.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I have letters and telegrams to that effect from all portions of the State, from Philadelphia to the western end of the State. I want to ask one more question. Is it not a fact that in sections of our State some of the best teachers have lost their positions on account of politics?

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I want to answer that question. In all my experience of twenty-seven years, I can count on the fingers of one hand all the teachers that I know of who have lost their positions through politics.

Mr. MARTIN. In Pennsylvania?

Mr. ULERICH. Yes, sir.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I have a very brief paper here that I would like to read, if you will permit me. It is from the Teachers' League of Pennsylvania, and it sums the whole matter up briefly.

"The teachers of Pensylvania ask you to vote for their Tenure of Office Bill. This measure, if it becomes a law, will be of untold benefit to the teachers and pupils in the townships and rural districts. In the cities and larger towns, the advantage of retaining successful and experienced teachers has long been recognized. These teachers keep their positions while their work is satisfactory. But in the other districts, the teachers are never sure of their positions, no matter how succesful they have been. This continual anxiety must affect the happiness of the teacher and pupils in her charge. It is an additional disadvantage to these children to have a succession of young and inexperienced teachers. As soon as a teacher is worth more than the minimum salary, the thrifty school board dismisses her and installs a beginner in her place.

The teacher who has taught ten years in one district has proved her fitness and deserves to be relieved from any further uneasiness of mind. A tenure of office bill will help to lift the schools out of politics, and will place teachers on the same economic level as other government employes"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr .Speaker, I call for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I oppose this legislation because I am a friend of the teacher. If enacted into law, it may and very likely will prove a boomerang. Boards may resent the legislation as a trespass upon their prerogatives and rather than to enter into a permanent contract with the teacher after ten years' of teaching in one district, the board may lead the teacher through nine years of service and right up to the point, then dismiss her. You will notice that the teaching period is not cumulative but must be in one district, so after nine years the teacher may have to start all over in a foreign district.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 696, as follows:

An Act providing and requiring standard provision in policies of health or accident or accident and health insurance issued or delivered in this Commonwealth prohibiting discrimination in such insurance exempting certain contracts and fixing penalties for violation of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and fourteen no policy of insurance against loss from sickness or damage from bodily injury or death of the insured by accident shall be issued or delivered to any person in this Commonwealth until a copy of the form thereof and of the classification of risks and the premium rates pertaining thereto have been filed with the Insurance Commissioner nor shall it be so issued or delivered until the expiration of thirty days after it has been so filed unless the said Commissioner shall sooner give his written approval thereto If the said Commissioner shall notify in writing the company corporation association society or other insurer which has filed such form that it does not comply with the requirements of law specifying the reasons for his opinion it shall be unlawful thereafter for any such insurer to issue any policy in such form The action of the said Commoissioner in this regard shall be subject to review by the court of Common Pleas of Dauphin county

Section 2 No such policy shall be issued or delivered except subject to the following conditions (1) unless the entire money and other consideration therefore are expressed in the policy nor (2) unless the time at which the insurance thereunder takes effect and terminates is stated in a portion of the policy preceding its execution by the insurer nor (3) if the policy purports to insure more than one person nor (4) unless every printed portion thereof and of any indorsements or attached papers shall be plainly printed in type of which the face shall be not smaller than ten point or (5) unless a brief description thereof be printed on its first page and on its filing back in type of which the face shall be not smaller than fourteen point nor (6) unless the exceptions of the policy be printed with the same prominence as the benefits to which they apply Provided however That any portion of such policy which purports by reason of the circumstances under which a loss is incurred to reduce any indemnity promised therein to an amount less than that provided for the same loss occurring under ordinary circumstances shall be printed in bold face type and with greater prominence than any other portion of the text of the policy

Section 3 Every such policy so issued shall contain certain standard provisions which shall be in the words and in the order hereinafter set forth and be preceded in every policy by the caption "Standard Provisions" In each such standard provisions wherever the word "Insurer" is used there shall be substituted therefor "company" or "corporation" or "association" or "society" or such other word as will properly designate to the insurer Said standard provision shall be

(1) A standard provision relative to the contract which may be in either of the following two forms Form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide for reduction of indemnity on account of change of occupation and Form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide If Form (B is used and the policy provides indemnity against loss from sickness the words "or contracts sickness" may be inserted therein immediately after the words "in the event that the insured is injured"

(a) 1 This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers if any and contains the entire contract of insurance No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation

(b) 1 This policy includes the endorsement and attached papers if any and contains the entire contract of insurance except as it may be modified by the insurer's classification of risks and premium rates in the event that the insured is injured after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in the policy or while he is doing any act or thing pertaining to any occupation so classified except ordinary duties about his residence or while engaged in recreation in which event the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in the policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate but within the limits so fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation

If the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued required that prior to its issue a statement of the premium rates and classification of risks pertaining to it shall be filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in such state then the premium rates and classification of risks mentioned in this policy shall mean only such as have been last filed by the insurer in accordance with such law but if such filing is not required by such law then they shall mean the insurer's premium rates and classification of risks last made effective by it in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable ..

(2) A standard provision relative to changes in the contract which shall be in the following form

2 No statement made by the applicant for insurance not included herein shall be avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the insurer and such approval be endorsed hereon

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 442, file folio 2029, on page 31 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 442, entitled :

An Act amending section one thousand four hundred twelve in article fourteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Comonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenues and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by requiring the free education in the public schools of children who are inmates of institutions for the care or training of orphans or other children

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the author explain the purpose of this amendment.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is for the purpose of correcting what I might term an oversight of the framers of the school code. That is, in not permitting orphans of our orphan institutions to attend public schools in this great Commonwealth. They have to pay tuition and text-books. That is the whole purpose of this bill. I think that the bill as it is framed, and I believe almost every member of this House considering the seriousness of this question, that we as legislators should first legislate in the interest of the orphans and unfortunates. In these homes, some of them which are fraternal institutions, they support and try to raise these children as good citizens of this Commonwealth. These homes are for the purpose of raising those children. In these homes most of the children to which I refer are native-born Pennsylvanians, and the fraternal organizations to which I am referring are not sectarian organizations, are not partisan organizations, and take in every class of children who are willing to be good citizens of these United States. They support these homes by contributions and assessments, but they don't think it is right, as citizens of this Commonwealth, that they should be compelled to pay for their tuition and text-books. Gentlemen, in my county, I judge we support at the present time 30,000 children, aliens, who pay no tax, who are responsible to nobody. In this great Commonwealth of ours, we are compelled to educate these children under the Compulsory Education Act, 30,000 of them or more. This bill provides for these orphans to be educated in the public schools, native-born Pennsylvanians. I think we are doing an injustice to that body of unfortunates when we compel them to pay tuition and text-books and be educated in the public schools of this great Commonwealth. I only ask you, my friends and members of this House, to support this bill and to consider this question, 150,000 citizens of this Commonwealth are back of this bill. In every hamlet, in every town, in every township, in every city of this great Commonwealth, you will find them going around doing the work of the Good Samaritan. That is the only purpose. In the name of Charity they are doing the good work. I think that the Comomnwealth of Pennsylvania ought to be able to educate the orphans, especially those who are native-born in this State of ours, and that is all I ask.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman a question for information.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell us how many such schools there are that would be affected by this act?

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. How many schools?

Mr. ROCKWELL. How many there are.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. No, I cannot tell him exactly how many there would be; a great number probably throughout the State, but I cannot just say exactly how many there would be.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, the result of this bill would be to cause in townships that had such schools to educate such children at the local township's expense.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Well, probably it would; that would be perfectly right.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, that was the only thing I had in mind. I do not care to oppose this bill. The bill is perfectly proper, but if there is a local township, say a small township, that has one of these schools in it, it would compel that small township to bear the whole expense of educating those children and it would not be distributed around as it is now.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE SERVICE AND EFFICIENCY OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE EMPLOYES.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to make a report of a Committee at this time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent for the presentation of the report at this time? The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of your Committee to investigate as to the necessity for, efficiency, number and salaries of the officers of the Senate and House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER. The report will be read by the Clerk.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Your Committee created under authority of a resolution adopted March 13, 1913, and directed "to investigate as to the necessity for, efficiency, number and salaries of the officiers and employes of the Senate and House of Representatives" begs leave to submit the following report:

Pursuant to their appointment, your Committee organized by the election of a Chairman and a Secretary, and proceeded to hold public hearings, and to summon before it the various officers and employes of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the purpose of determining the nature of the duties performed or intended to be performed by each, the efficiency of the individual officers and employes, and the efficiency of the system in vogue at this time.

The testimony taken by your Committee is submitted herewith.

As a result of the investigation your Committee makes the folowing findings:

1. That the present system is cumbersome and unsatisfactory, and that efficiency and economy are not conserved by it.

2. That the money expended by the Commonwealth in maintaining the present system is entirely out of proportion with the efficiency of the service secured.

3. That the number of employes is greatly in excess of the legitimate requirements of either the Senate or House of Representatives.

4. That in many instances a practice of substituting another to do the work of the regular employe is carried on, although in some instances the employes themselves have recognized the impropriety of the practice, and claim that the substitution is merely the hiring by them of assistants.

5. That the present practice of electing officers and employes to particular positions results in an unequitable division of the work, and, as a result your Committee has discovered that while some of your officers and employes have frequently been compelled to work from twelve to fifteen hours in a given day, other employes, who are receiving equal, if not larger compensation, have done absolutely nothing, and several of the employes of the House have not done a single stroke of work since the date of their election, while at various times, the force in some other particular department has been compelled to work overtime in order to complete its labors.

Your Committee therefor recommends a change in the present system and believes that the efficiency and economy of the service requires that there should be as little division of authority over the employes as may be compatible with the performance of the necessary service.

Having this end in view, your Commission is of the opinion that the service required by the Senate and House of Representatives should be of two kinds:

First. The expert and purely clerical service for which the Chief Clerk should be held responsible, and which should be performed directly under his supervision.

Second. The manual service, the proper supervision of which should be in the hands of the Chief Sergeant-at-Arms.

The only modification necesary in this general division is, that the employes who perform manual service during the interim between sessions should be responsible to the Chief Clerk, as he is the active representative of the Senate and House of Representatives between sessions of these bodies.

In addition to this general classification, there is a class of menial labor required in the washrooms and coat-rooms that should not be farmed out at a profit by the regularly elected employes of the Senate and House of Representatives, but should be provided with a view to the work actually required, and the compensation, while being commensurate with the service, should go to the laborer who earns it, and not pass through the hands of a middle man, whose commission is largely in excess of the actual cost of labor. It is our opinion that no man should be permitted to receive a profit from the labor of another employe in the public service.

Having in view, therefore, an efficient and economical service, we believe that the positions of Door-keeper and Assistant Door-keepers should be abolished, and that a sufficient number of Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms should be employed to perform the duties now performed by the Door-keepers, in addition to the work at present coming under the control and supervision of the Chief Sergeant-at-Arms.

We should also recomend that the position of Overseer of Heat and Ventilation, Custodian of Committee Rooms, Custodian and Assistant Custodian of Basement, in both the Senate and House of Representatives, be abolished and that in the Senate one Custodian of Wash and Coat-rooms be employed, and that in the House of Representatives a sufficient number of Asistant Sergeants-at-Arms be employed to permit one to be assigned to the duties now performed by the four custodians employed for the Coat and Wash-rooms, and that the Chief Clerk of the Senate and House of Representatives each be authorized to employ two men to act as porters during the legislative sessions, whose duties shall be to perform, under the direction of the Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, or custodian assigned for that purpose, the menial labors required in the Wash and Coat-rooms. In the Senate one of the Assistant Sergeants-at-Arms should be assigned to the duties now performed by the custodian of the newspapermen's room.

We would also recommend that the pages perform their duties under the direction and supervision of the Chief Sergeant-at-Arms, and that they be responsible to him.

In the clerical departments we believe that the only officers or employes that should be elected to a particular position are the Chief Clerk, Assistant Clerk, Resident Clerk, Journal Clerk, Assistant Journal Clerk, and Reading Clerk.

In addition to these there should be a sufficient number of clerks and stenographers elected to perform the duties now performed by the Desk Clerks, Message Clerk, Bill Book Clerk, Bills-in-Place Book Clerk, Petition Book Clerk, the Transcribing Clerks, and the Clerks to the Committees.

These clerks and stenographers should be under the direct supervision and control of the Chief Clerk, who could assign them to the duty to which they were best adapted, and from time to time transfer them from one class of employment to another as the service might require, and, in this way, the work to be performed by the various employes could be equalized so that no unfair share of the burden would fall upon any particular class and the stenographers employed would, from time to time, be available to the various Committees, and their members, in the carrying on of public business.

We would also recommend that a book typewriter be installed in the transcribing room.

The Post Offices are properly department by themselves, as are the Pasting and Folding rooms.

We would therefore recommend the following schedule of officers and employes, believing the same to be sufficient to adequately care for all of the needs of the two legislative branches:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

1 Chief Clerk to be paid $3000 for session, and $150 per month during interim.
1 Ass't. Clerk to be paid $1500 for the session.
1 Resident Clerk to be paid $2500 per annum.
1 Asst. Resident Clerk to be paid $1500 for session, and $125 per month during interim.

We also find that for the first fourteen days of this session, two sets of employes were paid, the employes of the last General Assembly as returning officers having been paid approximately $11,500.00 for the period from January 7th to 21st, while the present employes who were not elected until January 21st and qualified either on or subsequent to that date have been paid from January 7th for 14 or more days prior to the time that they entered into the employment of the State. While this practice of duplication has been carried on under color of law by reason of the Construction placed upon the act of 1905 by the Attorney General, yet this makes the existence of such a law no less reprehensible, and we recommend that in revising the system that this practice that costs the State in the neighborhood of $12,000.00 each session, without any return, be prohibited in such clear terms as to permit of no misunderstanding.

Committee.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the report and move that it be referred to the Judiciary General Committee for its consideration on bills that are now pending before that Committee.

Mr. I. GORDON FORSTER. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I don't know what the gentleman's motion means. Do I understand the motion to mean the adoption of the report?

Mr. HUMES. Yes, sir.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that on a report so voluminous as this that we can get very little from it by the reading of it at the desk. I think the House will stand to have this report lie over and to be printed for the members and to be taken up next Monday evening under the order of resolution.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, if it will please the gentleman from Delaware, I will change my motion to read that the report be received and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General for its consideration in the considering of bills now pending in that Committee.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia who seconded the motion accept the amendment.

Mr. I. GORDON FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, before amendment is considered by the House I think that it should be printed in order that the members might have an opportunity for examining it. If it is the desire of the House to send it to the Judiciary General Committee, I am satisfied to send it to that Committee, but I do not think that it would be proper to pass upon it with such a meager knowledge of it as we have at the present time.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, So far as the objection of the gentleman from Delaware is concerned relative to acting upon this report, it must be done in the shape of proper legislation, and there are bills now in the Judiciary General Committee on this subject, and when these bills come out of the committee, it will be of course have to be considered by the House, and there is no idea that the adoption of this report could absolutely bind this House in regard to a bill covering exactly what this report covers.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Would it be in order to suggest that if it goes to the Judiciary General Committee that the report be printed for the benefit of the members of the House as soon as possible.

Mr. HUMES. It strike me, Mr. Speaker, that it will be printed in the Legislative Journal which having been done, I think will make it sufficiently available to all of the members for their consideration.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 895, entitled:

An Act amending article two of an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one as amended by an act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven by eliminating the Department of Collector of Delinquent Taxes and by providing for the duties of the Department of Collector of Delinquent Taxes to be transferred to the Department of City Treasurer

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. Speaker, When this bill passed the Municipal Corporations Committee with an affirmative recommendation, the fact that it was known all over the State that this was the notorious Delinquent Tax Bill of Pittsburgh, I did not think there would be any trouble in its passing this House, and I did not expect to speak on the measure, but I understand there is some opposition in Allegheny County, and that opposition is being used on the members to get them to defeat this bill. I do not know how the members will vote from Allegheny County. I do not see that they can vote but one way and go back home and say that they were in a progressive legislature. This bill will do away with the delinquent tax collector which furnished him with ninety thousand dollars in the last three years. We are seeking to do away with it and place it in the hands of the City Treasurer. The previous mayors of Pittsburgh have tried to do away with the delinquent tax office. Mayor Guthrie made an agreement with a man to take the relinquent tax collectorship at $5,000 a year, which he agreed to. There was some misunderstanding and they went into Court and the Court gave him $56,000 for the collection of about two million five hundred thousand dollars worth of taxes. The City Treasurer collects about nine million dollars worth of taxes a year and gets five thousand dollars a year in the City of Pittsburgh. This notorious delinquent tax bill is not aimed at the man who now holds the position. He is very popular and well liked, but the Legislature is the only place where they can get relief, and I want to go back to the people of my city and county and tell them that we have been progressive and tried to do the fair and right thing, and I want you gentlemen not to listen to some of the members that have spoken to you, because they are using it for political purposes, and I beg that you will vote for this measure.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the roll be verified.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified, which was done as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 452, entitled:

An Act to repeal section two thousand eight hundred and six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsitent therewith"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I think it is my duty to offer an explanation in regard to the purpose of this bill. I believe that the school code as it has been enacted by the sessions of 1911 is a good law, for the government of the schools of our Commonwealth, but no law has ever been enacted that is so perfect that it will not bear some improvement, and if I can convince you in a brief statement this afternoon that what I have to submit will be an improvement, then I will ask you for your support; but if I am not able to convince you of that fact, I won't ask you for your vote on this bill. This bill effects Section 2806 of the School Code, which was enacted to take care of the independent school districts. Under the old school laws independent districts could be created. That is to say that the school districts need not be coterminous with the municipal lines. Under the present school laws that is abolished and under the present law, under the school code, enacted in 1911, (the lines of the municipal districts) the school districts must be coterminous and must be the same. Under the former law any class of citizens upon certain conditions, could be annexed to a borough for school purposes only, and taxes could be paid to that borogh and for all intents and purposes so far as the school is concerned and became a part of that district. Under the new school act this is impossible. The question was how do they take care of that independent district and for that purpose, Section 2806, which I will now read for your consideration, has been enacted into a law. It reads as follows:

"Section two thousand eight hundred and six. All pupils residing in any territory belonging to any school district established by this act which territory at the time of the approval of this act was attached to another school district for school purposes may if they so desire attend during the entire school term of each year the public schools in the district to which the territory in which they reside was formerly attached and the district in which they reside shall pay to the district in which they attend the cost of tuition text-books and school supplies only not to exceed that of other pupils pursuing like courses of study in said schools Provided That if the school districts in which such pupils now reside shall hereafter by the establishment of new schools or otherwise provide within reasonable distance proper school facilities of like grades to those in the district to which they were formerly attached then in any such case such pupils shall attend the schools in the district in which they reside In case of dispute the decision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction as to the sufficiency and reasonableness of the school facilities provided by the school district in which such pupils reside shall be final"

Now, Mr. Speaker, there will be no more, independent school districts created under the new school code. That will be an impossibility. That leaves this fact that if any district that was so fortunate as to be an independent district in 1911, can not be assessed for school purposes, and they can attend the schools in the districts in which they formerly belonged and they attend these schools and the district in which they now belong but are only compelled to pay the cost of tuition and the cost of books and not the cost of the erection of buildings and the cost of heating and lighting these buildings. In our county, this has worked a great hardship in that respect. I will try to explain this as best I can. In one town we have a borough which extends one and one-half mile on either side of the diamond, making a borough of one square mile. For school purposes under the old law, there had been annexed to that purposes under the old law, there had been annexed to that school district a section extending one half mile on either side of the borough limit and making the borough two miles square, or containing four square miles. Under the old law, these pupils then were in a hollow square attended the schools of the borough and were taken care of there. Under the new school code,it became necessary for the township in which they now belong to take care of them and to provide for them schools similar to which they had been provided under the old law. They should have created schools with nine months terms whereas the schools in the remainder of the township have seven months terms in ungraded schools. You will answer that they will still have the right to go to borough schools. Borough schools at that time had been created, but for the reason that they would not only have to create new buildings in the district but they would not have to pay a single penny towards the erection of those buildings it became a hardship. They are not tax-payers to that extent and the tax-payers object; the citizens of the township object and nobody is in favor of it, excepting a part of those who live in that independent district. The township tried to take care of the matter in this way; By erecting schools on either side of the borough. They could not do that because they had to furnish the same grade of schools as they had in the other case. They proposed the erection of eight-room buildings which would have compelled the children the entire length of the borough to cross railroads tracks to go to that school, a distance of one and one-half miles. Therefore, there is no objection to this act except from those who live on one side of this hollow square in which the school house is to be located, and this section as I said before, was placed in the school code to take care of the independent districts. Now, as I explained, there will be no more independent districts created, and all that this bill would do would be to allow the school directors of the townships to take care of those children and school them the same as they school the others in the district. Do not understand for one single minute that I think that where a four-roomed building is necessary and can be established, it would not be better than establishing four one-room buildings. I do not mean that but I do mean that wherever it is practicable it would be better to take care of all the children under the same conditions and in the same measure and the same length of term. It is surely unfair of any set of men to create a nine-months term for children paying the same amount of tax in a certain district, and creating a seven-months term for the other children in the same district. I have in my possession a resolution presented to me by one Board of School Directors of the township of which I speak, and the County Superintendent of the county of which I am a member has offered to come to this House and explain this matter to the Committee, if necessary. This bill has been passed favorably by the Committee. I want to say, gentlemen, that I have not a single particle of personal interest in this matter. I live seventeen miles from the district of which I speak, but I feel it my duty as a representative of the people to present this matter for your consideration. If those people, living in districts close to the boroughs want better facilities, then leave them become annexed to the boroughs, and help to pay the cost of building the schools, also the cost of tuition, and then they can have better facilities. I don't believe in the idea of one class of citizens trying to escape certain taxation, to get the costs off their shoulders, and expect to received benefits to be derived from the incorporation of boroughs. If I have convinced you now that this is a reasonable matter, I ask you to vote for this bill.

Mr. C. M. C. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill repeals Section 2806, and in the repeal of that section it doesn't affect the school code in any way, only beneficially, if I understand it right. That Section, 2806, was placed in the school code by request of the gentleman that represented Somerset County, but when the independent school districts were annulled, I find that the lines did not compare or did not agree with the municipal lines of Somerset; that the independent districts had extended beyond the lines of Somerset, and in the annulment of that it left a certain portion of those children outside the Somerset municipal line. The school board requires that those children shall be educated the same as the children in Somerset, the town of Somerset. which makes an inequality that should not stand. I wish to state to this House that Section 1404 was placed in the code before this section was put in, which provided all the schools necessary for those pupils, and I advise the House to repeal this section and save the litigation that is going on over this State.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOHR. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Somerset this: Whether or not this bill will not abolish the independent school districts of the State.

Mr. LOHR. Yes, sir.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, does this not prevent the establishment of an independent school district?

Mr. LOHR. Well, under the school code, independent school districts cannot be established. That has already been prohibited by the school code, and the section in the bill is only to take care of those independent school districts that have been created by this Section 2806.

Mr. MATT. And this abolishes it entirely?

Mr. LOHR. No, it had been abolished before. This only puts independent school districts on an equality with all other school districts of the State; that is, school districts that had been established in the year 1911.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, if you will look over the school code, you will find that the school code provides that all our independent school districts are to be abolished in a certain time.

Mr. LOHR. I don't understand the question.

Mr. MATT. I say the school code provides that they had a certain time, I think ninety days, whereby to avail themselves of the provisions of the act. That being the case, does this apply to those that had been established prior?

Mr. LOHR. I don't understand that.

Mr. MATT. Whether or not it abolishes independent school districts that are now established?

Mr. LOHR. No, I don't think so.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 865, (Senate Bill No. 57), entitled:

provement maintenance and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner providing for the payment of damages in taking of property or otherwise in the improvement thereof providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway and procedure therein providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract except where the State Highway Commissioner decided the work to be done by the State providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads defining highways and State aid highways providing method of aplication for State aid in the improvement maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township county borough or incorporated town petitions providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State county township borough or incorporated town and requiring contracts by counties townships borough and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same providing for the minimum width of State highways and State aid highways and kind of materials to be used in the improvement providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs providing penalty for injurying or destroying State highways making appropriation to carry out the provisions of the act and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act" approved the thirty-first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven by defining the method of taking testimony in proceedings for the condemnation of turnpikes and toll roads providing for the appointment of stenographers therefor and the compensation of the same and the compensation of viewers providing a method whereby the State Highway Commissioner may at any time during said proceedings enter upon and take the said turnpike or toll road and providing a method for compelling the Commonwealth to pay the damages assessed for the taking of the same

On the question

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker I wish to take two or three minutes in explanation of this bill. It has such a formidable title that I have been asked by quite a number of the members of the House what the purport of the bill is. While I am not personally interested in any way. I think for the information of the House I can state briefly what the bill provides for.

It merely facilitates and makes a more practical method whereby the Highway Department can condemn and take over a toll road. At the present time when the Highway Department and the owner of the toll road cannot come to an agreement it has got to go through the usual process of court and it may take a number of years before the Highway Department can really get possession of the toll road. In this bill it merely provides for the Highway Department to condemn the road and at once take it over and proceed to care for it and make it a part of the State Highway system, while the Court procedure is still pending. In other words, it gives the Highway Department the right to eminent domain, the same as railway companies have now to go on and condemn the property and afterwards settle for it through court.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I have tried to find this bill. It is on the calendar—

The SPEAKER. One forty-five is the correct page of the Senate File, Senate Bill 47, file folio 145.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I tried to find the bill so as to acquaint myself with the provisions of it. It had rather a formidable title here and something that might mean something and it might yet, so far as I know. I feel that a bill of this kind—I see it actually convers some eight or ten pages—ought not to be passed without some investigation as to what it means. Had the bill been on the calendar with the proper paging so that one could find it, perhaps such action would not be necessary. I do not like to vote against a measure of this kind, which no doubt may be a Department measure, but I do not like to vote for a measure of this kind not have had the opportunity to know what it is.

BILL POSTPONED.

I therefore move that further action on this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 857, entitled:

An Act to authorize the judges of separate orphans' court at the request of the judges of the common pleas to hear and determine all issues and other matters in the court of common pleas courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery and the courts of quarter sessions of the peace

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

HOUSE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which were laid upon the table.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER SENATE BILL NO. 655.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 655, file folio 1191, entitled:

An Act relating to the classification of school districts and the time for levying school tax in school districts of the second class was defeated yesterday on final passage.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I voted "no."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, I regret very much the necessity of voting against the motion to reconsider a vote. As a general proposition I do vote for such reconsideration in a spirit of fairness and owing to the fact that sometimes the bill is not properly understood, but in this case the passage or enactment of this bill into law would bring about such a calamity to the City of Pittsburgh, as I explained to this body yesterday, showing how it would bring about utter confusion not only to the City of Pittsburgh but also to the State of Pennsylvania and would in all probability destroy the existing school code, and the Senate Committee on Education was so advised by Mr. Rilling at the hearing on this bill, and due to the fact that the passage of this bill would bring about such a calamity, at least to the City of Pittsburgh, I sincerely trust that this motion to recommit will not pass. The bill has been properly heard before this body and properly defeated, and I sincerely trust will remain so.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, the Senate seems to have been unfortunately stricken by the illness of a number of its members. On last Monday night, when Senator Magee, the author of this bill, came to Harrisburg, he was in perfect health. Before this Senate convened he was stricken with an illness that almost carried him away. Yesterday morning when this bill was under consideration the Senator, by reason of that continued illness, was too sick to be in the Senate and properly defend his bill. I simply make this request out of fairness to the Senator who was ill. I take it that the Senate should not act upon any bill when the author of it is unable by reason of illness to be present for the purpose of defending it, and I am simply making this request on behalf of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee, in the hope that this Senate will reconsider the vote by which this bill was defeated and put it back on the Calendar until such time as he has been restored to his health and he can come in here and properly defend his position with respect to it. I am simply asking, Mr. President, as a matter of fairness to one of our own, that this bill should be reconsidered and given a place on the Calendar so that further action on it can be postponed until the author of the bill is here in the Senate to look after the bill in which he is so much interested.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, I believe that my experience in this body and in the House will lead you to believe that I have always acted in a spirit of fairness. If I have erred in any direction it is in the direction of fairness, and I have been more than fair many times. Yesterday morning I called upon the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee, knowing that he was ill, and advised him that I was going to oppose this bill whenever I might meet it, and suggested to him that owing to his illness action on this bill be postponed or that it go over in its order, let it be placed on the postponed Calendar or any where he might choose to have it or any disposition he might care to make of it, and I would agree to it until such time as he became well and was able to take the matter up. He considered my remarks for a few moments and then decided that he would let the bill go on. I regret just as much as any member of this body that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee, was ill. I gave him the opportunity that was due him, and ordinarily would be willing and if this were a bill of ordinary character, I would say, let it go over, let it go back on the Calendar, but believing that I have treated Senator Magee fairly, and knowing I must treat the people of Pittsburgh with fairness, I must insist upon opposing the passage of this motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUNTER and Mr. WASBERS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—12.

Beidleman,	Hoke,	Judson,	Mills,
Farley,	Homsher,	Kline	Moore,
Hilton,	Jarrett.	McNichol,	Nulty,

NAYS—18.

Catlin,	Endsley	Hunter,	Morgan,
Clark,	Hall,	Knapp,	Sheatz,
Cooper,	Heacock,	Kurtz,	Sones,
DeWitt,	Herbst,	Martin,	Thompson,
		Miller,	Wasbers,

So the question was determined in the negative.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 236.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 236, entitled:

An Act defining mattresses regulating the making remaking and sale thereof prohibiting the use of unsanitary and unhealthy materials therein requiring that the materials used shall be accurately described and prescribing the manner in which mattresses shall be labelled providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act making certain acts criminal and punishing the same imposing certain duties upon the Commissioner of Health and the Chief Factory Inspector and repealing legislation inconsistent with this act

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 236.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 334, (House Bill No. 236), entitled:

An Act defining mattresses regulating the making remaking and sale thereof prohibiting the use of unsanitary and unhealthy materials therein requiring that the materials used shall be accurately described and prescribing the manner in which mattresses shall be labelled providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act making certain acts criminal and punishing the same imposing certain duties upon the Commissioner of Health and the Chief Factory Inspector and repealing legislation inconsistent with this act passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed third reading.

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KLINE: Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 5, line 2, by striking out the words "any way;" also in line 4, by striking out the words "or term." This is merely to correct typographical errors.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 2, 1913.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.
The Speaker (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer:

O, Lord, our Lord, how excellent is Thy name in all the earth; who hast set Thy glory above the heavens. We worship and adore Thee as the Father of our spirits and the Lord of our lives. We rejoice to believe that Thou art profoundly concerned in all that concerns us and that if we look to Thee for the help which we need and take Thee into our councils, Thou wilt make a plain path before our feet. We shall see and know clearly what we should do and how we shall do it. In recognition of this fact, and profoundly impressed with the sense of our own ignorance and weakness we do look to Thee, asking that Thou wouldst not leave us to ourselves this day, but graciously enrich us with all needful supplies of patience endurance, and wisdom and strength, and courage and resolution, and energy; and whatever comes to us in Thy wise Providence, may it minister in ways unknown to us, to the innermost needs of our beings and our lives, and Thy name shall have the praise of it now and forever, Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on motion of Mr. Frank Gray, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC PRINTING AND BINDING RELATIVE TO RE-PRINTING BILLS.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution at this time.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas a great number of the bills coming before this House require amendment for the mere purpose of correcting typographical errors which should be discovered by the printer in the proof and be corrected before the bills are printed, and whereas such amendments necessitate the re-printing of the bills by the printer, therefore be it resolved, "That the Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding, be and is, hereby requested to advise this House as to whether or not the re-printing of bills necessitated by amendments, which merely correct typographical errors, is done at the expense of the State or whether he holds the printing contractor responsible therefor."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the resolution?

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, I am of the opinion that this resolution is not in order, as the State reads its own proof.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is one of inquiry addressed to one of the State departments, and therefore is in order, and does not have to lie over for printing. Doubtless the inquiry will bring forth the fact as suggested by the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The first bill on the Calendar is House Bill No. 619, bill on final passage recalled from the Senate. As this bill is not yet on the files of the members, it will be passed for the present.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call up at this time House Bill No. 865 (Senate Bill No. 57), on page 26 of to-day's calendar, which was postponed yesterday because of improper file folio.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 865 (Senate Bill No. 57), entitled:

An Act to amend secton ninth of the act entitled "An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner two Deputy Highway Commissioners chief engineer chief draughtsman superintendents of highways and a staff of assistants and employes defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats principal cities and towns and extending to the State line describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth providing for the improvement maintenance and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner providing for the payment of damages in taking of property or otherwise in the improvement thereof providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway and procedure therein providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract except where the State Highway Commissioner decided the work to be done by the State providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads defining highways and State-aid highways providing method of application for State aid in the improvement maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township county borough or incorporated town petitions providing for percentage of cost of improvements or repairs to be paid by State county township borough or incorporated town and requiring contracts by counties townships borough and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same providing for the minimum width of State highways and State-aid highways and kind of materials to be used in the improvement providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs providing penalty for injurying or destroying State highways making appropriation to carry out the provisions of the act and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act" approved the thirty-first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven by defining the method of taking testimony in proceedings for the condemnation of turnpikes and toll roads providing for the appointment of stenographers therefor and the compensation of the same and the compensation of viewers providing a method whereby the State Highway Commissioner may at any time during said proceedings enter upon and take the said turnpike or toll road and providing a method for compelling the Commonwealth to pay the damages assessed for the taking of the same

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, in relation to this bill passed over yesterday, I want to say that I have made inquiry of the gentlemen interested in it and they inform me that the sole purpose of this bill is to give the County Commissioners the right of eminent domain over such toll roads as they desire to acquire at the county's exepnse for the purpose of connecting up with other free turnpikes, and under such circumstances I think it is a very good bill.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I beg to correct the gentleman in that it does not give the Conty Commissioners the right of eminent domain. It is the State Highway Department.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, in relation to this bill passed Department.

Mr. E. E. JONES. It is merely to permit the taking over of toll roads without waiting for the termination of the proceedings in Court.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGES.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate as follows:

Resolved (if the House of Reprensentatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns to-day, it shall meet on Monday evening, April 7th, at nine o'clock.

The resolution was twice read, considered and concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 697, as follows:

An Act authorizing and regulating certain classes of indemnity reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts empowering corporations to make such contracts regulating process in suits on such contracts fixing certain fees and providing penalties for any violation of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That individuals partnerships and corporations of this Commonwealth hereby designated subscribers are hereby authorized to exchange reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts with each other or with individuals partnerships and corporations of other States and countries providing indemnity among themselves from any loss which may be insured against under other provisions of the insurance laws excepting life insurance

Section 2 Such contracts may be executed by an attorney agent or other representative herein designated attorney duly authorizel and acting for such subscribers

Section 3 Such subscribers so contracting among themselves shall through their attorney file with the Insurance Commissioner of this Commonwealth a declaration verified by the oath of such attorney setting forth

(a) The name or title of the office at which such subscribers propose to exchange such indemnity contracts Said name or title shall not be so similar to any other name or title previously adopted by a similar organzaton or by any insurance corporation or association as in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner is calculated to result in confusion or deception

(b) The kind or kinds of insurance to be effected or exchanged

(c) A copy of the form of policy contract or agreement under or by which such insurance is to be effected or exchanged

(d) A copy of the form of power of attorney or other authority of such attorney under which such insurance is to be effected or exchanged

(e) The location of the office or offices from which such contracts or agreements are to be issued

(f) That applications have been made for indemnity upon at least one hundred separate risks aggregating not less than one and one-half million ($1,500,000.00) dollars as represented by executed contracts or bona fide applications to become concurrently effective or in case of liability or compensation insurance covering a total pay roll of not less than one and one-half million ($1,500,000) dollars.

(g) That there is on deposit with such attorney and available for the payment of losses a sum of not less than twenty-five thousand ($25,000.00) dollars

Section 4 Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for by the terms of section three hereof the attorney shall by a duly executed instrument filed in his office constitute and appoint the Insurance Commissioner or his successor the true and lawful attorney upon whom all lawful processes in any action rule order or legal proceeding against such subscribers may be served and therein shall agree that any lawful process against such subscribers which may be served upon him as the said attorney shall be of the same force and validity as if served on the said attorney and that the authority thereof shall continue in force irrevocable so long as any liability remains outstanding in this Commonwealth The service of process shall be made by leaving the same in duplicate in the hands or office of the commissioner one copy certified by the commissioner as having been served upon him shall be deemed sufficient evidence thereof and service upon the commissioner shall be deemed valid service upon all subscribers exchanging at any time reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts through such attorney When legal process is served upon the commissioner as attorney he shall forthwith forward one of the duplicate copies of the process served on him to the attorney for the subscribers As a condition of valid and effective service and of the duty of the Insurance Commissioner in the premises the plaintiff in each such process shall pay to the Insurance Commissioner at the time of the service thereof the sum of two dollars which the said plaintiff shall recover as taxable costs in the case if he prevails in the suit The Insurance Commissioner shall keep a record of all such process which shall show the day and hour of service

Section 5 There shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner of this Commonwealth by such attorney a statement under the oath of such attorney showing the maximum amount of indemnity upon any single risk and such attorney shall whenever and as often as the same shall be required file with the Insurance Commissioner a statement verified by his oath to the effect that he has examined the commercial rating of such subscribers as shown by the reference book of a commercial agency having at least one hundred thousand subscribers and that from such examination or from other information in his possession it appears that no subscriber has assumed on any single risk an amount greater than ten per centum of the net worth of such subscriber

Section 6 There shall at all times be maintained as a reserve a sum in cash or in securities of the character permitted by the laws of the State under which the exchange is organized for the investment of the capital and funds of an insurance company equal to fifty per centum of the aggregate net annual deposits collected and credited to the account of the subscribers on policies having one year or less to run and pro rata on those for longer periods Net annual deposits shall be construed to mean the advance payments of subscriber after deducting therefrom the amounts specifically provided in the subscribers' agreements for expenses Said sum shall at no time be less than twenty-five thousand ($25,000.00) dollars and if at any time fifty per centum of the aggregate deposits so collected and credited not equal that amount then the subscribers or their attorney for them shall make up any deficiency under penalty of a revocation of the license

Section 7 Such attorney shall make a report to the Insurance Commissioner for each calendar year on or before the first day of March showing the financial condition of affairs at the office where such contracts are issued and shall furnish such additional information and reports as he may require

Provided however that such attorney shall not be required to furnish the names and addresses of any subscribers nor the loss ratio

The business affairs and assets of such organization shall be subject to examination by the Insurance Commissioner

Section 8 Any corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of this Commonwealth shall in addition to the rights powers and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation have full power and authority to exchange insurance contracts of the kind and character herein mentioned The right to exchange such contracts is hereby declared to be incidental to the purposes for which such corporations are organized and as much granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred

Section 9 Any attorney who shall except for the purpose of applying for certificate of authority as herein provided exchange any contracts of indemnity of the kind and character specified in this act or directly or indirectly solicit or negotiate any applications for same without first complying with the foregoing provisions shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred ($100.00) dollars nor more than one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars

Section 10 Each attorney by or through whom are issued any policies of or contracts for indemnity of the character referred to in this act shall procure from the Insurance Commissioner annually a certificate of authority stating that all the requirements of this act have been complied with and the payment of the fees required by this act the Insurance Commissioner shall issue such certificates The Insurance Commissioner may revoke any certificate of authority issued hereunder

Section 11 Such attorney shall pay to the Commonwealth the same fees as are now required by law to be paid by foreign insurance companies transacting business in this Commonwealth and the same taxes as are collected by other States from inter-insurance or reciprocal exchanges organized in Pennsylvania and exchanging indemnity in such States Provided that in the payment of taxes he may deduct from the gross premiums or deposits received during the calendar year all amounts returned to subscribers or credited to their accounts other than for losses

Section 12 Except as herein provided no insurance law of this Commonwealth shall apply to the exchange of such indemnity contracts unles they are specially mentioned

Section 13 The act approved February fourth one thousand eight hundred and seventy entitled "An Act to prevent the issue of unauthorized policies of insurance" and section thirty-two of the act approved June first one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation of casualty insurance companies and for the regulation of home and foreign casualty insurance companies and providing penalties for the violation of any of the provisions of this act" in so far as they apply to reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts and also all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have been asked by several members to give an explanation of this bill. I would like to say to the members of the House that the word inter-insurance, as used in this bill relates to that class of insurance companies which is nation-wide and known under different names, for instance, The Lumbermans Insurance Association, The Druggists Insurance Association, and various other insurance associations of that character. We have no legislation on our statute books bring these various insurance organizations under any control, or giving them any recognition by the State Insurance Department. The State Insurance Department feels that it is just as important that they should have the power to investigate and know whether these companies or associations or solvent concerns, or not, before they go out and take the people's money. It is simply an act of this assembly which reaches out to fit into the changes of the times. You all know that in early years there was only one kind of insurance, fire, insurance, and after that came life insurance, and then the various other kinds. This proposition is one that the Insurance Department feels should be looked into, and should be under certain control. The provisions of the bill I think are absolutely in the right spirit. It is progressive legislation, the kind of legislation that the gentleman from Delaware always stands for.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 479, entitled:

An Act to amend section five hundred sixty-one of an act entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" approved the eighteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, this is a radical change in the School Code. For four years the School Code was discussed in this House during sessions.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will call the members attention to the fact that the sponsor of this bill is not in his chair to-day.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1013, entitled:

An Act to amend further the tenth section of an act entitled "An Act providing when how upon what property an to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements and for the removal of nuisances the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened and the manner of distributing the proceeds of such sales" approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one as heretofore amended by changing the procedure for reviving and continuing the liens of municipal and tax claims

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section ten of an act entitled "An Act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements and for the removal of nuisances the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened and the manner of distributing the proceeds of such sales" approved the fourth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one which as heretofore amended read as follows:

"Section 10 Claims for taxes water-rents lighting rates and sewer rates must be filed in the court of common pleas of the county in which the property is situated on or before the last day of the third calendar year after that in which the taxes or rates are first payable and other municipal claims must be filed in said court within six months from the time the work was done in front of the particular property where the charge against the property is assessed or made at the time the work is authorized within six months after the completion of the improvement where the assessment is made by the municipality upon all the properties after confirmation of the improvement and within six months after confirmation by the court where confirmation is required the certificate of the surveyor engineer or other officer supervising the improvement filed in the proper office being conclusive of the time of completion thereof but he being personally liable to any one injured by any false statement therein A number of years taxes or rates of different kinds if payable to the same plaintiff may be included in one claim

Municipal claims shall likewise be filed within said period where an appeal is taken from the assessment for the recovery of which such municipal claim is fixed In such case the lien filed shall be in the form hereinafter provided except that it shall set forth the amount of the claim as an undetermined amount the amount thereof to be determined by the appeal taken from the assessment upon which such municipal claim is based pending in a certain court (referring to the court and the proceeding where such appeal is pending) Upon the filing of such municipal claim the claim shall be indexed by the prothonotary upon the judgment index and upon the locality index of the court and the amount of the claim set forth therein as an undetermined amount

If final judgment is not obtained upon such appeal within five years from the filing of such municipal claim the claimant in the lien shall within such period of five years file a suggestion of non-payment in the form hereinafter set forth which shall have the effect of continuing the lien thereof for a further period of five years from the date of filing such suggestion Such municipal claim shall be revived in a similar manner during each recurring period of five years thereafter until final judgment is entered upon said appeal and the undetermined amount of such municipal claim is fixed in the manner hereinafter provided

When the final judgment is obtained upon such appeal the court in which said municipal claim is pending shall upon the petition of any interested party make an order fixing the undetermined amount claimed in such claim at the amount determined by the final judgment upon said appeal which shall bear interest from the date of the verdict upon which judgment was entered and thereafter the amount of said claim shall be the sum thus fixed Proceedings upon said municipal claim thereafter shall be as in other cases

Whereon final judgment upon said appeal it appears that no account is due upon the assessment for the recovery of which such claim is filed the court in which such municipal claim is pending shall upon the petition of any interested party make an order striking such municipal claim from the record and charge the costs upon such claim to the plaintiff in the claim filed

Where such appeal is discontinued the court in which such municipal claim is pending shall upon the petition of any interested party make an order fixing the undetermined amount claimed at the amount of the original assessment which shall bear interest from the date that such assessment was originally payable and thereafter the amount of such claim shall be the sum thus fixed

Such tax municipal or other claim if filed within the period aforesaid shall remain a lien upon said porperties until fully paid and satisfied Provided however That either a suggestion of non-payment and an averment of default in the form hereinafter provided be filed in cases of tax claims either before or after judgment o nthe scrie facias and in cases of other than tax claims ater judgment on the scire acias or else a writ of scire facias in the form herein provided be issued to revive the same within each period of five years following (a) the date on which said claim was filed (b) the date on which a writ of scrie facias was issued thereon (c) the date on which any judgment was entered thereon (d) the date on which a previous suggestion of non-payment and default was filed thereon or (e) the date on which a judgment of revival was obtained thereon

The suggestion and averment shall be in the following form under the caption of the claim

And now the claimant by his solicitor suggests or record that the above claim is still due and owing to the claimant and avers that the owner is still in default for non-payment thereof The protonotary is hereby directed to enter this suggestion and averment on the municipal lien or the proper docket of the claim and also to index of it upon the judgment index and on the locality index of the court for the purpose of continuing the lien of the claim

Such suggestion and averment must be signed by the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant The prothonotary shall docket and index the suggestion and averment as directed therein and for such services shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar to be taxed and collected as other costs in the claim The filing and indexing of such suggestion and averment within five years of filing the claim or the issuing of any writ of scrie facias thereon or of any judgment thereon or of the filing or any prior suggestion the averment of default shall have the same force and effect for the purpose of continuing and preserving the lien of the claim as though a writ of scire facias had been issued or a judgment or judgment or revival had been obtained within such period Provided That no writ of levari facias shall be issued upon a claim for the purpose of exposing the property liened to sheriff's sale except after a judgment shall have been duly obtained upon the claim as provided in this section and such judgment must have been obtained within five years of the issuance of the levari facias Whenever the lien of a claim has been revived and continued by the filing and indexing of a suggestion and averment of default the claimant may at any time within five years therefrom issue a writ of scire facias thereon reciting all suggestion and averment of default filed since the filing of the claim and shall proceed thereon in the manner herein provided subject to the right of the owner to raise any defense arising since the last judgment

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1167, as follows:

An Act authorizing the appointment by the county commissioners in counties having not less than two hundred fifty thousand (250,000) nor more than three hundred and twenty-five thousand (325,00) inhabitants of assessors and assistant assessors prescribing their numbers powers duties procedure and method of their appointment and fixing the salaries to be paid by the proper counties and abolishing the office of ward borough township assessors and assessor of voters in such counties and providing penalties for violation of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all counties of this Commonwealth having not less than two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) nor more than three hundred and twenty-five thousand (325,000) inhabitants the county commissioners of such counties shall appoint for a period of four (4) years or until their successors are duly qualified a board of assessors consisting of not more than seven (7) sober judicious and intelligent citizens who shall be residents of the county for which they are appointed for at least four (4) years before such appointment as a Board of Assessors and Assessors of Voters all of whom shall not be of the same political party Provided that at least one (1) of said assessors shall be appointed from each Legislative District in said counties where such counties are divided into Legislative Districts For the purpose of making the triennial assessment the county commissioners may in their discretion appoint for a period not exceeding one year assistant assessors not to exceed five in number whose compensation shall be the same as that of the assessors

Section 2 The Board of Assessors appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act shall perform all the duties of assessors under the laws of this Commonwealth as to the valuation of property for county purposes and Assessor of Voters

Section 3 That said Board of Assessors shall during the first year of their term of service make or cause to be made a full just and equal assessment of all property within the wards boroughs and townships and their several sub-divisions comprised within the county for which they are appointed subject by law to taxation for county purposes which assessment shall stand until the next triennial assessment for county purposes at which time and every third year thereafter an assessment shall be made and shall in all cases value such property at such sums as the same will in their judgment bring at a fair public sale thereof It shall be their duty to revise alter and equalize the said assessments in respect to properties in the ward borough or township and the several divisions thereof and to so far modify the assessment during the years succeeding the year of the triennial assessment as the changes of ownership or the conditions of the improvements thereon shall require and they shall complete their annual assessments on or before the first day of February in each year For the purpose of their duties they shall have the custody of all books relating to the assessment of county taxes upon the completion of the assessment as hereinbefore required The said Board shall sit annually on or before the first day of March to hear complaints for the several wards boroughs and townships and their sub-divisions They shall be provided with an office at the County seat

Section 4 It shall be the duty of such boards to give at least five days' written or printed notice to very taxable inhabitant of the county for which they are appointed of the amount or sums for which he stands rated in any triennial assessment and also of any change in his assessment in any intervening year together with the time and place of hearing complaints For the purpose of such hearing said board shall have the authority to administer oaths and affirmations touching any matter relating thereto and any willful false statement under oath as to any materials fact of any complainant or his agent or attorney shall be deemed perjury and punishable as such Any person aggrieved by the final action of any Board of Assessors may appeal therefrom to the County Commissioners whose powers and duties relating to assessment shall remain as heretofore

Section 5 The office of assessors for county purposes in the several wards boroughs and townships in such counties coming under the provisions of this act is hereby abolished in so far as respects the assessment and valuation of property and occupations taxable for state and county purposes and assessor of voters

Section 6 All such assessors shall assemble in convention together with the County Commissioners at least once in each year upon the call of the County Commisioners of the county by whom they are appointed for the purpose of comparing adjusting revising et cetera the value of properties and to furnish the County Commissioners with such other information as shall enable them to properly perform their duties in cases of appeal

Section 7 Each of said assessors shall before entering upon his duties take and subscribe the following oath "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of this Commonwealth and that I will discharge the duties of my office with fidelity That I will not knowingly receive directly or indirectly any money or other valuable thing for the performance or non-performance of any act or duty pertaining to my office other than the compensation allowed by law" and file the same with the clerk of the court of quarter sessions

Section 8 The compensation of such assessors shall be not less than eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800.00) nor more than twenty-four hundred dollars ($2,400.00) per annum for each assessor the said compensation to be fixed by the County Commissioners and necesary traveling expenses subject to the approval of the County Commissioners and County Controller Any vacancy happening in said board shall be filled by appointment by the County Commissioners for the unexpired term

Section 9 Said Board of Assessors shall have the power to appoint a chief clerk at a salary of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500.00) per annum

Section 10 That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act or any part thereof be hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOBBS. To how many counties does this bill apply at the present time?

Mr. EHRHARDT. To all counties that come within the prescribed population stated in the bill.

Mr. HOBBS. What counties does that include?

Mr. EHRHARDT. The gentleman is sent here by the people from his district and certainly must have a knowledge of the geographical and political divisions of this State.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman does not desire to answer my question, I will volunteer to give the information as I understand it.

This bill applies to counties containing a population over 250,000 and less than 325,000. The only county within that limit is Lackawanna County. Upon that basis, I raise the question of the constitutionality of the bill. "The Legislature shall not pass any special or local law regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, wards, boroughs, or school districts." The bill is special and local because it excludes from its operations counties of more than 325,000 inhabitants and counties of less than 250,000, and involves an improper classification. The exclusion of certain counties from the operation of a general act relating to counties makes the act unconstutional, unless there is an inherent distinction which makes the exclusion proper. There are several other requisites which it is not necessary to refer to. I raise that point as to its constitutionality.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman mean that he raises it as a point of order.

Mr. HOBBS. Yes, sir.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not sustained.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. I request that this question be referred to the House and ask that the members support me in this request.

The SPEAKER. Five gentlemen having requested that the point of order be submitted to the House, the point of order is submitted accordingly.

The question is: Shall the point of order be sustained.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, what is the point of order.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is that Bill No. 1167, file folio 2771, is unconstutitonal, because of its being local and special legislation. The bill providing for classification by population of counties for the purposes provided in this bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. The question now is, shall we sustain the Chair?

The SPEAKER. No. The Chair has ruled that the point of order is not well taken, but the rules provide that any constitutional question, upon the request of five members, shall be submitted to the House. The request was made by five members and the point is being submitted accordingly.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Do I understand by that that the Speaker withdraws his decision on the question? We will vote either to sustain the Chair or not to sustain the Chair's decision. That is an appeal from the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The suggestion of the gentleman from Delaware seems to the Chair to be well taken, for this reason: The Chair has ruled on the point of order. The gentleman desiring to question that ruling should have appealed from the decision of the Chair. A request that the question be submitted to the House should have preceded the ruling of the Chair.

The Chair withdraws its decision on the question.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I raise the point of order that the appeal is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair having decided, the Chair withdraws its decision on submitting the question to the House upon the request of five members, on the ground that the request came too late. The Chair has ruled that the point of order is not well taken. That ruling is now open for appeal, is desired.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. If we vote on the appeal, we vote on the direct question of sustaining the Chair.

The SPEAKER. If an appeal be taken, that would be the only way in which it would come before the House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. A vote "aye" means to sustain the Chair; a vote "no" means the contrary.

The SPEAKER. If an appeal be taken from the Chair, then the Speaker will vacate the Chair and it will proceed as it should proceed, the question being properly submitted, when the time comes.

As the matter now stands before the House, the Chair does not sustain the point of order.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I ask in fairness that the Chair withdraw its decision on that question and allow this question to go before the House under Rule three on the request of five members. I ask it for this reason, that the matter may be open to discussion and decided upon its merits, as a proposition of law, and not carry with it the burden of attempting to overrule the decision of the Chair. This is a fair proposition to be discussed, and should not be encumbered by any such proposition as to whether or not a member is voting to sustain or not to sustain the Chair. Now, I ask that, and request of the Speaker, upon a question of fairness. I have followed out the rule by five members and myself asking it to be referred to the House, and don't, in the spirit of fairness, throw into this discussion and debate the question to be decided whether or not we will sustain the Chair, because the moment you do that, you are throwing into it an element that should not enter into the discussion. I, therefore, ask the Chair, in all fairness, to withdraw its decision and allow this to be submitted according the request of five members under Rule three.

The SPEAKER. Inasmuch as the five gentlemen who requested that the question be submitted to the House probably neglected to make their request at the proper time, inadvertently, the Chair withdraws the decision and upon the request of the five gentlemen, submits the question of the constitutionality of this act to the House.

The question before the House is

Shall the point of order be sustained.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I want the House to clearly understand that while I spoke in support of the point of order as raised by the gentleman from Lackawanna, I do not wish them to understand that I am attempting in any way to thrust upon them any particular knowledge that I may have of the point in question nor any other point such as that. I want you to understand that when this bill was introduced originally it referred to all counties having a population of not less than 200,000 or more than 325,000. I was opposed to that bill and am opposed to it because I think it legislation while good in purpose and intent, prescribing the machinery—

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. My point of order is that the only question before the House is the discussion of the constitutionality of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I will agree with you and I realize I must confine my discussion to the bill in question.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his discussion to the constitutionality of the act.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I understand the bill provides as follows: "To authorize the appointment by the County Commisioners in Counties having not less than 250,000 nor more than 325,000 inhabitants."

This is special and local legislation in controvention of Article three section seven, for the reason that regulating the affairs of counties it excludes from its operation all counties having a population of more than 325,000 inhabitants and in support of that contention I cite to the House the case of McCarthy vs. Commonwealth, 110 Pennsylvania, as Judge Gordon's opinion reads on pages 246 and 247:

"We have no doubt that the act under consideration, the act of June 22d, 1883, falls within the inhibition of the seventh section, of the third article, of our present Constitution. "The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law,.....regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, wards, boroughs or school districts." In the act cited the attempt has been made to regulate, in certain and very important particulars, the affairs of counties, the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand, and is less than one hundred and fifty thousand, Fees which heretofore belonged to county officers, are turned over to the county treasuries; these officers, are compensated by salaries; some of them are made county collectors, and new duties and new oaths are imposed upon them. In it are contained novel prescriptions with reference to commissioners, auditors, directors of the poor, etc"

That was the question in this case, just as here, where the limitation is counties of not less than 250,000 and not more than 325,000. There it was counties of not less than 100,000 nor more than 150,000. Now mark what the Court says. It was also contended that this was also unconstitutional for the same reason:

"But by what process of reasoning is this legislation, which has selected for its operation three or four counties from all those composing the Commonwealth, to be justified? Is the justification to be found in the well-recognized legislative power of classification? We think not. It is admitted that classification, even where not specially recognized by nature, custom, the laws of trade, or the Constitution, must, in certain cases, be adopted ex necessitate, as in the case of cities, under the act of the 23rd of May, 1874: Wheeler vs. Philadelphia, 27, P. F. S., 338, and Kilgore vs. Magee, 4 Nor. 401. General legislation for all the cities of the Commonwealth as a single class having been regarded as impossible, the legislature first divided these municipalities into several distinct classes, and then provided laws and regulations adapted to each class. This, as we have seen, was recognized as legitimate and proper.

There is here, however, a new and complete classification, and not a mere cutting out of one or more cities, designated by population, from the general class, and in this the act of 1874 is distinguishable from that of 1883, in which no general classification is attempted, but a special legislation adopted for certain counties selected from all others, and to be ascertained by their populations rather than by their names. Under the rulings in Davis vs. Clark, 10 Out., 377, Commonwealth vs. Patton, 7 Norris, 260, and Scowden's Ap., 15 Id., 425, this is not allowable.

If, indeed, such legislation were to be recognized as legitimate, vain would the Constitutional prohibition of local or special laws. But little ingenuity in the way of so called classification would be necessary in order to isolate every single county, borough, ward, township and school district in the State, and provide for each its own local code.

Now we have the same effect here of this decision. There can be no question upon this that if you exclude from the operation a single county, you make it special and local legislation. In Morrison vs. Bachert, 112 Pa., pages 328-329-330 the same point was decided. It says there:

"The record presents a single question, but it is an important one. It involves the Constitutionality of the act of June 12th, 1878, P. L. 137, entitled, 'An Act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the sheriffs, coroners, prothonotaries, clerks of the several courts, registers of wills and recorders of deeds of this Commonwealth, except in counties containing more than one hundred and fifty thousand, or less than ten thousand inhabitants."

Prior to the adoption of the present Constitution there was hardly an approach to uniformity in the fees of public officers throughout the State. Local acts had been procured for many of the counties, in some instance through the influence of the officers themselves, fixing the fees more in harmony with their own greed than the interests of the people, who may fairly be presumed to have known nothing of it until they came to pay the fees. It was to cut this system up, root and branch, with other evils of like nature, that the clause in question was inserted in the Constitution. It was a wise provision and will be sternly enforced. It is our purpose to adhere rigidly to that instrument, that the people may not be deprived of its benefits. It ought to be unnecessary for this court to make this judicial declaration, but it is proper to do so, in view of the amount of legislation which is periodically placed upon the statute book in entire disregard of the fundamental law. Much of this legislation may remain unchallenged for years, only to be overturned when it reaches this court. In the meantime, parties may have acted upon it, rights may have grown up and the inconveniences and losses entailed thereby may not be inconsiderable. As we view it, this note of warning at this time is needed.

That the act in question is in direct conflict with the Constitution is too plain for argument. It is only necessary to read the title of this act to see this. It excludes perpetually from its operation all counties having a population of over one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants. This makes it a local law. If it can exclude Philadelphia and Pittsburgh it may exclude every other county in the State but the one county seeking such special or local legislation.

Nor can this legislation be sustained upon any rational theory of classification. In point of fact, there is no attempt at classification; it was a mere exclusion of certain counties. In Com. vs. Patton, supra, it was said, referring to the Act of April 18th, 1878, to provide for the holding of courts in certain cities of this Commonwealth: "Said act makes no provision for the future in which respect it differs from the act of 1874, which in express terms provides for future cities and the expanding growth of those now in existence. This is not classification which merely designates one county in the Commonwealth and contains no provision by which any other county may, by reason of its increase of population in the future come within the class."

This is the exact act in question. There seems to be no question but what this is special legislation because, regulating the affairs of counties, it excludes from its operation all counties having a population of over 325,000.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, in going back and referring to this act in the file folio 2771, it shows that the bill was originally drafted so as to cover 200,000 people and then it was so amended as the evidence before this House shows, to bring it down so that it applies only to one county. Now there is no question, Mr. Speaker, but what the Legislature has the right to classify counties as to population but the Constitution says that there can only be two classes, those of less than 150,000 and those above, and in support of this position I wish to read you something from Morrison v. Bachert, 112 Pennsylvania. 322. It says:

The extent to which counties may be classified with respect to the payment of fees to their public officers is declared by the 5th section of art. X of the Constitution: In all counties containing over 150,000 inhabitants, all county officers shall be paid by salary, &c." In the case just cited the court says: "It is further to be observed that, so far as the compensation to county officers is concerned, the Constition has classified the State," and it was decided that the legislative attempt to make a further classification was abortive. The act of June 22 1883, P. L. 139, provided that in all counties with population between 100,000 and 150,000, the public officers who had theretofore been receiving fees should turn their fees into the county treasury and should receive salaries. This act was, in McCarthy v. Com., 110 Pa. 243, held to be void because within the inhibition of the 7th section of art. III of the present Constitution, forbidding the legislature to pass any local or special law regulating the affairs of counties, &c.

Now here this bill seems to seek out and classify counties further than the constitution provides as the gentleman from Schuylkill County has so plainly showed, and that is legislating for special purpose, so that you have every county standing in a class by itself, which the Constitution naturally prohibits.

It says further,

"If, indeed, such legislation were to be recognized as legitimate, vain would be the Constitutional prohibition of local or special laws. But little ingenuity in the way of so called classification, would be necessary in order to isolate every single county, borough, ward, township and school district in the State and provide for each its own local code."

In this case, relative to the constitutional classification of counties, the court say: "Moreover, as, by the constitution itself, the counties with reference to the fees of their officers, have been classified, we think a further attempt in that direction not permissable."

By the constitution, as respects the compensation of county officers, a single division of the counties is ordained, those above 150,000 in population constituting one class and the balance constituting the other class. The Act of June 20, 1911, P. L. 1072, under consideration, seeks to sub-divide this latter class and thus make three classes. This, as the authorities cited show, the Legislature is powerless to do,"

This decision was in relation to the Act of 1911, relative to Sheriff's fees and the Court goes on to say the Act of June 20th, 1911, under the classification on seeks to make a subdivision of these two constitutional original divisions and wherever the Legislature undertakes to make another subdivision, the Supreme Court holds it unconstitutional. I think there is no question but what the Legislature can classify counties, but if you undertake to make another subdivision between 150,000 and those above you strike the prohibitive section and you come into a class that makes them unconstitutional. I have no interest in this case, Mr. Speaker, in any respect at all, but I do hate to sit here and see the Legislature pass bills which I believe perfectly in my mind are unconstitutional and will lumber up the stautute books with something that the Supreme Court will knock out.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, (Mr. Rockwell).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, on pages 2 and 4 of to-day's calendar are House Bills No. 1116 and 1137, along the same lines as some of the gentlemen claim to be unconstitutional legislation. Did the gentleman vote for it?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I didn't catch the number of pages you refer to.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I refer to Bill 1116 on page 2 of to-day's calendar, and Bill 1137, on page 4.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I don't recollect whether I voted on them or not. I rather think I did.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, (Mr. Jones).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask him whether he voted on Bill No. 1116, on page two of to-day's calendar, and on Bill 1137, page 4, of to-day's calendar?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I did, yes.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOBBS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask him whether he voted on House Bill 1116 and 1137, favored these?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I think I did.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Now, Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the House that these bills are on the same line that they call special legislation and unconstitutional. Within the past few days we have passed several similar bills providing for county controllers in counties with a prescribed population. If those bills are all right, we are not getting special legislation with this one. Then there was another act providing for auditors in counties of certain sizes and uniform population and I think this same act comes under the same classification, and I ask the gentlemen to pass this bill.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, with reference to the bills that the gentleman called my attention to, Nos. 1116 and 1137, as I recall those bills, I have not looked at the file folio since I have voted for them, they don't relate to fixing salaries or fees. The constitutional prohibition is in relation to fixing fees and salaries.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman misses one of the points in reference to the question of the constitutionality here. This bill regulates the affairs of counties which come within the prohibition of Article 3, Section 7. These bills must necessarily fall all of themselves. It is impossible to watch all these points unless you are particularly interested in the measure. The point raised here is that it regulates the affairs of counties which come particularly under the prohibition of the Section of the Article. Bill 1116 relates to the question of the education of children and the maintenance of schools, and 1137 relates to the establishment of schools. The gentleman well knows that on that proposition it is impossible to solve all questions of that kind unless you make a particular study of the bill.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, relative to those bills referred to, there was no question raised as to their constitutionality and not being particularly learned in the law and not having time to go into these matters in detail, we gentlemen vote on these questions on general principals if there are no particular objections and there are good motives behind these bills. Therefore my position was to vote aye on those questions. Where there is a question raised on the constitutionalty I will be more particular in casting my vote.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the rule that was originally laid down by the chair is the rule that ought to guide this bill. This bill to my mind seems to be constitutional. If it is not constitutional, then much of the legislation that is upon or statue books to-day is unconstitutional. Last session I remember there was a bill of a similar nature to this bill applying to Allegheny County, giving, I believe, the County Commissioners, the power to appoint read estate assessors. At that time the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Shern), stood upon the floor of the House and stated that the delegation from Philadelphia would vote upon that bill for Allegheny because Allegheny desired it, but so far as Philadelphia County was concerned, the delegation was opposed to it. When it came to the position of fixing the salaries of the various judicial districts, the salaries were regulated upon the question of population. When there was a distinction as to the School Code, the distinction as to population was fixed.

I take it that in the argument of the gentlemen from Schuylkill the other evening, which attacked the bill introduced by the member from Luzerne, Mr. Adams, as to the constitutionality of the bill, if my memory serves me right, he told the House distinctly that there could be no geographical lines fixed in a bill, that that would make it unconstutitional, but that it had to be based on the population, for the reason that the population was not held to be local and special legislation here, because the population could vary and move, while the geographical lines could not, and that seems to have been the thought in this bill, and calls to my mind the very case which was read, the McCarthy case. I will read from the syllabus:

"The power of the Legislature to classify counties by population for the purposes of legisaltion, has, in special instances, been recognized by the Courts, upon the assumption that counties having a small population may have a larger one in the future."

That seems to be the distinction between local and special legislation and other legislation, because to-day the legislation which to-day applies to Lackawnna and other counties, may in the future apply to Wayne and other smaller counties. That seems to be the distinction largely in this thing, and if the point of order that has been raised by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs, is well taken, then this Legislature for years has been passing unconstitutional legislation.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my request for the yeas and nays.

The question recurring,

Shall the point of order be sustained?

It was not agreed to and the point of order was not sustained.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, is a member entitled to the privilege of debating this bill?

The SPEAKER. Undoubtedly he has. The Chair assumed that no one desired to speak on the question, and therefore directed a roll call.. The Chair will recognize the gentleman from Lackawanna.

Mr. HOBBS. Now gentlemen, I appreciate your position. I hear the gentleman stating that this bill has been debated, but it hasn't the merits and demerits of the bill have not been debated, only the constitutionality of the bill. I wish to call the attention of the members to the fact that this bill is similar to one which was considered in this House two years ago, and for your information I will give you the career of that House bill which was very much similar to this bill and is in fact almost identical with this present bill. Mr. Speaker, the career of House Bill 479 which was practically the same as the bill now being considered, namely, "The Assessors' Bill." March 28, 1911, introduced by Mr. Ehrhardt, April 13, 1911, amended by Mr. Ehrhardt, that not more than six of the nine assessors be of the same political party, is this:

Amendments offered by Hobbs and carried, reducing salary for each assessor from $2,500 to $1,500 and expenses for clerk hire from $2,700 to $1,500 also to make the assessors elective instead of appointive.

April 26, 1911, The amended bill passed the House by a vote of 115 to 15. May 1, 1911, Presented to the Senate for concurrence and sent to Committee on Judiciary Special.

May 9, 1911, Reported from committee, amended to its original form with slight variations.

May 17. Amended to have assessors appointed at large instead of from each Legislative District.

May 18. 1911, Passed finally by Senate by vote of 27 to 1.

May 23, 1911, House non-concurred in Senate amendments by vote of 85 to 73.

May 24, 1911, Passed Senate by vote of 49 to 1.

Passed House finally by adopting conference report by vote of 105 to 58.

June 12, 1911, Vetoed by Governor Tener.

Now, gentlemen, I do not exactly know the reasons for which Governor Tener vetoed this bill, except that he stated that he didn't see no good reason why the system should be changed, for these few counties at that time included but three counties, he doubted very much if nine assessors could do the work. This bill as amended is about the same, and their salaries are higher and we believe that the work could be done with much less expense than the bill calls for. Now, gentlemen, with all due regard to my colleague from Lackawanna County, I have good opinions. but some of the members are inclined to think that we should have a great amount of legislative courtesy, which I believe I possess equal to any other member of this House. but when we come to speak of legislative courtesy, our legislative duty is first to our constituents and when our constituents appeal to us for activity for or against any proposition, it is our duty to stand up and fight for their interests.

I have received many letters and petitions opposing this bill from all parts of the County of Lackawanna, and I will read very briefly from a letter from one of the members of the Pomona Grange of Lackawanna County, which represents the farmers of our county and which represents in thought and in notice the entire farming comunity of the State of Pennsylvania: "I am instructed by the Pomona Grange Legislative Committee as well as the members of Covington Grange No. 1029 to ask you to use your constant endeavors to defeat the proposed measure known as the Assessor's Bill. I can also assure you the people are up in arms locally against any such law being foisted upon them. We think it a decided step backwards and contrary to the best interests of our people." And another from the same Grange: "At our meeting at Fleetville, on Wednesday, the Pomona Grange endorsed the action of the Legislative Committee and asks you to do your utmost to defeat the Allen Bill. We wish to be recorded as in favor of the present system of assessing in preference to any such legislation." Signed by the Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Grange. This bill is known as the Allen Bill by the people of my county. Here is another from the Madison Grange, written by the Secretary: "I am writing you by a special and unanimous vote of the Grange in regard to the Allen Assessor Bill which is being piloted through the Legislature. We believe this bill to be far from advantageous to the country people to which it will concern. Therefore, we ask your protection and influence in the matter." Here is a letter from a gentleman who is one of the lecturers of the State Agricultural Asociation of this State: "In regard to the Assessor's Bill. I would like to say don't. But I don't like to dictate. The people here are generally opposed to it. It takes one blessed privilege from them and gives excessive power to the County Commissioners, and however good it may be two years will roll around before we grasp the goodness, and only curses will follow those members in this county who favor it." Here is one from the Secretary of the Fleetville Grange No. 1199: We, the members of the Fleetville Grange No. 1199, P. of H. of Lackawanna County, have voted unanimously to ask you to do all in your power to oppose the so-called Assessor's Bill now before the Legislature. Gentlemen, I want to explain to you the position of the people behind these letters in Lackawanna County. There was a hearing before the Judiciary Local Committee and two members of the Board of County Commissioners. the County Solicitor and the Chief Clerk and others came here to argue for this bill. There were here members of an executive office whose business it is to attend to the business affairs of our county. They returned to Lackawanna County and presented a bill to Lackawanna County for their expenses to Harrisburg and return in the amount of $107.00. Our County Controller was determined that that bill should be allowed and therefore held it up. Now, gentlemen, of whatever county you may belong, do you desire that your county commissioners and road supervisors and school controllers or any other officials should come down to Harrisburg lobbying for a measure and go back and present the bill to the county that you taxpayers must pay for their expenses here. What do you think of that kind of work? Is it right? Gentlemen, I say it is not right. This bill is not desired by the people of Lackawanna County, and if it is a good bill, why does it not apply to all counties? I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland County.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Ulerich, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman and have him tell me why he offered an amendment which was passed, excluding Westmoreland County from this bill?

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I offered the amendment to the bill under discussion for this reason: That the bill, as it was in its original form, included Westmoreland County. I made an effort to find out the attitude of our people towards this measure and as far as I could find out at the time they were absolutely unanimously against the bill and in order to exclude our county I offered the amendment to the bill to exclude Westmoreland county.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this bill is unfair and unjust and will not be beneficial to the county to which it applies. I ask you, therefore, as gentlemen believing in the progressive principles that the people of the State should have their rights protected to select their own officials and help to defeat this abnoxious bill.

Mr. ALWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a concise statement as to the provisions of this bill. It is that their is certain sentiment in Lackawanna that is antagonistic to this bill and it is true that that sentiment during the last few weeks is considerably modified by the reason of certain amendments that have been put into it. In Lackawanna County our assessment is made by about ninety to ninety-five individuals who are selected from the different election districts of the county.

Lackawanna County has learned to its sorrow that these individuals were without any particular or individual qualifications for making assessments, having made an assessments that were unwise and not uniform or practical. This matter has been under consideration for a long time and this bill has been presented to this House under modified conditions and we believe that it is absolutely practical and that under this amendment Lackawanna County will have a uniform assessment that is so much desired. And in regard to the opposition I wish to say two years ago, one of our Democratic Newspapers advocated a similar provision of the bill that was passed in the Legislature in 1911, but by reason of the change in the political complications in that office, they are now opposed to this bill and they developed more or less political hysteria against the bill. But, gentlemen, just as soon as the people of Lackawanna County realized the beneficent benefits to be derived from this bill, I believe the sentiment will be unanimous in favor of this provision. appeal to the gentlemen of the House at this time to support this measure.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he knows what the population of Lackawanna County is?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, very nearly. About two hundred and fifty-nine thousand.

Mr. DAVIS. What is the population of the city of Scranton?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I think between one hundred and thirty and one hundred and forty thousand.

Mr. DAVIS. What per cent of the county taxes does the city pay?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I am not prepared to answer that question.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, the city of Scranton is paying about ninety per cent of the county taxes, the boroughs and townships pay the other ten percent. I find upon investigating that one of these ninety assessors referred to is blind. We have one blind man who is an assessor; we have another one who can not read or write. We find five properties not assessed at all, three of them saloons, on the main street. We find in another borough, a building worth fifteen thousand dollars that was assessed at two hundred dollars. The property owners in the city of Scranton, Mr. Speaker, are paying their full valuations on their property. I can see why the gentlemen from the suburbs come in and oppose a bill of this kind; it is because it will compel them to pay their amount of taxes the same as is paid by the people who live in the city of Scranton.

The SPEAKER. The question is now shall the bill pass?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for the verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

This was done as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. MANNION. Mr. Speaker, Whereas this bill, if enacted into a law, would radically change the present government and control of the assessment of property in Lackawanna; and whereas, I am unable to determine that this bill would make the assessment more equitable, at this time, in order that my constituents may not later deplore my action should I vote "Aye" on the bill, I feel in duty bound to vote "No" on the bill at present.

SENATE MESSAGES.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate, which were laid upon the table.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1234, as follows:

An Act to define who shall be responsible for the maintenance of neglected or dependent children placed in the care and custody of any association society person or family by the courts of this Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That where any neglected or dependent child is or shall be committed to the care and custody of any association society person or family by any court and an order for the payment of the maintenance of the child and the expense of such committment is made upon the proper county in pursuance of the laws of this Commonwealth the county from which such child has been committed to the said association society person or family shall be liable to the said association society person or family for the maintenance of the said child and the expenses connected therewith Provided That the county shall in all cases have full recourse to recover all expenses incurred in behalf of said child so committed from the parties or persons or poor district properly charged therewith under the laws of this Commonwealth

NAYS—2.

Rothenberger, Strauss,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. ELY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to call up at this time House Bill No. 174, page fifty of today's Calendar, bills on second reading.

The SPEAKER. This is one of the Gettysburg Battlefield Anniversary Commissions appropriation bills which the Commission is in great haste to have considered.

Will the House give unanimous consent? The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 174, entitled:

An Act providing for the transportation to Gettysburg of State officials guest of the State and certain honorably discharged soldiers on the occasion of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg providing for the expenses of the Commission in charge of the transportation prohibiting misrepresentation in obtaining transportation fixing penalties for volaton thereof and makng an appropriation

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on the occasion of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg the commission known as the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission is authorized to transport to and from Gettysburg Pennsylvania and to enter into contracts for such transportation such State officials and guests as the Governor may designate such honorably discharged soldiers who enlisted from this Commonwealth and served in a Pennsylvania regiment or any unit of Pennsylvania Volunteers at any period during the Civil War including commands of the Pennsylvania volunteer militia and such honorably discharged soldiers of the regular army of the United States now residents of Pennsylvania who participated in said battle Such transportation shall be by railroad from the station in Pennsylvania nearest to the place of residence of the person transported and by the most direct route to and from Gettysburg The Commission is authorized to pay for such transportation at a rate not exceeding two cents (2c) per mile The Commission shall give the proper publicity to this act and to make such regulations regarding the furnishing of such transportation as by them shall be deemed necessary

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ELY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 1, line 16: Insert after the word "battle" the following: "And if in the judgment of the said Commission it is feasable because of the limited time yet remaining in which to first verify the war record of the applicant and then issue transportation, the said Commission may also issue such transportation to all honorably discharged Union Soldiers, Sailors and Marines of the Civil War who are now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth, and also to such Soldiers who served in the Confederate Army and are now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

The second and third sections preamble and title were then separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 Any person who shall personate or attempt to personate or aid any person in personating or in attempting to personate any soldier entitled to transportation under this act or who not being entitled to such transportation shall secure or attempt to secure such transportation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars and to undergo an imprisonment in the jail of the proper county for a period of not less than ten days nor more than sixty days

Section 3 To carry out the purpose of this act the sum of one hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars ($165,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is especially appropriated to the said Commission Payment of money appropriated by this act shall be made only on warrant of the Auditor General drawn on the State Treasurer on requisition of the Commission and for which specifically itemized vouchers shall be filed

Whereas, Pursuant to the provisions of an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine entitled "An Act creating a commission to be known as the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission authorizing the Governor to appoint nine members thereof and fill vacancies that may occur therein the commission to consider and arrange for observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Getysburg to invite the co-operation of the Congress of the United States and of other States and report to next session of General Assembly and making an appropriation for the payment of expenses of said commission" a commission has been appointed whose duty it will be to arrange for a fitting observance at Gettysbrg of the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, and

Whereas, It is eminently proper that such anniversary should be celebrated in a manner befitting this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The occasion would be greatly lacking in historic interest if the heroic soldiers who enlisted in this Commonwealth should not attend this celebration, and

Whereas, It has ever been Pennsylvania's boast that she has never lacked in gratitude to those who went from her soil to uphold the Union; therefore,

An Act providing for the transportation to Gettysburg of State officials guest of the State and certain honorably discharged soldiers on the occasion of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg providing for the expenses of the Commission in charge of the transportation prohibiting misrepresentation in obtaining transportation fixing penalties for violation thereof and making an appropriation

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to, as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 1639, page thirty-nine of today's Calendar, bills on second reading, for the purpose of amendment.

The SPEAKER. This is another of the Gettysburg Commission's appropriation bills.

Will the House give unanimous consent? The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1639, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission to further carry out the provisions of the acts of Assembly approved May thirteenth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine and June fourteenth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven respectively creating said Commission and defining the duty thereof and making preliminary appropriations therefor

The first section of the bill and preamble were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That to enable the commission to further carry out the provisions of the above recited acts of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania and to meet the obligation imposed upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by the above recited act of Congress the sum of one hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars ($195,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated said appropriation to be paid by warrant of the Auditor General drawn upon the State Treasurer upon specifically itemized vouchers duly approved by the officers of said commission

Whereas The act of Assembly approved May thirteenth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine Pamphlet Laws one thousand nine hundred and nine page seven hundred and nine page seven hundred and seventy-seven created a commission "to be known as the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission whose duty shall be to consider and arrange for a proper and fitting observance at Gettysburg of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg with authority to invite the co-operation of the Congress of the United States and of the other States and Commonwealths the commission to make report of its action with recommendations to the next session of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania" and make a preliminary appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of said act and

Whereas The act of Assembly approved June fourteenth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven Pamphlet Laws one thousand nine hundred and eleven page two hundred and eighty-six made a further preliminary appropriation for the same purpose and therein expressed a promise on the part of the Commonwealth of Pennnsylvania that funds sufficient for the proper reception and care of all our guests during their stay at Gettysburg on said occasion would be granted in due time and

Whereas The Congress of the United States by enactment approved August twenty-sixth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and twelve authorized and directed the War Department to create and maintain at Gettysburg during the above celebration a great camp around the battlefield with all necessary camp garrison and hospital equipment rations supplies et cetera for visiting veterans of the Civil war conditioned upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania bearing one-half the expense thereof and

Whereas Said Department has so leased adequate grounds therefor and is proceeding so to create thereon such great camp and will so equip and maintain same therefore

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission to further carry out the provisions of the acts of Assembly approved May thirteenth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and ine and June fourteenth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven respectively creating said Commission and defining the duty thereof and making preliminary appropriations therefor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend by striking out the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

An Act making an appropriation to the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission to further carry out the provisions of the acts of Assembly approved May thirteenth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundrd and nine, entitled "An Act creating a commission to be known as the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission; authorizing the Governor to appoint nine members thereof and fill vacancies that may occur therein; the commission to consider and arrange for observance of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg; to invite the co-operation of the Congress of the United States, and of other States; and report to next session of General Assembly; and making an appropriation for the payment of expenses of said commission," and June fourteenth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An Act making an appropriation to the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, to further carry out the provisions of the act of Assembly, approved May thirteenth, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine, creating said Commission and defining the duty thereof," respectively creating said Commission and defining the duty thereof and making preliminary appropriation therefor.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The title as amended was then agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to, as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL PLACED ON THE CALENDAR.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 938, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight of an act entitled "An Act to restrain and regulate the sale of vinous and spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixtures thereof" approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven as amended by section one of an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one be placed on the Calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Shall the bill be placed upon the Calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire an explanation from the sponsor of this bill as to why it should be placed upon the Calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill was sent to the wrong Committee. It is a bill that affects the police pension fund of the City of Philadelphia, and does not affect any other part of the State. I believe that most of the members from Philadelphia are in favor of the bill and I only ask it to be placed upon the Calendar because I thought it was sent to the wrong committee.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill be placed upon the Calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee?

Eighty-nine members, or more than the number required by the rule, having voted in the affirmative, the bill was placed on the Calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

Mr. NEWBAKER asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Caldwell for the balance of the week.

Mr. BECKER asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Donahue for the balance of the week.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, the hour of one o'clock has arrived, and I call for the orders of the day.

The SPEAKER The hour of one o'clock having arrived, this House will now take a recess until three o'clock this afternoon.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 3 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1153, as follows:

An Act for the prevention of blindness by requiring the reporting of cases of ophthalmia neonatorum (inflamation of the eyes of infants) by physicians mid-wives and others prohibiting mid-wives and persons other than physicians from treating such cases and fixing a penalty for violation thereof

Whereas statistics show fully thirty (30) per cent of cases of blindness to be due to inflamation of the eyes appearing a few days after birth and whereas experience has proved that this inflamation can be cured and the eye-sight saved in the majority of cases if the proper treatment be instituted at an early stage of the disease

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every physician practicing in any portion of this Commonwealth who shall treat or examine any infant suffering from ophthalmia neonatorum (inflamation of the eyes of infants) shall if the said case be located in a township of the first class a borough or a city forthwith make a report in writing to the Health Authorities of said township city or borough and if said case shall be located in a township of the second class or a city borough or township of the first class not having a board of health or body acting as such to the State Department of Health upon blanks supplied for that purpose in which report he shall under his or her own signature state the name of the disease and the name age sex color and nativity of the infant suffering therefrom together with the street and house number of the premises in which said infant may be located or otherwise sufficiently designate the same the date of the onset of the disease the name and occupation of the householder in whose family the disease may have occurred together with such information relating to said case as may be required by said health authorities and the State Department of Health

Section 2 That any mid-wife or nurse or other person having the care of an infant whose eyes have become inflamed or swollen or reddened at any time within two weeks after birth shall report the same in writing to the health authorities of the city borough or township of the first class in which the case may be located or if it be located in a township of the second class or a city borough or township of the first class not having a Board of Health or body acting as such the State Department of Health within six hours after the discovery thereof giving the name of the infant the names of the parents or guardians and the street and number of their residence or otherwise sufficiently designate the same together with the fact that such inflamation or swollen or redness exists and shall make a simlar report in writing to some regularly qualified practicing physician of the district

Section 3 That it shall be the duty of the health authority of the State Department of Health immediately upon receipt of a written report from a mid-wife or a nurse or person other than a practicing physician to notify the parents or guardian or other person having charge of the infant of the ranger to the eyes or eye of said infant by reason of any neglect of proper treatment of the same

Section 4 No mid-wife nurse or other person not a physician shall treat or attempt to treat any case of inflamed or swollen or reddened eyes of an infant except the case be in charge of a regularly qualified physician and the treatment be given at his directions

Section 5 Every health officer shall furnish a copy of this act to every person who is known to him to act as a mid-wife or nurse in the city borough or township for which he is health officer and the Commission of Health of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall cause a sufficient number of copies of this act to be printed and supplied to the health officers

Section 6 Any physician mid-wife nurse or other person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding before any Justice of the Peace of Alderman of the county wherein such offense was committed be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty or more than one hundred ($100) dollars to be paid to the use of the said county and the costs of prosecution or to be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than ten (10) or more than thirty (30) days or both at the discretion of the court

Section 7 An "Act for the prevention of blindness imposing a duty upon all mid-wives nurses or other persons having the care of infants and also upon the health officers and fixing penalties for neglect thereof" approved the twenty-sixth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five be and the same is hereby repealed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading

Mr. KAUFMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 3, line 1, by inserting before the word "health" the word "said"; and by striking out in line two the words "authority of" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "authorities of."

Amend Section 4 by striking out the entire section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 4 Every physician in this Commonwealth who shall treat any infant's eyes for ophthalmia neonaterum (inflammation of the eyes of an infant) shall, within forty-eight hours after said physician ceases treatment of, or attendance upon, such case of ophthalmia neonatorum, report to the Commissioner of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that said physician has treated a certain case of ophthalmia neonaterum giving full information as required in Section one of this act, stating that he has ceased treatment of or attendance upon said case, and what was condition of infant's eyes when physician ceased treatment of or attendance upon said case of ophthalmia neonaterum.

Amend the title by striking out the words "prohibiting mid-wives and persons other than physicians from treating such cases" and insert in lieu thereof the words "and requiring the reporting of results of treatment of each case of said disease."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1199, entitled:

An Act to prohibit the clerk of orphans' court from issuing a marriage license to persons of Caucasian and Ethiopian descent who desire to intermarry

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the author of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DOWN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what is an Ethiopian?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, an Ethiopian is a person with negro blood in him.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I further desire to interrogate the gentleman; that is, whether this would include a Senegambian?

Mr. DOWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DOWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask what his interpretation of the word "Senegambian" is.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, a Senegambian is an inhabitant of Senegambia.

Mr. DOWN. Mr. Speaker, his explanation is satisfactory; I understand it perfectly.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman, as to whether this bill would include an inhabitant of Carthaginia, a Carthaginian, or, Mr. Speaker, a Zulu, or an inhabitant of the central parts of Africa or of the Zanzibar Coast?

Mr. DOWN. Mr. Speaker, a Zulu, as I understand it, is one of the negro family, and I would say it would include him.

Mr. S . B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire merely to show the utter absurdity of putting in the law the word "Ethiopian." It has no legal meaning. It is a word of no legal import, and this act allows the orphans' court clerk, merely by his inspection, to refuse somebody a license to get married. In other words, if a man appears before him with the slightest swarthiness of countenance or the slightest curl of his hair, or anything which in itself indicates that in some far back period of his history, perhaps eight or ten or twenty generations back, there might have been some blood in him that might have been called Ethiopian; if that means anything, which I hold it does not, then that marriage license could be refused. Now, there is another absurdity in this bill. I presume that the intention of the author of this bill is to prevent the evil and the disgrace of intermarriage, but there is nothing in the bill which says so. A license to get married is not at all necessary to a valid marriage. It is true that it is a misdemeanor for anybody to officiate at a marriage where there is no license, but the common law marriage, with consent, is still in force in Pennsylvania, and if the people mentioned in this bill desire to get married, there is nothing in this bill which would prevent them for a minute. Not only that, but I desire to oppose this bill on the very broadest possible grounds. The very first words after the preamble in our State Constitution are these: "All men are born equally free and independent, and have certain inherent and indefeasible rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, of acquiring, possessing and protecting property and reputation, and of pursuing their own happiness." Any such discrimination as this is totally opposed to the whole spirit of the Constitution, and should be frowned upon as such.

Mr. DOWN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to make my position clear as regards this bill. I introduced this measure at the request of a considerable number of my constituents, whom I know to be men of intelligence and of advanced thought. At first I looked askance at the proposition, for I realized it was a delicate one to handle, without appearing to give offense to a large class of our citizens. But, after talking the matter over with quite a number of the members of this House, and having this assurance, that the proposed legislation would not be construed to reflect on any person or race, and having looked more carefully into the history of the races, I concluded that the proposed legislation was for the betterment of both and the advancement of mankind.

First of all, I want to say that I believe in the future of the negro race, and have only feelings of friendship towards them. Such men as those great educators, Paul Lawrence Dunbar and Booker T. Washington, have shown us the possibilities of the race. Give them as many generations of civilization and culture, as the Caucasian race has had, and who can say they will not make a place for themselves as high, as honored and as useful, as that occupied by any race in the history of the world? We are proud of the history of the Anglo-Saxon race, proud of the achievements of our race and proud of our race, why should not the Ethiopian be proud of his race? I fully believe the true negro will have that pride in his race and agree with me that the inter-marrying of the races is not for the best of either. But that the future of the colored race can best be worked out by them, distinct from the white, without amalgamation. Instead of marriage between the two races drawing them closer together and doing away with race prejudice it only adds to it. It is a fact that people as a rule have more respect for the negro of pure blood than the one of mixed blood. We need to do everything we can to minimize this prejudice against the negro race, which is the cause of much persecution against them, leading up, sometimes, to a threatened race war. If this legislation will help to abate this prejudice and persecution then I say it is for the benefit of all races, and the betterment of humanity.

It has been claimed that inter-marriage between the two races, has been the cause of a great deal of immorality. As to this I have no definite information, but if the writings of some of the editors or our magazines are true, the prevalence of certain conditions and certain diseases, are almost beyond belief where the two races are accustomed to mingle socially, marry and cohabitate.

Inter-marrying of the races has never proved beneficial. It was against the laws of the ancients, and seems to be against the laws of nature, for whenever we find the amalgamation of the two races, we also find that the results have not been for the betterment of either. Take for instance the Hollanders with the negro of South Africa, the French with the Indian of Louisiana and in Quebec. Who will say that it has bettered the condition of our noble red man to make a half breed of him?

I am not impelled by any prejudice against the Ethiopian race, in defending this bill, but firmly believe it is for the best interests of that race, as well as the Caucasian race, that marital relations should not be permitted. It is only in friendship that I propose this legislation, seeking to do that which is right and for the best interests of mankind in general. It may be said that this is a matter for educational and moral training. Well, so it is, but for two thousand years and more we have had moral and educational training, and yet have had to use prohibitory laws, to enforce those moral and educational trainings which we all agree are for our betterment and our eternal welfare.

Let us approach this matter with our mind and heart free from all prejudice and vote for this measure as our conscience and our best judgment direct.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, so that my vote, if this roll be called, be not misunderstood, I desire to say a word in relation to this bill. It seems to me that the purpose intended to be reached is not reached in the bill that is before us and on consideration at this time. The bill is very brief and simply provides that where two parties appear before the clerk of the orphans' court, desiring to be married, if one is of pure Caucasin descent and the other party is of Ethiopian descent, whether pure or mixed, that if the clerk issue a license then the penalty of this bill comes into play. Then, it does not reach anybody but the clerk of the court. This bill provides, in section 2 of this act, that any person violating the provisions of section 1 of this act by the issuance of a license shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $1,000. Now, to show you that my conclusion is not worng as to whom this penalty affects I simply desire to call the attention of the House to the first section of the bill: "That it shall be unlawful for the clerk of the orphans' court of any county to issue a marriage license to any person or persons, when it shall appear from his observation, or from the affidavits taken before him, or any other duly authorized officer, that one of the parties desiring to be joined in marriage is of pure Caucasian descent and the other party is of Ethiopian descent, whether pure or mixed." There is no penalty, whatever, attached to the people who have intermarried, the races which have been intermarried; nothing of that kind, if he be a pure black and the woman a pure white, nothing to the man if he be a pure white and Caucasian and the woman be Ethiopian; nothing whatever; but the entire penalty attaches to the clerk of the court. It seems to me that this is no way to strike at the root of the evil that is aimed at, and I shall certainly oppose this bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, it strikes me that the entire membership of this House is probably in accord with the purpose that is aimed at in this bill and there seems to be some question as to whether or not the purpose aimed at is to be accomplished by the bill, and under its circumstances it strikes me that it is only fair that the sponsor of the bill and others have the opportunity to look this bill over with a view to amending the bill if it becomes necessary, and for that reason I move that we postpone this bill for the present.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 937, as follows:

An Act to establish a Bureau of Housing for the sanitary inspection and control of tenement boarding and lodging houses defining its powers and duties and providing certain penalties.

Whereas, A very large proportion of our population occupy overcrowded and insanitary tenement boarding and lodging houses and

Whereas, It is from these conditions that we derive much personal and industrial inefficiency inebriety dependence tuberculosis and disease in many forms an appalling infant mortality and preventable deaths at all ages a debased citizenship vice and crime all of which lead to physical and moral degeneracy and an ultimate burden upon society and upon the State and

Whereas, We believe that a clean and healthful habitation for the parents work untold influence on a babe yet unborn and that such babe should be received in a home prepared to welcome such a divine blessing that in infancy and youth it should never know the misery and menace of the "slum" but that its environment should promote the highest type of physical and moral development therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General

Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a Bureau of Housing be established in the State Department of Health with such executive and clerical staff as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act And the Commissioner of Health with the consent of the Governor is hereby authorized to designate such persons prescribe their titles and respective duties and fix their compensation

Section 2 It shall be the duty of said Bureau to investigate the sanitary conditions of tenement lodging and boarding houses and when the same are found in the opinion of said bureau to be a menace to those occupying the same or employed therein or to be overcrowded to condemn the same and to notify the owners or agents thereof in writing setting forth the insanitary or overcrowded conditions thereof and specifying in writing the changes or alterations which shall be made thereto for the purpose of relieving such conditions and further specifying the time within which such changes or alterations shall be completed or overcrowding relieved

A duplicate copy of such notification and service thereof attested by the officer or agent making the same on behalf of the bureau shall immediately after the service thereof be filed in the court of Common Pleas of the county in which such condemned dwelling premises or other building is located and if no appeal be filed within ten days by the owner or agent after service of such notice then an appeal shall be allowed only upon direct order of the court

Section 3 Any appeal from the notification of said bureau through its authorized agents shall set forth the specific facts upon which the appeal is based and upon filing said appeal the court of Common Pleas shall designate three disinterested persons to examine the buildings dwellings and premises and report their conclusions whether the appeal should be dismissed or the order of the bureau enforced or in any way modified Any such finding upon review and hearing by the court shall become final The court shall have the right to fix the compensation of the persons so appointed and such amount shall be paid by the appellant when the findings sustain in whole or in part the notification of said bureau

Upon the expiration of the time designated in the reports to the said court where no appeal is taken or from the final order after appeal the names of those who have failed to comply either with the notice of said bureau or the court's order based upon appeal shall be certified by the officer or agent of said bureau to the district attorney who upon receipt of the same shall cause a prosecution to be at once instituted against such person or persons

Section 4 The officers or agents of this bureau shall have at all times the right of ingress into all premises as aforementioned

Section 5 Any owner or agent of any premises condemned as insanitary or overcrowded who shall neglect to comply with the order of said bureau or with the order of court after appeal and who may continue to rent or use such premises in violation thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined twenty dollars ($20) per day for each day which the premises shall have been used and in default of payment of the same shall be committed to the county jail for such period as the court may direct And there penalties shall apply to the officers of corporations or members of firms either as owners or agents

Section 6 And any owner agent or occupant who interferes with or prevents ingress to any officer or agent of this bureau or to the persons designated by the court for the purposes aforesaid shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every such offense or suffer an imprisonment of not more than sixty days either or both at the discretion of the court

Section 7 The necessary expenses for the salaries of officers and employes and for the operation of this bureau shall be paid from the general appropriation to the Department of Health in the form and manner prescribed for other disbursements

Section 8 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—1.

Keeport,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill 557, file folio 2679, on page 25 of to-day's Calendar, bills on third reading postponed for the present.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 557, as follows:

An Act to classify certain surface lands as auxiliary forest reserves to prescribe the terms and conditions for their continuance in said classification or their withdrawal therefrom and to provide for the expenses attendant thereon

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in order to encourage the growing of such trees now existing or hereafter produced as will at the proper age be suitable for merchantable forest products whether such be of natural reproduction or from seed sown or trees planted out or all combined surface land which may be set apart according to the provisions of this act and exclusively used for growing such trees is hereby constituted a separate and distinct class of land to be known as auxiliary forest reserves

Section 2 When any owner of surface land desires to have such land placed in the class established by section one of this act such owner shall notify the "State Forestry Reservation Commission" of his desire in the manner and form to be prescribed by said Commission Said notice shall contain a description of the land its location boundary area and character and shall state as far as practicable the species character and condition of the trees growing thereon and whether they are of natural reproduction or are from seed sown for the purpose or have been set out on said land or all combined and such other information as the Commission may require If upon receipt and consideration of this notice the Commission shall in its discretion deem the conditions such as to warrant action on its part to determine whether such land should rightfully be placed in the class established by section one of this act it shall cause the same to be examined by some person learned in the practice and principles of forestry and a report made thereon and if upon receipt and consideration of such report it decides that such land should be placed in the class established by section one of this act it shall so declare and certify to the commissioners of the county in which said land is located

Section 3 Upon receipt by the county commissioners of such certificate of the Commission it shall be their duty at once to place said surface land in the class established by section one of this act and keep the same therein until the trees growing thereon shall in the judgment of the Commission become sufficiently large and suitable for merchantable forest products or the land be devoted to other purposes provided however that the certificate of the Comission shall not become operative to place said surface land in the class established by section one of this act until the owner of said surface land has agreed in writing with the Commission to care for the trees growing thereon according to the instructive and directions of the Commission up to such time as such trees become suitable for merchantable forest products and if any such owner at any time fails to care for the trees growing on said land as agreed with the Commission and due proof thereof is made the Commission may remove said surface land from the class established by section one of this act In case of such removal either through failure of the owner to care tor the trees or on his expressed desire for removal before the trees shall have been cut at maturity and tax paid thereon the county commissioners shall on notice from the Commission proceed to recover from said owner for the of the county and township by an appropriate action at law if necessary the difference in the amount of tax which would have been paid by the said owner at the rates established for the years for which recovery is sought and the rate provided for auxiliary forest reserves with costs of suit to be recoverable from the time when such land was placed in the class of auxiliary forest reserves And the Commission shall remove said surface land from the class established by section one of this act at any time that the then owner shall in writing notify the Commission that he desires such removal

Section 4 Whenever trees growing on said surface land have become suitable for merchantable forest products the Commission shall at the request of the owner or on its own motion make an examination of said land and designate for the owner the kind and number of trees most suitable to be cut if in the judgment of the Commission there be any and the cutting and removal of said trees so designated shall be in accordance with the instructions of the Commission

Section 5 If the owner of said surface land faithfully carried out the instructions of the Commission with regard to the removal and marketing of such mature or other trees as may be designated in the instructions of the said Commission and shall immediately replant other trees of valuable species or so protect the young growth that the said land may immediately become covered with young forest growth and does so with the approval of the Commission then such surface land shall remain in the said class established by section one of this act otherwise the Commission shall notify the county commissioners that the said land is not being maintained in accordance with the written agreement of the owner and the instructions of the Commission in which event the county commissioners shall immediately remove said land from the class established by section one of this act All expenses attendant upon the examination of said surface land by the Commission shall be paid out of moneys appropriated for the maintenance of the Department of Forestry in like manner as other expenses for maintenance of said Department are now paid

Section 6 The owner of the said auxiliary forest reserves shall at all times have the right to remove therefrom trees or portions of trees which may be killed by fire thrown or broken by the wind or injured by other natural causes and shall under the direction of the Commission be privileged to make necessary thinnings or removal of undesirable species of trees in order to improve the condition of the remaining trees and under the same direction may be privileged to remove therefrom such timber from time to time as may be necessary and essential for use upon the neighboring cleared lands of the said owner for general farm purposes

Section 7 Any tract of land while remaining in the class of auxiliary forest reserves as above provided may nevertheless be sold or incumbered by or through the owner thereof but no sale or incumbrance whether voluntary under any statutory or judicial proceeding whatsoever whether of any state or of the United States shall effect a discharge of any obligation imposed under this act and said land shall be removed from said class only in accordance with the provisions hereof

Section 8 That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

On the question,

It was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, bills 558 and 559 are companion measures to bill 557 now under consideration, and must stand or fall together. They suggest legislation along new lines and justify I feel taking the time of the House necessary for some explanantion of them. These bills were prepared by Dr. Henry S. Drinker, President of Lehigh University and President of the American Forestry Association, Hon. S. B. Elliott and Dr. J. H. Rothrock, members of the State Forestry Reservation Commission, after a thorough study of the relations of forestry to taxation, and represent their best thought on the subject, which fact alone should inspire the confidence of every member of this House as it did the members of the Senate in passing these same measures on March 12th by a unanimous vote. It would be well for our Commonwealth if we had more students of the conservation of our natural resources willing to give as freely of their time as these men are doing in their effort to help not only the present but future generations. I desire at this time to publicly express my personal appreciation to these students of conservation, for the unselfish work they are doing to the end that our natural resources may be conserved.

There are 8,000,000 acres of stripped lands in Pennsylvania and not under cultivation, of which the State owns practically 1,000,000 acres. These lands are better adapted to the growth of timber than to agricultural products. The bill under consideration is one fo the three proferred to and are known as the auxiliary forest reserve bills, their purpose being to hold out inducements to the owners of these barren or sprout lands to place them, under certain conditions, in charge of our Forestry Commission in a way to encourage the growing of timber. Governor Tener in his messarge to this Legislature strongly recommended legislation of this chaacter, and for which the press of the State commended him.

Bill 557 creates the Auxiliary Forest Reserve and fully sets forth the conditions under which land can be placed therein. The owner of wild land wishing to have the same placed in the reserve will make application to the Commission giving a description of the property when the same will be examined by an expert forester, and if his report is favorable a written agreement will then be entered into between the Commission and the land owner in accordance with the provisions in these bills. If the land has a mineral value that will be assessed separate from the surface. Bill 558 provides for the assessment and taxation of the lands placed in the reserve, the land to be taxed on a valuation of $1.00 per acre, the growing timber to pay no tax until cut when ten per cent. of its market value will be paid to the County Treasurer and by him distributed to the county, township and school district in which the land is located. Bill 559 obligates the State to pay to each township and school district two cents per acre on all lands placed in the reserve, being the same the State pays on the lands it owns. New York and other states have similar laws and are pleased with them.

Fifty years ago, yes less time than that, dense forests of timber were to be found all through the central and northern parts of our State; to-day you can travel through this same country and with but few exceptions you will find no virgin timber. Ten years hence you will be unable to find any trees fit for saw timber in this territory, and unless something is done to encourage the reforesting of these barren lands the time is not far distant when a piece of lumber will be prized as much in Pennsylvania as it is to-day in the timberless foreign countries.

Laws on our statute books embodying the features of these bills can do no harm and may be of ultimate good to the people of Pennsylvania. They are neither mandatory nor confiscatory so far as an individual's rights are concerned; they force no man to place his lands in the proposed auxiliary reserve and appropriate no individual's rights to the State. On the contrary the provisions of the bills are so fairly drawn as to be mutually advantageous to the State and the individual. The farmer who owns a few acres of land better adapted to the growth of timber than agricultural products, or the owner of 1,000 acres of what are known as wild lands. In my opinion there will be no great rush on the part of the owners of the lands such as these bills expect to reach to avail themselves of their provisions, but with such laws a campaign of education will be carried on with a result I believe of many thousands acres of timberless lands being placed in reserve.

These stripped lands since the saw timber was removed, have been cut over for chemical and pulp wood, leaving many of them absolutely barren of timber. There is no market for such lands other than the State which is limited by the appropriations from session to session in its purchases to not exceed 25,000 to 50,000 acres a year, so that for the State to acquire title to all the lands of this character will be slow work, and unless some inducements along the lines of these bills are held out to their owners they will be sold for taxes to the respective counties and will then cease to be carried on the tax books and become non revenue producers to the various townships, a very strong argument for such laws, that their owners will retain them and continue to pay taxes for local purposes.

To assist in the passage of these measures you will, I firmly believe be laying the foundation for the comfort and health of future generations in insuring a supply of timber as well as perpetual supply of water for domestic and commercial purposes and for which action your children, their children and posterity, will point to with pride and satisfaction.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga County.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I will.

Mr. HERMAN. Do I understand the gentleman to say that when this timber was cut down after being taken over by the State that ten per cent of the value of this timber would go back in taxes.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, It would be paid to the county treasurer. Before the timber is taken, an estimate is made of the value, and the owner is to give a bond to the county treasurer of twenty per cent of the value of the timber, the same to be approved by the Court and ten per cent is returned to the county treasurer for distribution to the county, school and township.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, this bill and the other two bills, dovetail into each other. This bill provides that certain lands can be set aside and held and controlled under the advisement and supervision of the Forestry Department. In view of that they shall not be taxed except for a nominal sum, and in lieu of the county or township losing their taxes, the State will pay into the township funds four cents an acre. Now, Mr. Speaker, in the general appropriation bill it calls for a million and a quarter dollars for the Forestry Department for the next two years. The State asked for a dollar an acre or rather the Forestry Department asks it, and the Forestry Department asks for one and a quarter million dollars to take care of less than a million acres of land which it now owns and controls. It asks for $175,000 for Forest Rangers, men who simply supervise and watch for fires in the lands. It asks for $175,000 more for day laborers, and the expense of fighting fires, and for other cases of supervision. It also asks for an appropriation of $200,000 for the purchase of new land. Now, Mr. Speaker, if the State Forestry Department to-day is spending practically a dollar per acre in supervising its own lands, what is the difference between the four cents they are going to pay into the school district and township and the one dollar which it gets for itself. Is there any inducement for any person to put their land under the supervision of the Forestry Department and spend one dollar an acre for looking after them to save four cents an acre. If the land to-day in the townships are taxed only four cents an acre for looking after them, then there must be a large discrepancy between the four cents and the one dollar per acre to look after the land. Somebody must lose somewhere. If they can take care of this land for four cents an acre then somebody must lose it. Who will? Why the country district where the land is located. It is absolutely unfair to ask the country district to lose the taxes and to wait fifty or seventy-five or a hundred years until these lands can become mature timber, and the districts get this tax. You and I and our children will be dead long before this tax comes back to us if it ever does. This bill was drawn up by an expert theorist, who thinks he knows how to grow timber better than All Might God Himself. He says he can draw a bill, and when this bill came here, they didn't want any suggestions whatever. Finally I appeared before the Committee and asked why they didn't require some bond, so they did put that in. But, Mr. Speaker, there is one loop hole in this bill as it is now. The owner of this land can thin it out or the owner can cut down all that is or what he thinks is dead timber. There is no provision in this bill to tax him upon that or to return any of the tax whatsoever. In this thinning out of the land I do not know who would be benefited by this bill except the corporations, certainly not the farmer or anybody else. If it was intended that this tax should be returned when you cut off a railroad tie or a telegraph pole, or cut down the fence post or it was intended when you cut out any pulp wood, or chemical wood, then it would be all right, but the bill says: "matured timber products." Now, Mr. Speaker, you all know that timber in the eyes of the law is saw-log or merchantable timber. Chemical wood and pulp wood and fence posts are not such timber and there would be no return. This land would be cut off little by little and we would never get return from it. One great claim against the hunters' license bill was that men all over the State are going to dam up a little run and fence it off and build their lodges there, and now, under the provisions of this bill, here would not be any tax on it and the poor men would have no place to go except on the boundary lines of the State. The State has been offered four or five million acres of land at from two to three dollars per acre. If the State can buy that land at that price, it certainly ought to do it.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I have the greatest respect for the intelligence of the gentleman from Cameron, and of his knowledge of the lumber business. If he will turn to section four and tell the house what the term merchantable forest products means, he will find he is mistaken in his interpratation of this part of the section. That does not mean saw-logs alone, it means ties, and chemical wood, and anything that has a marketable value, and Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Will the gentleman from Cameron kindly inform the House whether he is not the owner of many thousand acres of land or interested in the ownership of stripped land that could come into auxiliary reserve, in Cameron County?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I have stock in two companies, each of which owns about ten thousand acres of land.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit further interrogation?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, with his knowledge of the provisions of this bill, interested as he is in the ownership of land of this character, I would like to ask the gentleman if the provisions of this bill are sufficiently attractive to him as a land owner to interest him in having that land put into the auxiliary reserve.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. The taxes in our county to-day are based on a valuation of three dollars per acre. Our company would be gald to sell the land at that. The assessed valuation is three dollars per acre and the taxes about twenty mills, or six cents an acre. To-day these lands are paying a tax of six cents per acre. Personally I would not want to go to the Forestry Commission and say if you will relieve me of the six cents an acre tax, I will take care of the land, when the provisions of the bill call for about one dollar per acre for that purpose. It will be no benefit for me to get rid of six cents and have stand one dollar an acre.

Mr. WILLIAMS. How much land does the State own in Cameron County to-day.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I really don't know but I judge about sixty thousand acres.

Mr. WILLIAMS. For the benefit of the gentleman I would state that it is about one hundred thousand acres, and I further desire to ask him if it is not a fact that the lands placed in the proposed reserve based on the assessment of one dollar per acre and the State paying four cents would not pay more taxes to the county, school district and township than the State pays to-day on the land which it now owns in his county?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I do not understand it.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what the State pays on the land in his county to-day?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, it is four cents an acre.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, that is true, and this bill proposes to pay on the same land, not only the four cents, but to assess such lands, at one dollar an acre, so the land in his county going into this auxiliary reserve would pay more under the private ownership, suggested by this bill then the State now pays on its land.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer that question further, if the gentleman will permit me. Under the provisions of your four cents an acre law, the counties do not get any more than four cents an acre, but under the provisions of the law governing this State land whenever the Senate has any income from that land, either from timber, or minerals, or water power, eighty per cent. goes as an endowment fund to the educational boards of the State and to the benefit of the schools. Twenty per cent. is paid to the township direct, and there is no question whatever about that township getting the money back. The State is custodian of that money, and twenty per cent. is paid into the school fund, and that township certainly will get the benefit of the school fund. The other twenty per cent is paid by the State Treasurer direct to the township and there is no question that they will get their money. In the meantime, they get four cents an acre from the State Treasurer right along. There is some question whether they will get any money back at all under this bill.

The SPEAKER. The question now is, shall the bill pass?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, We have had these bills before this House for a number of years and I have not only listened to the arguments for and against these bills but have participated at various times therein. The objection to this proposition, as I see it, is that it places in the hands of the Forestry Commission the power to say what land shall be exempt from taxation and what land shall not. Now it simply comes down to this: If the proper amount of influence is exerted, some man might be placed in a position where he could secure the advantage of this act and not only that but perhaps secure advantage under the pretense of placing so-called forestry lands in this class. I claim that the definition as to what lands shall go into this is indefinite and, after all, the matter is in the hands of the Forestry Commission for their decision. If the sponsors of this bill were anxious to do what the bill purports to do, it seems to me that if we were to grant this power, the wisdom of which is questionable, that it should be placed at least in the hands of the local authorities, the County Commissioners for instance. They are the only body under the present laws and under the Constitution as I understand it, which is authorized to fix taxation on lands, but under the provisions of this bill the local authorities would have absolutely nothing to say about the matter. It is entirely in the hands of this department here in this Capitol to say what lands shall and what shall not be exempt from taxation for the purpose of creating a forestry reserve. It seems to me that the large corporations—the lumber trust for instance—which owns thousands and thousands of acres of land in this State might be favored under the terms of this bill as against the small land owner who would seem to take advantage of the provisions of this act. I believe that the whole principle is wrong. I believe further, and it seems to me, that the bill must be unconstitutional for the reason that you cannot change the classifications of the lands for the purpose of taxation. All lands must be taxed equally and in the same manner. I don't see how you can escape that and for these and other reasons, all of which seem to me equally good, I believe that these bills should be defeated as they have been in the past.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, the question before the House, I think, without any question of doubt whatever is what is the cause of water floods? It has been the deforestation of our lands. I think that the State would be well paid to recover our forests if for no other reason than the prevention of the flood?

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, I think there is one fact that the House has overlooked. I have been living in a forestry community for a long time and I have been working for forestry since 1890. Where the forests have been cleared away the springs have dried up. Our people are getting pure water from the mountains and if the forest did nothing but to furnish pure water the State would be well paid.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the roll be verified

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified. Which was done as follows:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negotive and the bill falls.

Mr. HIBSHMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye" on this bill.

The SPEAKER. On what grounds?

Mr. HIBSHMAN. Mr. Speaker. I was not in the room at the time.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. What are the gentleman's grounds for objection?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I object on the grounds that the gentleman did not answer to his name when his name was called.

Mr. HIBSHMAN. Mr. Speaker, I was not in the room at the time.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I heard his name called and I know it was called.

Mr. LETZKUS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman states that he was not in the room when his name was called.

The SPEAKER. Was the gentleman in the room when his name was called?

Mr. HIBSHMAN. Mr. Speaker, No, sir. I was not in the room.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's vote will be recorded.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to have my vote recorded "aye".

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I object. I challenge that vote.

The SPEAKER. On what grounds does the gentleman challenge the vote?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I challenge the gentleman's vote because he did not vote when his name was called.

The SPEAKER. Did the gentleman neglect to vote when his name was called?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's objection is sustained.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is relieved from deciding the question.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker. I object. I challenge that vote.

The SPEAKER. What are the grounds ror challenging that vote?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman did not answer when his name was called.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman state that he neglected to vote when his name was called?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, no, sir; I didn't hear my name called. I was in the hall but I didn't hear my name called.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's vote will be recorded as voting "aye."

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the action that has just been taken on bill 557, I move that the following bill No. 558 be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The motion has not been seconded.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I would just explain my purpose. The following bill being a companion bill, and having positively no effect with this bill defeated, it seems to me that it would be the proper action to take at this time.

The SPEAKER. The bill is not before the House.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 554 (Senate Bill No. 14), entitled:

An Act to amend the first section of an act approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred one entitled "An Act authorizing and empowering boroughs and incorporated towns to take use and appropriate private property for necessary public buildings and work within the corporate limits of such municipality and providing for the manner of ascertaining determining awarding and paying compensation and damages therefor" as amended by the first section of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled "An Act to amend section one of 'An Act authorizing and empowering boroughs and incorporated towns to take use and appropriate private property for necessary public buildings and works within the corporate limits of such municipality and providing for the manner of ascertaining determining awarding and paying compensation and damages therefor' approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one so as to extend the same to townships of the first class" by extending the act to include townships of the second class

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1083, (Senate Bill No. 160), entitled:

An Act repealing part of section one of an act entitled "An Act relating to the service of certain process in actions at law and the effect thereof and providing who shall be made parties to certain writs" approved July ninth nineteen hundred and one

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, this bill apparently is a repealer of the entire action of the Service Act of 1901, relating to the service of mechanics' liens, or scire facias on mechanics' liens. I have not had an opportunity to thoroughly investigate the effect it would have on the other legislation on the subject, but it would appear to me that if this bill would pass it would absolutely eliminate the method by which scire facias on mechanics' liens are served.

I therefore move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed.

Mr. BROWNLEE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

A division was called for, 95 voting in the affirmative and 10 in the negative.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 562, entitled:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1066, as follows:

An Act providing for the creation of a commission to make a survey for a canal or waterway from the junction of the Ohio and Beaver Rivers in Pennsylvania to Lake Erie at or near the mouth of Indian Creek in the State of Ohio and such appurtenances exclusive of a harbor on Lake Erie as may be deemed necessary or convenient for the purpose and to prepare estimates of the cost of constructing completing and installing the same defining the powers and duties of such commission and making an appropriation to defray its expenses

Section 4 The sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the said commission Said expenses shall be paid on warrants of the Auditor General upon presentation of vouchers duly signed by the chairman of the commission

BILL RECOMMITTED.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as there is an appropriation carried with this bill and the further reason that one word needs amending in the bill, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 610 (Senate Bill No. 47), entitled:

An Act to amend the first section of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of March one thousand eight hundred and twenty entitled "An Act relative to mortgages" by requiring purchase money mortgages to be recorded within fifteen days in order to have priority of lien

BILL RECOMMITTED.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, in looking at this bill I see the title and the body of the bill do not correspond in relation to the number of days. I think perhaps the bill ought to be recommitted to amend it as the easiest way.

I therefore move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 690, entitled:

An Act to confer upon the school board in each public school district of this Commonwealth authority to establish and maintain an auxiliary teachers' board defining the duties of auxiliary teachers and providing for their compensation

BILL POSTPONED.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question shall the bill pass?

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I make a motion to have this bill postponed for the present.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 203, as follows:

An Act requiring that all monies appropriated by the State to the State Highway Department for the improvement of State Highways shall be expended in each county of the State in proportion to the total mileage of unimproved State Highways therein

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioners immediately after any sum of money is appropriated to the State Highway Department for the purpose of repairing improving or constructing the State Highways of the Commonwealth to apportion the same to each county of the Commonwealth in the proportion which the unimproved State Highways of each county bears to the total mileage of the State Highways of the Commonwealth and the State Highway Commissioner shall forthwith furnish to the Board of County Commissioners of each county a statement showing the amount apportioned to each county

Section 2 The State Highway Commissioner shall expend in each county in improving the State Highways therein the full proportionate share of said appropriation to which such county is entitled as ascertained in accordance with the first section of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I think this is a very unjust bill. As I understand the bill in reference to the appropriation from the State to the various counties, it is based on the proportion which the unimproved State Highways of each county bears to the total mileage of the State Highways of the Commonwealth. Allegheny county has almost 500 miles of improved roads that we have paid for without any help from the State and as I understand this bill we would only get an appropriation in the proportion that our unimproved highways bear to the total unimproved highways in the State. I may be misinformed, but that is the way I understand it.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I think that no member of the House who undertakes to study the effect of this bill will charge that it is unfair in any particular. We know that the State Highway Department has become one of the big institutions of the State. We know that there is a very strong desire on the part of a considerable number of people to make it a much larger and much sronger institution than it is, and while the people of the State do not want to be deprived of any of the advantages that is to accrue to them by reason of this institution, yet they feel that they are justified in seeing that they are protected in their rights and that the advantages to be accrued shall be equitably distributed over the State in the various counties of the State. At this time we have for consideration the question of a bond issue of fifty million dollars, and I want to say to the gentlemen of this House that while a great many of us may feel that there may be some advantage in a bond issue such as this, yet we feel that the people of the State will never approve of that bond issue unless in some way you safeguard through them an equitable distribution of the money. And I want to warn the gentlemen of the House that if this bill or some bill which has for its purpose the purpose back of this bill, is not passed, that I am afraid that that bond issue to which you aspire will never become a reality and that the people of the State will never second your efforts to secure the bond issue. This bill is really a companion piece to that bond issue, which I believe is absolutely essential for securing for it the popular vote of the people of the State. It is an easy thing for you gentlemen to say that this bill is unjust and unfair. For my part, I spent several weeks working over this question trying to figure out an equitable system and I have tried every system that could be suggested in order to find that fair system and when you start with your figures and work out mathematically the effect of this Act you will find that it is absolutely fair in its application, and if it goes into effect every county of the State will have completed its last mile of the State Highway in the same year. Is it possible that any gentleman in this House will contend that a bill that completes the State Highways in every county of the State in the same year is not a fair and just bill? I ask the members of this House to join in support of this bill, first, because it is meritorious in itself; second, in order that you can commend to the people of this State the bond issue which so many of you want to go to them with some hope that they will ratify your proposition.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, my attention was called to this bill but a few moments ago by my colleague from Allegheny and as I read the bill which is very brief, I quite agree with his interpretation of the measure. It clearly states, at least it is clear to my mind that the distribution of the money which enters into the Highway Department from any source is distributed back to the counties according to the percentage that the unimproved roads, bear to the unimproved roads in the State. Now that being the condition, as imposed by this bill, and I think that is the condition, because the bill reads as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioners immediately after any sum of money is appropriated to the State Highway Department for the purpose of repairing improving or constructing the State Highways of the Commonwealth to apportion the same to each county of the Commonwealth in the proportion which the unimproved State Highways of each county bears to the total mileage of the State Highways of the Commonwealth and the State Highway Commissioner shall forthwith furnish to the Board of County Commissioners of each county a statement showing the amount apportioned to each county

The second section reads as follows:

Section 2 The State Highway Commissioner shall expend in each county in improving the State Highways therein the full proportionate share of said appropriation to which such county is entitled as ascertained in accordance with the first section of this act

Now I take it that this is a basis. In this first place this unimproved roads law is the basis on which the distribution is made, that such of those unimproved roads as the State Highway Department may be working on is to receive the full benefit of that proportion of that percentage. Then we are practically face to face as I stated a moment ago with this condition, and that is in the more prosperous and thickly settled counties of this State which may be smaller in area and where at the county's expense by the distribution of taxes imposed for that purpose the roads have been greatly improved and where practically no unimproved roads remain, that great bulk of money of taxes raised in that community on account of the enterprise and energy which they have expended in years gone by in improving their condition, all that money may be shifted over and plastered over a county that stood still or that has gone back and the roads unimproved to remain such even to this time. Is that fair? Is it just? Is that a fair proposition for one to ask who lives in such a community that at the expense of those who have improved their own front yards and the public highways passing along their property with the taxes coming from them to be passed into the Highway Department to be set forth, if you please, for the purpose of improving the highway which passes in front of his own door. I believe that every member in this House is fair. I believe he is just. I cannot be accused, Mr. Speaker, of speaking for that great Commonwealth of Allegheny. I cannot be accused of that because of the fact that I do not live in the City of Pittsburgh where perhaps ninety per cent. of the taxes are paid that have made the roads in Allegheny County, seventy per cent. I am told. I can state it as anywhere between seventy per cent. and ninety per cent., but will say seventy per cent. But not only the taxes raised in the city, but the taxes raised in the county, and the people have been burdened with those taxes for that very reason, have been used to improve the roads in Allegheny County, but the same percentage of taxes is still set aside into the Highway Department of this great Commonwealth from that County as was set aside originally. Now the money that we pay in we get no returns from because of the fact that we have improved our own conditions locally and at our own expense. The same thing applies in our case because it is home. The same thing applies in all counties which show a progressive spirit to improve conditions and to improve their highways and get it up to or in advance of the time. If we go into the interior counties, perhaps along the northern border of this State, we find counties, broad, extensive counties, very sparcely settled in which there are many many unimproved highways, miles and miles of them. Why you take certain counties in the northern tier of the State, and you find an area two, three and four times the area of two or three or more counties in the southern section of the State where the population made be much greater and the conditions much better. Every mile of that unimproved highway becomes a factor in the amount of taxes which shall be distributed by the Highway Department into those unimproved conditions and those unimproved counties. Where does the money come from? From those sections which have improved their conditions and made them such as they are to-day. It isn't right. It isn't fair, and there can be no one, I think, deny that statement. It would not be fair on the other hand and I would be so grouchy, Mr. Speaker, so narrow as to say that this division or distribution of the funds which pass into the Highway Department should be in proportion with amount of taxes paid. I think because of the fact that in many sections of this State, notably in the northern sections of the State, that property has depreciated in value, especially those lands which were originally timber lands, and which have been robbed or stripped of their source of revenue, the timber. They have depreciated in their taxable value, and in their actual value, and in their worth, but the roads laid out there years and years ago, and left in an unimproved condition and would come under the head of unimproved highways, stand there to this day. It is hardly fair, each section of this Commonwealth has an interest in every other section, it would be hardly fair to ask the people so widely separated as they are to make these improvements out of the little mite of taxes that they pay, in fact, it could not be done. Every section of the State is interested in the advancement of every other section of the State to a certain degree, but to a certain degree only, and when, Mr. Speaker, that degree is set so high as it is in this bill, I think and believe that the principle is absolutely wrong, and much as I regret to do so, shall have to vote in opposition to this bill at this time in this manner.

Mr. E. G. M. KUHNS. Mr. Speaker, I am somewhat scared to get into opposition with the gentleman from Allegheny, especially when I consider the kind of a student that he is, but reading the bill, it seems to me that I learned enough of the English language that I cannot help but disagree because the bill is plain in its title and plain enough in its first section that this money is to be distributed according to the miles of unimproved State highway. Now, how many miles of State highway do they have in the County of Allegheny? I appreciate the fact that their roads are improved, and if these roads are as good as they tell us, and this bill does not become a law, what are their chances of getting some of the fifty million dollar loan if it passes? these roads that they have improved are not improved State highways, but are improved county roads, and they are having their roads established there just the same as in all other counties, and I cannot see or understand for a moment why they are opposed to a bill like this which will give them their proportionate share of the loan if it comes to pass.

Mr. McDERMOTT. I am sorry to see the gentleman from Allegheny take sides against us people who live in the rural districts. Now I look to the City of Pittsburgh, as I look to the great City of Philadelphia, and their great wealth, to be fair in this case, as we do in most every case in the State where it is a question of finance; we look to those two great centers to help the people of the rural districts. I have no fault to find with the honorable gentleman from Allegheny or any other gentleman who differs with me, but to be fair on the question, we want to appeal to you. It is like the Good Man. Don't we expect him to help those who are not good, and don't we expect the rich man to help the poor man? This is a parallel case that we have here and we expect the people of Allegheny and Philadelphia to help us people in the rural districts. If you don't, I say, God help us.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I think there is some misunderstanding about this bill, and especially, I think the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Allen, does not quite get the meaning, if I understood him right in his remarks. He tells us that the money is to be divided in proportion to all of the roads of this Commonwealth. That is not the meaning or the wording of this act. It says: "repairing, improving or constructing the State highways of the Commonwealth, to apportion the same to each county of the Commonwealth, in the proportion which the unimproved State highways of each county bears to the total mileage of the State highways of the Commonwealth." Now those State highways in the various counties were laid down under the Sproul Act of 1911, and they are distributed all over the State. Allegheny County has already improved very many miles of its own road, and I frankly admit that in the construction of new State highways that Allegheny County wont get so much of a proportion of the funds as other counties, still those improved State highways in Allegheny County have been taken over by the State to a great extent and will be maintained by the State, but the construction work in Allegheny County wont be so large as it will be in counties where these improvements have not been made. It was supposed that in the original Sproul Bill that this provision was incorporated, and that under the provisions of the original Sproul Bill that the work should be done by the Highway Department in all of the counties of the State, that the money should be expended at one the same time, and that the work would be going on in all of the counties of the State. We found that the wording of that section is not such as to strictly define that and the Highway Department has nothing to prevent it, if they saw fit, from building a boulevard from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia and expending all of this money for that purpose. I do not say that there is that intention and I do not believe there is any on the part of the Highway Department to do that act, but the purpose of this act is to prevent absolutely any such proposition as that and to make certain the distribution of the money, so that every county shall have some work going on in that county in proportion to the miles of Sproul road already laid down in that county, or to be laid down hereafter. I am not sure, Mr. Speaker, that the distribution as provided for in this bill is absolutely equitable. It is a very large proposition, and it is possible that some other scheme of distribution may be worked out which will be more equitable than the one in this bill, but I feel very certain that for the benefit of the road legislation of State wide importance that some such provision as is contained in this act, or something similar should be put on the statute books to guarantee to the people of the State that their counties shall be fairly dealt with by the Highway Department, and that work shall be in the course of construction in all of these counties. and that I think was the feeling of the public roads committee when it reported out this bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, If I understand this bill correctly its requirements are that the Highway Department shall spend the same amount of money in each and every county considering the ratio in the number of miles in that county. I would like to ask the gentleman from Susquehanna if that is correct? I repeat, if I understand this bill correctly it provides that the State Highway Department shall apportion it to each and every county alike, the amount of money based on the mileage of the County. Is that correct?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, on the mileage of the county, Yes, sir.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, in my judgment if the object of the framers of this bill had that proposition in mind, it seems to me that they have drafted the bill in a very imperfect way and it will be very impractical when it comes to be worked out. Looking at it from a practical standpoint, I realize that some roads when they approach large business centers, necessarily require construction of a different character from those that are in more sparsely settled communities. In other words, the construction of a road approaching a city like Philadelphia, Reading or Harrisburg or Pittsburgh would mean that the approach would have to be wider and deeper owing to the heavy travel that would necessarily come upon it. When that falls on a county that could not construct in that proportion and would not carry out the principle of your highway construction. Let us deal with the question as it comes in the sparsely constructed portions of your State. Some roads requiring no grading whatever for construction while in other sections of the State the greatest expense will be in the grading of the road. When you put this proposition on the statute books, to my mind, you will shackle the highway department and defeat the very object you try to remedy.

We should try to protect the Highway Department and get them to expend this money wisely and according to their best judgment. Here you place upon the statute books an act that would prevent the discretion and prevent the practical building of the roads in the distribution of this money. I think we can sefely leave it to the wisdom of that department. I think it would be the greatest kind of a mistake to pass a bill of this character. I am just as much in favor of a proper division of this road money as any one else. I am just as much in favor that the county should have this money as early as possible and receive their share of the money for this construction and if the bill could be constructed along a line that would not, to use our country expression, "ham-string" the proposition, I would vote for it, but it appears to me in its present condition, speaking in the farmer's parlance, that it would "ham-string the administration." I don't think that the parties or the Committee which presented this measure to the House, reported it out carefully or considered the practical side of the proposition, as it is presented in this bill. I think it would be a mistake to pass this bill.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to advocate anything against any legislation in favor of good roads. No man in this House is any more favorable to good roads than I am. It does seem to me, though, that this appropriation is worthy of some consideration. It should be considered [illegible] that it does not require fifty million dollars to expend in a certain period of years, that they should say how much each year. That is my understanding of the matter. If that is the fact, that each of the sixty-seven counties of this State shall get a proportion in one year will there not be a possibility that they will have partly completed roads in some of the counties of this State. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Humes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. HUMES, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if the State Highway Department, having the privilege at the present time of using this money wherever they thought it of the most advantage, how much money would be used in that way and when would the other roads, if not complete, get their money to complete those roads.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, that is just the thing that we are trying to get away from.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I don't believe that the bill is a good bill in its present shape. If it be in order, I move it be postponed for the present.

(The motion was not seconded).

Mr. FREY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Humes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. FREY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Humes, what he means by an unimproved highway?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, there are know what is called the State Highways and these State highways are improved in accordance with the provisions of the Sproul Act. They are unimproved.

Mr. FREY. Mr. Speaker, I further ask the gentleman whether he would consider a well kept turnpike, which is included in the Sproul Act as an improved State Highway?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that in any of the State Highways provided for by the Sproul Bill, which had been permanently improved by the Highway Department or taken over by them under the Sproul Bill after its permanent improvement, would be improved highway. Were it not permanently improved, it would be an unimproved highway.

Mr. FREY. Mr. Speaker, there is no member in this House more in favor of an equitable distribution of the money that is being paid to the State Highways among the various counties and I wish to say that under the Sproul Act in many counties, almost a hundred, or more than a hundred of the roads under the Sproul Act, are turnpikes in good condition. If they are now construed as improved State highways, I wish to state that our county would certainly include a large portion of the share coming to us. I think the act is very crudely drawn and very poorly expressed and in order to give everybody who chooses to do so an opportunity to amend the bill, I move that it be postponed for the present.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. FREY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The question is, shall the bill pass?

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the object aimed at in this bill provides some definite method of distribution and that it is a step in the proper direction and will undoubtedly meet some of the objections that are raised. I do believe that the points raised against this bill are absolutely right. The bill in Committee was considered and some of these defects were realized and considered by certain members and in order to get the bill moving, it was reported out and certain members argued that it could be studied out and that it would be a good bill and I have given it some study and I touched on this last night in the Committee on Roads meeting but we didn't agree. I do believe that this bill as it is now drawn will not accomplish what the framers have in mind. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I make the motion that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUMES and Mr. METZENBACHER and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I voted to recommit this bill to the Public Roads Committee, not because I am opposed to the bill, but in hopes that there might be some amendment made to it that might be of some benefit, but to the best of my judgment I believe the bill is a good one. Under the Sproul Highway Bill, or law, the county seats of the entire state are connected by this highway. They are continuous north and south, east and west, throughout the State. The people who travel throughout the State, many of them with automobiles, travel extensively throughout the entire length and breadth of the State. Many people, even by driving, go through several counties, therefore, the principle should not be limited to counties in the sense of the public benefits or the traveling public, and inasmuch as this bill provides that the money appropriated should be distributed throughout the State according to the mileage of each county, there is no other method which would benefit the great matage; therefore, we should pass this bill so as to prevent tage; therefore, we should pass this bill so as to prevent the use of the money of the State for any particular territory of the State, and let it be expended so as to benefit the great majority of the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say a word in reply to the gentleman from Delaware. The gentleman infers, or rather alleges, that no very serious consideration was given to this proposition before this bill was drafted. I want to assure him and assure the House that very serious consideration was given to this proposition, and among the objections raised was the objection that the gentleman from Delaware raised, that it might work an injustice by reason of the fact that the cost of improving in different localities would vary. In order to escape that, during the original drafting of the bill we based distribution upon the unimproved State highways, so that the objection of the gentleman from Delaware would avail him nothing. I want to point out the fallacy of that argument. If you have two counties, the mileage of each being just the same, and it only costs $20,000 a mile to build a road in one county, and $30,000 a mile to build a road in the other county, the first year the county where the construction is the cheapest will naturally get more miles of State Highway, but the next year that county will have less miles of unimproved highway, and consequently would not get as large a proportion of the State appropriation, and the county where the cost is more will have a chance to catch up and equalize in the subsequent appropriation.

Now, Gentlemen, there have been criticisms offered to this bill. I think there is not one of the gentlemen who have criticised this bill but that I went to him during the last month or six weeks, asking him for suggestions for improvements. It was the principle that I was contending for, not the wording of this bill. I sought improvements from every source. I went to the members of the Road Committee and said to them, "If you can find a better scheme for the distribution, amend the bill so as to cover the improvements that you suggest," and they all came back and said, that, after studying the matter over and working it out in figures, they could find no better method. I talked with the Chief Engineer of the Highway Department, and he thought that it probably was not an equitable basis of distribution. I told him I was not wedded to this particular method, and that I would welcome any suggestions from him, and that, if he would offer any, I would ask the Road Committee to incorporate it in the bill. He came afterward and said that after going over the matter he could not suggest anything that was any better. So I say that in the effort to pick flaws in this bill, on the theory that a man is for the principle but against the wording of the bill, that it is nothing more than an excuse to escape and keep away from the purpose that lies back of the bill. No better scheme has been suggested. I think that I voice the sentiments of every friend of this bill when I say that when it goes to the Senate, if they can suggest an amendment that will work an improvement, we will be glad to have them incorporate it in the bill. We only want what is right, and if they can improve on it, we will welcome their suggestions for improvement.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to have a great deal to say, but as I see the proposition it is just about this: In Allegheny County, as has been said, the County had already improved a major part of its roads. These roads, some of which have been taken over by the State since in an improved condition, leave but a very small portion of the State highways unimproved. Now, in many counties, there are several hundred miles, perhaps, of unimproved State highways. The allowance apportioned by the Road Department each year will be divided, under this act, according to the miles of unimproved roads. Perhaps Allegheny County will have, say, twenty miles of unimproved roads, so they will receive in proportion about one-tenth of what is necessary to improve those twenty miles. In other words, they will simply improve two miles of the twenty miles of unimproved roads in the county. In other larger counties, they will improve, perhaps, two hundred miles. You can readily see that will work an injustice to Allegheny County, inasmuch as they have already paid for the major part of the improvement of the State highways, and we would be compelled to wait from year to year for the improvement, perhaps, of the remaining twenty miles at the rate of about two miles a year, which is an unfair proposition as I see it.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Gans, Newton, Showalter, Latshaw, Thomas, Becker, Mannion, Zimmerman, Cochran, McDermott, North, Neel, Wildman, Lenker, H. B. Dunn, McKay, Redfield, Ira E. Shaffer, Hemminger, and others.

VOL. 2. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1913. No. 43.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, April 3, 1913.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer:

O, God, we thank Thee for the teaching of Thy word, so clear, so explicit, so adapted to every condition of human experience. We thank Thee that this word has received the endorsemnt of such multitudes of earnest and faithful men of preceding generations, who have tested it and tried it and proved it to be true, and especially of the One perfect Man who lived and labored and suffered and died, to give emphasis to it. We thank Thee that there is that within us which responds to this word; that we know it to be true because it searches us and finds us and compels our assent. There is no excuse for us in going astray when we have this word. Deliver us from willful wandering. Let us reverence the word and respond to its teaching. Let us make it our advisor, our counsellor, our infallible guide.

We ask this in the name of Him who has taugh us to say: Our Father, who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever, Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on motion of Mr. Arthur, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

If a false oath shall be made by any person to such application the one so swearing shall be guilty of the crime of perjury and shall be punished as such

Section 9 It shall be the duty of each applicant to fill up the blank as provided as aforesaid by the Auditor General and return the same to the mercantile appraiser of the proper county within ten days from the receipt thereof with an affidavit certifying as to the correctness thereof

In any applicant fails or refuses to make the statement required by this act to the mercantile appraiser when requested so to do it shall be the duty of the mercantile appraiser to assess him or it with the license tax as provided by this act

A certified copy of the said assessment shall be forwarded to the said applicant which assessment when so made shall be final and conclusive and without appeal and the applicant so assessed shall not be permitted in any manner to appeal and recover said assessment or deny the correctness thereof

Section 10 The mercantile appraiser or his duly authorized deputy shall have the right to visit such places of amusement building tent or enclosure and require the person liable for the payment of the license to make said statement under oath or affirmation for the purpose of assessing the amount of said license for such place of amusement building tent or enclosure

If the mercantile appraiser is dissatisfied with the statement so made he shall ascertain and assess said license fee according to such sum as in his best judgment he believes to be correct

He shall also leave a written or printed notice to be prepared by the Auditor General specifying the amount of the license money to be paid by such person to the Commonwealth and also when and where an appeal will be held as required by law

Any person so liable for the payment of the license as herein provided who is dissatisfied with the assessment so made shall have the right to appeal to the mercantile appraisers and city or county treasurer in all counties except where there is a board of mercantile appraisers in which case the board shall hear all appeals

If the person so liable to the payment of the license as aforesaid is still dissatisfied with the finding of the mercantile appraiser and city or county treasurer or board of mercantile appraisers he they or it shall have the right to appeal to the court of Common Pleas of the proper county within ten days which appeal shall set forth the date and amount of said assessment the date of the decision of the appeal to the board and the facts in detail relied upon to obtain a reversal of said decision The applicant shall within five days after taking an appeal serve upon the city or county treasurer of the Mercantile Appraiser or Board of Mercantile Appraisers notice of said appeal including the court term and number of the case in which the appeal is taken On failure to comply with any of the provisions of this act in whole or part said appeal shal upon motion be stricken off The burden of proof of said appeal shall be upon the appellant

If any person fails to attend said appeal before the Mercantile Appraisers or city or county treasurer or Board of Mercantile Appraisers he shall not thereafter be permitted in a suit for the recovery of said license to set up a defence either that he is not subject to the payment of the license fee so assessed against him or any other ground of defence which might have been heard and determined either by the said Mercantile Appraiser or city or county treasurer or Board of Mercantile Appraisers or Court of Common Pleas on appeal as aforesaid

Section 11 It shall be the duty of every city or county treasurer to sue for the recovery of all licenses duly returned to him by the Mercantile Appraisers if not paid on or before the first day of July of each and every year within thirty days after that date provided however if said city or county treasurer is satisfied that such license fees cannot be collected he shall make report to the Auditor General of all facts connected with the case and the Auditor General upon investigation may exonerate him from the payment of said taxes and in such cases suit shall not be brought

Section 12 If for any reason the license aforesaid is not paid on or before the first day of July on each and every year a penalty of ten per centum of the amount of said taxes shall be added and collected by the city or county treasurer as aforesaid

Where suit is brought for the recovery of such license fees for which the party shall be liable it shall be the duty of the city or county treasurer to collect in addition to said license fee assessed against such person a penalty of fifty per centum of the license fee so assessed

The city or county treasurer shall at the expiration of each month forward to the State Treasurer the amount of said license fees collected by him including the said penalties as aforesaid

Section 13 It shall be the duty of every Mercantile Appraiser or Board of Mercantile Appraisers in counties where such board exists on or before the first day of May of each year to certify to the city or county treasurer the correct list of all persons assessed giving the names and business address of the persons liable to the payment of the license fees as herein provided and the amount of license due by each This list shall be kept by the city or county treasurer in collecting said license fees If appeals have been made and exonerations made a corrected list shall be certified by the city or county treasurer to the Auditor General on or before the first day of January of each and every year

Section 14 The rate of commission allowed city or county treasurers for their services in collecting fees as aforesaid shall be the same as in the case of mercantile license

Section 15 If upon the presentation of proof satisfactory to the city or county treasurer of the cities boroughs or townships) after hearing all parties under oath or affirmation which he is hereby empowered to administer it shall be proven that the exhibition performances or contests given under any license issued are in violation of the provisions of this act or any other act of Assembly or ordinance of such city borough or township he shall have full power to vacate annual and render void and of no effect the license or licenses which shall have been obtained under the provisions of this act and the city or county treasurer of the cities (boroughs or townships) shall have full power to prevent any exhibition performance entertainment or contest from being held exhibited or performed until the provisions of this act have been fully complied with

Section 16 The Department of Public Safety of the cities of the first class or the proper municipal officers of the cities of the second and third class boroughs or townships shall have full power to inquire into any immortal tendencies or any other matters or things unlawful or hurtful to the public at large that may be charged in writing as being the purpose of such exhibition performance entertainment or contest and shall further if said charges are proven (after notice to all the parties in interest) to be true forbid such exhibitions performances entertainments or contests and for that purpose shall have full power to direct the proper officers to close the said places of amusement buildings or building tents or enclosures in which said exhibitions performances entertainments or contests are intended to be held and prevent the entrance therein of any person or persons except the owner or owners or lessee or lessees of said place of amusement buildings or building tents or enclosures

Section 17 Any person or persons owner or owners lessee or lessees of any such places of amusement buildings tents or enclosures who shall feel aggrieved at the act of the city or county treasurer of the director of public safety of cities of the first class or proper municipal officers of cities of the second and third class boroughs or townships in granting the certificate or certificates as herein provided or refusing to grant a license or in revoking any license so issued or in forbidding any exhibition performance or entertainment or closing any such place of amusement buildings tents or enclosures shall have the right to appeal in writing to the court of Common Pleas of the county wherein any such places of amusement buildings tents or enclosures are situated which said court shall within ten days after said appeal is taken and filed hear and determine the same as to the said court may seem just and right and for that purpose shall have full and ample power if upon a reversal of the proceedings to direct what the city or county treasurer or director of public safety of cities of the first class or the proper municipal officers of cities of the second and third class or boroughs and townships shall do and perform in the premises

Section 18 The license fees herein provided for shall be in lieu of all license fees heretofore required by law to be paid to the use of the Commonwealth but this act shall not exempt any such places of amusement buildings tents or enclosures from the payment of such license fee as may be lawfully imposed on it by any city borough or township of this Commonwealth

Section 19 The act of May fifth one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An Act to create a Bureau of Building Inspection and to regulate the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings and party walls in cities of the first class and the amendment or supplement thereto of June fifth one thousand nine hundred and one shall be held not to apply to places of amusement buildings tents or enclosures which have been erected constructed or altered and now in actual use a moving picture place where songs dances acrobatic or vaudeville acts (whether stage scenery and apparatus are employed or not) are exhibited in addition thereto for the purpose of compelling the owner or lessee thereof to erect alter or construct said building as a theatre if the same has been built altered or constructed in accordance with the laws and ordinances regulating the erection construction or alteration thereof as a "moving picture place"

Section 20 If any owner or owners or lessee or lessees of any such building tent or enclosure shall hold or allow to be held in any place of amusement building tent or enclosure any such exhibition performance entertainment or contest as herein provided in any city borough or township of this Commonwealth without first having had and obtained a license as aforesaid he or they so offending shall in addition to the payment of the license fee and the penalty assessed be liable to indictment and upon conviction thereof shall pay for each such offence a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor greater than five hundred dollars at the discretion of the court trying the said offence and all such fines shall be paid into the treasury of the county where such conviction shall take place for the use of the Commonwealth

Section 21 If any person liable to the payment of the license fee as herein provided shall open any such building tent or enclosure between the calendar year commencing May first of each year they shall be permitted to pay a proportionate part or share of the said license fees for which they may be liable from the date of the opening thereof until the end of the said license year to wit May first of each year

And that such license when granted shall not be transferred to any person or any other building tent or enclosure during the year for which it is granted except that it may be transferred to the lawful representatives of any deceased license or purchaser at any insolvent or bankrupt sale for the remainder of the term of any calendar year

Section 22 This act shall not apply to any exhibition or performance given by any agriculture or zoological societies duly chartered under the laws of this Commonwealth or any exhibition of the products of arts or handicraft given by any society or association having charge of the same or shall it apply to any single or occasional exhibition performance or contest given by any church or charitable association society public or private schools or any institution of learning

Section 23 The act of Assembly approved June twenty-fourth one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five entitled "An Act to provide for the licensing of buildings and other places in which theatrical operatic or of circus performances are held menageries or museums are exhibited and fixing the price to be paid for such license and providing for the licensing of circuses and menageries exhibiting in tents and enclosures "of like character" as amended by the act approved May twenty-third one thousand nine hundred and seven and as further amended by the act approved May eleventh one thousand nine hundred and eleven together with any other amendments thereof or thereto and any supplements thereof or thereto and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act or any of the provisions thereof are hereby repealed except as to pending cases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments:

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 15, line 5, by striking out the words "and of every county and city."

and by striking out in lines 36 and 37 the words "or of any county or city."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

The sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first sections of the bill were read and agreed to as follows:

Section 16 Every position in the competitive class unless filled by promotion transfer reinstatement or reduction shall be filled only in the following manner The appointing officer shall notify the Civil Service Commission of any vacancy in the service which he deems it necessary to fill and shall request the certification of eligibles The Commission shall forthwith certify from the appropriate eligible list the names of the three persons thereon who received the highest averages at examinations held under the provisions of this act If no appropriate eligible list containing three or more eligible names exists the Commission shall proceed at once to hold an examination and to secure an eligible list as promptly as possible The appointing officer shall upon the receipt of the eligible list from the Commission and with sole reference to the relative merit and fitness of the candidates make an appointment from the three names so certified Provided however that should he make objection to the Civil Service Commission as to one or more of these persons for any of the reasons stated in Section twelve of this act and should such objection be sustained by the Commission the Commission shall thereupon strike the name of such person from the eligible list and certify the next highest name for each person stricken off

As each subsequent vacancy occurs in the same or a similar position precisely the same procedure shall be followed Provided however that after any name has been three times rejected by any one appointing officer for the same or a similar position in favor of other name or names on the eligible list the said name shall not again be certified to that appointing officer When there are a number of positions of the same kind to be filled at the same time each appointment must nevertheless be made separately and in accordance with the foregoing provisions

When an appointment is made under the provisions of this section it shall be in the first instance for the probationary period fixed by the rules as provided in Section 10

The provisions of this Section (16) shall not apply in making appointments to competitive positions which are specially excepted from competitive examinations under the authority conferred in Section 17

The Commission shall post in a public place in its office the eligible list containing the names and grades of those who have passed examinations for positions in the competitive class and shall promptly indicate thereon such appointments as may be made from said lists

Section 17 Positions in the competitive class may be filled without competition only as follows

1 Whenever there are urgent reasons for filling a vacancy in any position in the competitive class and there is no list of persons containing one or more names eligible for appointment after a competitive examination the appointing officer may nominate a person to the Civil Service Commission for non-competitive examination and if such nominee shall after appropriate non-competitive examination be certified by the said Civil Service Commission as qualified he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination If however there is an existing eligible list containing one or two names the appointing officer if he is unwilling to make a regular appointment and if he desires to make a provisional appointment must make such a provisional appointment from such list No provisional appointment shall continue for a longer period than four months and successive provisional appointments shall not be made to the same position nor shall the term of any provisional appointment be extended for any cause whatever A provisional appointee who has been appointed from among the three highest names on an existing eligible list may however be permanently appointed at any time within the four months unless a new eligible list has in the meantime been furnished the appointing officer When an eligible list has been furnished by the said Commission to the appointing officer any provisional appointment made as provided in this section must be terminated within two weeks from the date on which such list was furnished The occupancy of a provisional appointment shall not be referred to by any applicant in any competitive examination held while he is occupying his provisional appointment or within six months from the termination of his provisional appointment nor shall it be given a rating under experience or otherwise in any examination

2 When the services to be rendered are of a temporary character and will last for a limited period not to exceed six months the appointing officer may advise the Commission stating the duration of such period the rate of compensation and other conditions of employment and may thereupon select for such temporary employment one of the first three persons on the appropriate eligible list who has expressed a willingness to accept a temporary appointment Successive temporary appointments shall not be made under this clause nor shall any person be eligible to temporary appointment if he has served under either a temporary or a provisional appointment in the same office or department within the previous six months

The acceptance or refusal by an eligible of a provisional or temporary appointment shall not affect his standing on the register for permanent employment nor shall the period of temporary service be counted as a part of the probationary service in case of subsequent appointment from an eligible list The acceptance of a provisional or temporary appointment shall not confer upon the eligible any of the rights of promotion transfer or reinstatement

Section 18 Vacancies in a position in the competitive class shall be filled so far as practicable by promotion from among persons holding positions in a lower grade in the department office or institution in which the vacancy exists Promotions shall be based upon merit to be ascertained by competitive examination and upon the superior qualifications of the person promoted as shown by his previous service and experience From such tests eligible lists shall be prepared by the Commission from which appointments shall be made in the manner hereinbefore provided in the case of original appointments All positions so far as practicable shall be arranged by the Commission in grades based upon the compensation paid For the purposes of this section an increase in compensation of any person holding a position in the competitive class beyond the limit fixed for the grade in which such position is classified shall be deemed a promotion No promotion shall be made to a position in the competitive class from a position in another class except after such competitive examination and certification as is provided for original entrance to the competitive class No person except as above provided shall be promoted to a position for original entrance to which there is required by this Act or the rules adopted pursuant thereto an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position held by such person

Section 19 No transfer shall be made from a position in one class to a position in another class unless the same be specifically authorized by the Civil Service Commission nor shall a person be transferred to a position for the original entrance to which there is required by this Act or the rules adopted pursuant thereto an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position held by such person If any position in the non-competitive class or exempt classes is later classified as being in the competitive class the person holding such a position must pass an examination equivalent to that required for such or a similar position in the competitive class or if he fails to pass he must be removed from such position

Section 20 The non-competitive class shall include only those positions which are not in the exempt class or the labor class and for which the Civil Service Commission has determined after a careful investigation and a public hearing held in the manner provided in Section twenty-eight of this act that suitable persons possessing the requisite qualifications cannot be obtained by means of competitive examinations Appointments to positions in the non-competitive class shall be made after such non-competitive examination as is prescribed by the regulations of the Civil Service Commission and may be made from among those who have successfully passed the examination without reference to their relative standing The said Commission shall state in its annual report the number of persons in the Civil Service of the Commonwealth and in the service of each county and city who come within this class and the character of their services and the reasons for placing their positions in the said class

Section 21 The labor class shall include ordinary unskilled laborers Vacancies in the labor class shall be filled in the same general manner prescribed in Section sixteen by appointment from the highest three names on the eligible list of applicants in their respective localities established by the Civil Service Commission Priority in standing upon such lists shall be made to depend as far as practicable upon the relative capacity ability and fitness of the applicants and shall be determined in a manner be prescribed in the rules adopted by the Civil Service Commission The said Commission shall require an applicant for the labor service before he can be placed upon an eligible list to furnish such evidence or to pass such examinations as they deem proper with respect to his age residence physical condition capacity for labor sobriety industry and experience in the kind of work for which he applies The said Commission may establish separate labor lists for various localities institutions and departments Where the labor service of any institution or department extends to separate localities the said Commission may provide separate eligible lists for each district or locality.

The twenty-second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 22 No officer clerk or employe in the competitive class or in the non-competitive class of the classified Civil Service of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of any county or city who shall have been appointed under the provisions of this act except those appointed without competitive examination temporarily or provisionally in the manner provided in Section seventeen shall be removed discharged or reduced in pay or position except for a just cause Further no other officer clerk or employe shall be removed discharged or reduced except as provided in Section 10 of this act until he shall have been furnished with a written statement furnishing such specific reasons as if true would constitute a just cause for such action and until he shall have been allowed a reasonable time in which to give the removing officer such written answer as the person sought to be removed or reduced may desire Upon the receipt and consideration of such answer the removing officer shall finally determine his action in the case and if he has followed the procedure required by this section no appeal to the Civil Service Commission shall lie from his decision unless it is alleged with an offer of proof supported by affidavit that the real reason for the removal was religious or political If such allegations are made the Commission may investigate the removal and if in its judgment the allegations are true it may order the reinstatement of the person removed No appeal to any Court shall lie from any decision of the said Commission in such cases In every case of removal or reduction a copy of the statement of reasons therefor and of the written answer thereto shall be furnished to the Civil Service Commission and entered upon its records Provided however that upon the written request of the person so removed or reduced the cause of such removal or reduction shall not be made public by the said Commission Nothing in this act shall limit the power of any officer to suspend a subordinate for a reasonable period not exceeding thirty days Provided however that successive suspensions shall not be allowed except in special cases where the permission of the Commission has first been obtained and for reasons of public policy which shall appear upon its records If any or all of the provisions of this section are for any reason invalid all the other provisions of this act shall nevertheless remain in full force and effect as if this section had not been inserted

At the first meeting of the board and at each annual meeting in August an organization shall be effected by the election from its membership of a president a secretary and a treasurer who shall hold office for the period of ten years or until their successors are chosen

The sixth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 6 For the purpose of examining applicants for license the board of optometric examiners shall hold two stated meetings in each year due notice of which shall be made public at such times and places as the board may determine At said meetings a majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum thereof but the examination may be conducted by a committee of one or more members of the board of examiners duly authorized by said board but no certificate to practice shall be granted on an affirmative vote of less than three Said examinations shall be conducted in writing in accordance with such rules and regulations as the State Board of Optometric Eaminers shall fix formulate and adopt for that purpose and may be supplemented by practical examinations After each such examination the committee having charge thereof shall without unnecessary delay act upon the same An official report of such action signed by each acting member of said committee of examiners stating the examination average of each candidate in each branch the general average and the result of the examination whether successful or unsuccessful shall be transmitted to the said State Board of Optometric Examiners Said reports shall embrace all the examination papers questions and answers thereto and such written reports as result from the practical tests as hereinbefore specified All such examination papers and reports shall be kept for reference and inspection for a period of not less than five years The board shall keep a record of its proceedings and a register of applicants for certificates giving the name and location of a duly registered optometrist under whom the applicant studied or the name and location of the institution granting the applicant the degrees of doctor of or diplomat in optometry the date of his or her diploma and also whether the applicant was rejected or granted a certificate and the number of the certificate granted The record and register shall be prima facie evidence of all matters recorded therein

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 6, line 29, by striking out the last word "the" by striking out all of lines 30 and 31 and the first three words "jected or granted" of line 32; making lines 29 to 34 read as follows: "Name and location of the institution granting the applicant a certificate and the number of the certificate granted. The record and register shall be prima facie evidence of all matters recorded therein."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the provision of the bill and that which the gentleman seeks to amend by his proposed amendment is clearly out of harmony with the intention of the bill. The intention of the bill is simply that part, to keep a record as is defined in that section, to keep a record of these schools that may grant the titles or from which these people have graduated and the complete provision is covered by the bill. I very seriously object to the amendment as it takes away the principal purpose for which that section is provided.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The seventh and eight sections of the bill were read and agreed to as follows:

Section 7 All fees provided for in this act shall be paid in advance to the treasurer of the board to be held by him as a fund for the use of the State Board of Optometric Eaxminers The compensation and expenses of the members and officers of said board and all expenses proper and necessary in the opinion of said board to discharge its duties under and to enforce the law shall be paid out of such fund upon warrant of the president and secretary of said board and no expenses shall be created to exceed the income of fees and fines as herein provided. The salaries shall be fixed by the board but shall not exceed ten dollars per day of actual service per member and railroad and hotel expenses An account of all moneys received and disbursed by said board pursuant to this act shall be included in an annual report to be made to the Governor which report shall be taken from a record to be kept by the secretary of all the proceedings of the said board and of its committees which shall be a part of the records of said board and the same shall at all times be open to public inspection and shall be prima facie evidence of all matters recorded therein

Section 8 Any person who is engaged in the practice of optometry in this State at the time of the approval of the act may deliver to the secretary of the board of opometric examiners on or before the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred fourteen a written application for a certificate to practice optometry together with satisfactory proof that the applicant is not less than twenty-one years of age is of good moray character and that he or she has been engaged in the practice of optometry in this State for more than two years next prior to the passage of this act and upon the payment by the applicant of a fee of five dollars the secretary of the said board of optometric examiners shall issue to such applicant a certificate of exemption from such eamination which certificate shall be registered and entitled and authorize such applicant to practice optometry in this State and which certificate of exemption shall be subscribed by every member of the Board of Optometric Examiners Provided That any person entitled to apply for such certificate of exemption who fails to make such written application as herein set forth shall be deemed to have waived his or her right to such certificate

Every certificate to practice optometry issued under the provisions of this act shall be signed by each member of the Board of Examiners and shall have affixed to it by the person authorized to affix the same the seal of the State Board of Optometric Examiners Before such certificate shall be issued it shall be numbered and recorded in a book to be kept by the secretary of the Board of Examiners and the number of such certificate and the number of the book and the page therein containing such recorded copy shall be noted upon the face of said certificate A photograph of the person registered under said certificate shall be filed with the record and a duplicate thereof affixed to the certificate In all legal proceedings the record the photograph so kept in custody of the Board of Examiners or certified copies thereof shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated Said records shall under proper restrictions for their safe-keeping be open to public inspection

The ninth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 9 From and after the approval of this act any person not therefore authorized to practice optometry in this State and desirous of entering upon such practice may deliver to the secretary of the State Board of Optometric Examiners upon the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars a written application for certificate together with satisfactory proof that the applicant is more than twenty-one years of age is of good moral character has a preliminary education equivalent to at least two years in a registered high school and has also studied at least three years in a registered optometrist's office or has graduated from a school of optometry maintaing a standard satisfactory to the said Board of Examiners Such proof shall be made if required on affidavit Upon the making of said payment and proof the State Board of Optometric Examiners if satisfied with the same shall admit said applicant to examination as to his other qualifications for the practice of optometry which examination shall be conducted in accordance with such rules and regulations as the said Board of Examiners shall fix formulate and adopt for that purpose On receiving from the committe of examiners delegated to conduct examinations as provided for in Section six of this act official report of the examination of any applicant for certificate the said State Board of Optometric Examiners shall issue forthwith to each applicant who shall have obtained a general average of not less than seventy-five per centum and therefore has been returned as having successfully passed said examination and who shall have been adjudged by the said Board of Examiners to be duly qualified to practice optometry a certificate to practice optometry in the State of Pennsylvania as provided for in Section eleven of this act In case of failure at any such examination the candidate after the expiration of six months and within two years shall have the privilege of a second examination Having failed upon a second examination as herein provided application anew may be made upon conforming with the standard of qualification both as to character preliminary and optometric education in force at the time of said application and upon payment of a fee of twenty dollars

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the follow- amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 9, line 2, strike out "therefore" and insert "hereinbefore."

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.
The section as amended was then agreed to.

The tenth and eleventh sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 10 Applicants examined and holding certificates of the State Boards of Aptometric Examiners of other States on the payment of a fee of twenty dollars to the State Board of Optometric Examiners and filing in the office of the State Board of Optometric Examiners a copy of such certificate certified by the affidavit of the president or secretary of such board showing also that the standard of requirements adopted by said Board of Examiners is substanially the same as is provided in Section nine of this act may without further examination receive a certificate conferring on the holder thereof of all the rights and privileges provided by Section eleven of this act

Section 11 The certificate of registration or exemption provided for in this act shall authorize the holder thereof to practice optometry as defined by Section one of this act

The twelfth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 12 From and after the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and fourteen no person shall enter upon or continue the practice of optometry in the State of Pennsylvania unless he or she has complied with the provisions of this act and shall have exhibited to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county in which he or she desires to practice optometry a certificate duly granted to him or her as hereinbefore provided whereupon he or she shall be entitled upon the payment of fifty cents to be duly registered in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the said county and every person holding such certificate and registered as aforesaid and practicing optometry shall display his or her certificate of registration or exemption in a conspicuous place in the principal office wherein he or she practiced optometry and whenever required shall exhibit such certificate to said Board of Examiners or its authorized representative And whenever practicing said profession of optometry outside of or away from his or her principal office or place of business he or she shall deliver to each customer or person so fitted with glasses a bill of purchase which shall contain his or her signature home postoffice address and the number of his or her certificate of registration or exemption together with a specification of the lenses furnished and the price charged therefor and any person who shall practice or attempt to practice optometry as defined by this act or who shall use any of the terms or letters—optometrist optometry doctor doctor of optometry diplomat in optometry or Opt. D. or any other title or letters under such circumstances as to induce belief that the person who uses such terms is engaged in the practice of optometry without having first obtained the certificate herein provided for or contrary to the provisions of this act or who shall under any other term or name practice or attempt to practice optometry as defined by this act or who shall falsely personate a registered optometrist of a like or different name or who shall buy or sell or fraudulently obtain a certificate of registration or exemption issued to another or who shall practice or attempt to practice or offer to practice optometry or make public representation of being qualified to practice optometry without having such certificate as hereinbefore provided for or who for the purpose of obtaining such certificate shall falsely represent himself or herself to be entitled thereto shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in the court of quarter sessions of the county wherein the offence shall have been committed shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars or to undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days for each offence either or both at the discretion of the court Such fines when collected shall be paid to the common school fund of the county in which such conviction may be made Provided however That nothing contained in this act shall be construed as affecting the practice of medicine or the practice of osteopathy nor shall this act apply to person who neither practice no profess to practice optometry who sell spectacles eyeglasses or lenses either on prescription from such physisians or osteopaths or from such duly qualified optometrists or as merchandise from permanently located and established places of business

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 12, line 13, strike out "in."

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendmeint was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 12 by striking out after the word construed in line 51 the words "as affecting the practice of medicine" and insert in lieu thereof the words "To apply in any way to persons licensed to practice medicine in this Commonwealth." Further amend section 12 by striking out in line 56 after the word "Optometrist" the words, "or as merchandise from permanently located" and in line 57 the words "and established places of business" and insert in lieu thereof the words, "and it is further provided that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any person licensed to practice medicine in this Commonwealth from practicing what is defined as the practice of Optometry in Section 1 of this Act, nor to prevent said licensed practitioner of medicine from prescribing, dispensing, fitting or selling spectacles, eyeglasses or lenses.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I most strenously object to this provision, for the reason that it will take the life out of the section. The purpose of the section is fully explained and clearly stated from a reading of the entire section, and not by reading a single line. If this amendment is put in, it takes away the life of the section.

The question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER. No member having voted in the affirmative, the amendment is not agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether, on the adoption of the amendment there was a quorum voting.

The SPEAKER. There was. The Chair will state that when no one votes in the affirmative on an amendment, the amendment is lost, and the question of whether or not there is a quorum voting, does not arise. There is a quorum present, which is evident to the Chair.

The thirteenth section was read as follows:

Section 13 On and after the approval of this act the State Board of Optometric Examiners shall refuse to grant a certificate to an applicant to practice optometry in this State and is empowered to revoke any certificate of registration or exemption granted by it under this act conferring on a person the right to practice optometry upon the presentation to said State board of a court record showing the conviction in due course of law of said person of a crime involving moral turpitude The State Board of Optometrical Examiners upon such evidence and proof shall cause the name of such convicted person to be removed from the record in the office of the prothonotary in the State The State Board of Optometric Examiners may refuse revoke or suspend the right to practice optometry in this State upon any or all of the following reasons to wit The conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude habitual intemperance in the use of ardent spirits or stimulants narcotics or any other substance which impairs intellect and judgment to such an extent as to incapacitate the performance of professional duties or fraud or deceit in the practice of optometry Any person who holds a certificate under this act or who is an applicant for examination for a certificate to practice optometry in this State against whom any of the foregoing charges are preferred for causing the revocation or suspension of certificate or for causing the refusal of the right to be examined for a certificate shall be furnished by the State Board of Optometric Examiners with a copy of the complaint which charges or compalint may be preferred by any person or corporation or by the said board on its own initiative and filed with the secretary of said board The said Board of Examiners when charges are preferred shall designate three of their number as a committee to hear and determine such charges or complaint A time and place for the hearing of said charges or complaint shall be fixed by said committee as soon as convenient and a copy of the charges or complaint together with a notice of the time and place when they will be heard and determined shall be served upon the accused or his or her counsel at least ten days before the date actually fixed for said hearing Where personal service or service upon counsel cannot be effected and such fact is certified on oath by any person duly authorized to make legal service the board shall cause to be published for at least seven times for at least twenty days prior to the hearing in two daily papers in the county in which the accused was last known to reside or practice a notice to the effect that at a definite time and place a hearing will be had for the purpose of hearing charges against the accused upon an application to revoke or suspend his or her certificate At said hearing the accused shall have the right to cross-examine the witnesses against him or her and to produce in his or her defence and to appear personally or by counsel The said committee shall make a written report of its findings and recommendations to be signed by all its members and the same shall be forthwith transmitted to the secretary of said board If the said committee shall unanimously find that said charges or any of them are sustained and shall unanimously recommend that the certificate of the accused be revoked or suspended or his registration be annulled or removed the Board of Examiners may thereupon in their descretion revoke or suspend said certificate or annul said registration or do both If the board shall annul such registration they shall forthwith transmit to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county or counties in which the accused is registered as an optometrist a certificate under the seal of the said board certifying that such registration has been annulled and said prothonotary shall upon receipt of said certificate file the same and forthwith mark said registration "annulled" Any person who shall practice or attempt to practice optometry after his or her registration has been marked "annulled" shall be deemed to have practiced optometry without registration Where the certificate of any person has been revoked or his or her resignation has been annulled as herein provided the board may after the expiration of one year entertain an application for a new certificate in like manner as original applications for certificates are entertained and upon such new application they may in their discretion exempt the applicant from the necessity of undergoing an examination

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to this section.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Section 13, line 12, the phrase "in the State" should be changed to read " of the proper county."

Section 13, line 70, strike out "resignation" and insert "registration."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

The fourteenth section was read as follows:

Section 14 Nothing in this act shall be construed to give any person licensed under the provisions of this act the right to attach to his name as a prefix or suffix the title Doctor Oculist Ophtalmologist Doctor of Opthalmology or any word or abbreviation indicating that he is engaged in the treatment or the diagnosis of disease or injuries of the human eye or to use drugs or medicine in any form for the treatment or examination of the human eye or to use any therapeutic measures or agencies other than glasses for the correction of vision Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to persons licensed to practice medicine or surgery in the State of Pennsylvania

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to this section.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Section 14. Nothing in this act shall be construed to give any person the right to attach to his or her name as a prefix or suffix the titled, M. D. Surgeon, Doctor, Doctress, Physician, Oculist, Opthalmologist, Eye Specialist Eye Sight Specialist, Eye Glass Specialist, Doctor of Ophthalomlogy, Doctor of Refraction, Doctor of Optometry, Doctor of Optics, Diplomat in Optometry, Opt., D., Ophth. On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, these amendments were prepared by a specialist, and were handed to me. This man is familiar with the bill, and I just want the House to know that these amendments were placed in my hands by a man thoroughly competent and one of the best eye specialists in the country. I think they ought to be considered. I do not know anything about the bill myself.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

The section was then agreed to.

The fifteenth section was read as follows:

Section 15 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to this section.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Section 15, Each and every person, firm or corporation that shall violate any of the provisions of Section 14 of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay for the first offense a fine of not more than one hundred ($100) dollars and for each subsequent offense pay a fine of not less than one hundred($100) dollars nor more than three hundred ($300) dollars. Each day's continued violation shall constitute a separate offense.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

This section was then agreed to.

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to be known as Section 16.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Section 16. The Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure of the State of Pennsylvania shall enforce the provisions of Sections 14 and 15 of this act. In case of violation of the provisions of Section 14 of this act, procedure shall be through either the office of the Attorney General of the State of Pennsylvania or special attorney or both at the discretion of the Bureau.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1385, file folio 1497, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.
Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.
Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 68, file folio of the Senate 267, House Bill No. 1330. be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads.
Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?
Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to that bill and I hope the gentleman will not press the motion, at least until the amendment is offered.
Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman can offer his amendment in committee.
Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman can offer his amendment in the House.
Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.
Mr. KITTS. I consent.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded with the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1330 (Senate No. 68), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the improvement of the highways of the Commonwealth

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section four of article nine which reads as follows

"Section 4 No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue repel invasion suppress insurrection defend the State in war or to pay existing debt and the debt created to supply deficiency in revenue shall never exceed in the aggregate at any one time one million of dollars" be amended so as to read as follows

Section 4 No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue repel invasion supress insurrection defend the State in war or to pay existing debt and the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall never exceed in the aggregate at any one time one million dollars Provided however That the General Assembly irrespective of any debt may authorize the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the purpose of improving and rebuilding highways of the Commonwealth

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information. My understanding is that in the printing of this bill there was a mistake and the word "the" was left out. Now, if that be not true, I realize that it is an amendment to the bill and not simply a correction and it might affect the bill in its operation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 22 after the word rebuilding insert the word "the."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Now, Mr. Speaker, my understanding is that in the original bill the word "the" was in the bill. If it was not in the bill as originally printed, this would be an amendment to the proposition and I would not desire to offer the amendment under those circumstances. It is of very vital importance to know whether or not this is a correction or whether or not it is considered an amendment. I consider that it is simply a correction of the language of the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I now move that this bill be recommitted to the Comittee on Public Roads.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, this bill of course cannot be recommitted to the Committee with the idea of amending it, because every member of this House must know that if this bill be amended it will throw the proposition back two years. Certainly the House does not desire to do that and create an item of additional expense of publication amounting to $150,000 to $175,000. If you don't desire this bill to pass this House, when it comes up on its third reading, why, defeat it. There is no reason, whatever, of sending it back to the Committee for amendment. If you gentlemen want the bill defeated, defeat it now. There is nothing to be accomplished by sending it to the Committee, and I hope the House will not send the bill to the Committee. I hope the gentleman's motion will not prevail.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman does not quite understand the position of this bill with reference to having it sent back to the Committee. When the bill was referred by the Chair to the Committee on Public Roads, some of the members of this House desired to have further information, at the same time expressing thoughts of their own upon this question, and requested that a hearing be held. The bill was reported and there never was a hearing. I don't mean by that to criticise the gentleman who was Chairman, because I do not believe in the multiplicity of his duties that the request was impressed upon his memory. Now, we desire to have the bill sent back to the Committee in order that both sides may be fully heard, and have this matter discussed pro and con before the Committee, information given, information acquired that we can't possibly get on the floor of the House.

And then another reason: If this bill go back, the result of this constitutional amendment that is now offered can in no wise be affected if this is going to be the only legislation; can in no wise carry out the desires of those who have advocated a constitutional amendment, because there must be some character of legislation offered, if this constitutional amendment is going to be of any benefit to the present administration in carrying out their present idea as to the development of roads. Now, for us to attempt to rush this constitutional amendment through to third reading in the House, it being a Senate Bill, without knowing what legislation is to follow, what legislation is to be offered, is merely rushing a bill through of such vast importance as this bill without giving it due consideration.

Now, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Speaker, is in no way aiding his legislation by opposing this motion to have the bill recommitted back to the Committee on Public Roads. He cannot possibly help his legislation by opposing a full hearing. We cannot possibly have a full hearing upon the floor of the House. The oratory that we get here is very pregnant with information, but if we are in a committee where we can be met by the gentlemen of the various branches of the Highway Department, who can be questioned and who can give information, when we can have in the committee, without being restricted by parliamentary language or by parliamentary procedure, information, we can come here upon the floor of the House and we can intelligently vote.

Mr. Speaker, the members in their seats can of course oppose this motion now to recommitt this bill back to the Committee on Public Roads, but I can see no logical reason for opposing it. Surely, Mr. Speaker, there is no one in this House that doubts the integrity of that Committee or doubts the sincerity and the integrity of the gentleman who has so well presided as Chairman of that Committee. Session after session he has been honored by membership of that committee, and session after session has carried out his work most completely. Now, sending this bill back to the Committee will delay it, but not more than a week or ten days. We are liable to be her until July if some of the others in the Legislature don't see the proper light, but Mr. Speaker, if we refuse to send this bill back to the Committee, it then means that there is some unseen hand behind it. It means that there is some real haste that does not become apparent. It means that there is something behind this bill that ought to be brought to the surface. Now, I ask, Mr. Speaker, that the motion will prevail ,and that the apparent effort of the gentleman from Delaware who is friendly to this legislation to urge on without proper consideration this vast piece of legislation will not prevail. I therefore ask the members of the House to vote to recommit it.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it is a very common practice, I believe, to state your own position and then make an argument upon it. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia assume the correct position? That is the proposition. Here is a proposition that has been talked about all up and down this State. No one proposition that has been presented to this House is more fully understood, more fully apprehended by the people of this State than that resolution which has been before the people for two years. It does seem to me,—I do not like to be personal—but it does seem to me that the gentleman from Philadelphia is certainly begging the issue. He is certainly not presenting this case to the House as it should be presented. When he says that in opposing this motion to recommit that we have some sinister motive and that we are trying to rush this proposition pell-mell through the House, he says something that is absolutely and unqualifiedly not a true position. There is not a member in this House but what knows that that gentleman's argument on that proposition, from the standpoint that he took, is not a correct one. There is not a member in the House but knows the proposition better than anything else we have voted upon. Now, we are not going to pass this bill to-day; it is only on second reading. The gentleman from Philadelphia infers that there might be a sinister motive back of those who are opposing the proposition to send this bill back to a committee. We might say that there might be a sinister motive back of those who are in favor of sending it to a committee. It cannot—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I submit that as a member on the floor I am exempt from the insults and the insinuations of the gentleman from Delaware, and I call upon the Chair to prevent the gentleman from again referring to my motives as sinister.

The SPEAKER. The Chair did not understand the gentleman from Delaware to suggest that the motives of the gentleman from Philadelphia were sinister.

The gentleman from Delaware will proceed.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the House to the fact that the gentleman from Philadelphia first mentioned this as my legislation. I have no interest in it more than a public citizen, no other interest in the world, except that I believe it is right. Every member in this House knows that I am not connected with any State institution or organization of any character. I only appear here as a citizen. He calls this my legislation to start with. That is certainly a suggestion of sinister motives. Now, if that does not come a great deal nearer touching me, I will leave it to the House to decide. But I do hope the House will forget whether there is any feeling between the gentleman from Philadelphia and myself, for there is not. I want to tell you that there is not. But I do want to tell you members of this House that here is a proposition that there is absolutely no reason to send back to the Committee whatever. If there ever was a proposition submitted to this House that it was not necessary to return to a Committee, it certainly is this proposition that is presented to us now, because we all know about it.

Now, I am not going to take the time of the House. The situation is this: We know what this resolution means and the people know what it means. Now, are you going to postpone it or are you going to proceed here and pass it or defeat it? It is immaterial to me personally which you do, although I sincerely believe the resolution contains features that this Legislature should recognize. I hope you won't send this bill back to the committee.

Now, the gentleman makes the point that we will be here until next July. Whose motion leads to next July? My advice or that of the gentleman from Philadelphia? If it is to go back and out and then recommitted and recommitted, it looks to me as though it would be a July proposition.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. The question, Mr. Speaker, upon this motion, is not alone whether or not we should have this bill recommitted back, for the purposes of a further investigation, not alone the question as to whether or not we should have the full merits of this bill developed; but the question and one of the principal elements of the question here is, whether or not a committee will report out a bill after request has been made for hearing and that request has inadvertently been denied. Now we ask that this bill should go back to the committee. We are on the last day of the week, and the bill can come out next week for the purpose of having a full discussion before that committee. I cannot see, Mr. Speaker, where any legislation is exempt from any such request as that and I therefore ask the gentleman to permit this bill to be recommitted.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the gentleman voted for this resolution in 1911?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that question is germane to the subject. If my friend wants to know for his own personal information, I will say I did, but I have very grave doubts about voting for it at this session.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, as a member of this Committee on Public Roads, I wish to say that when this matter came before the Committee no one ever considered that it was a question of moment or it was a question of change. In other words, although an amendment to the Constitution which had been passed by the previous Legislature, it was a question of form, a question of position. Every man understood it. Now if the gentleman from Philadelphia is sincere in wishing to have this question properly understood, which has been discussed and printed and dwelt upon for two years, he should have moved to postpone for the present. This was a matter of form and the gentleman cannot stand before you and state that you cannot handle that when it comes to the Senate. Now this should be voted down. If he is sincere in wishing this question to be understood before it is passed upon, it should be placed on the postponed calendar instead of proceeding by this peculiar method, and I ask you to vote this down as a member of this committee.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the suggestion that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar for the purpose of discussion upon the question, to my mind seems too extremely illogical. The postponed calendar would in no wise give us an opportunity to have this matter discussed. We are either going to have the question discussed or not and why shou'd there be a mere subterfuge to have it sent to the postponed calendar and have no power to bring before the committee or any body the matter for discussion.

The other proposition, offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland that this bill passed through the Committee on Public Roads as a mere matter of form surely was not a real expression of the action of that committee. Surely he, as a member of the Committee or the Chairman of the Committee nor the other members, will take any position that they passed a resolution which might lead on to the bonding of this State,—a State free from debt,—to the extent of fifty million dollars, as a mere matter of form. If I had no other argument at all to send this bill back to the committee, it would be, Mr. Speaker, the statement of the gentleman from Westmoreland as a member of that committee, that the committee passed this vast piece of legislation as a matter of form; and I therefore ask, Mr. Speaker, that this matter will be referred back to the committee.

Mr. BAYLE. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, I preface the remarks I am going to make by the statement of two things: I am for the bond issue. I believe the State system of highways is working out nobly and magnificently; but, gentlemen, we have another fight to make. There are institutions in our State that are working against this bond issue. The people must vote upon it and while I have prefaced my remarks by this statement, I ask you to duly consider this matter, in order that the people cannot say that everybody did not have a chance to be heard. I care not whether you agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland (Mr. Schuck), or the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. John R. K. Scott), but I do ask this: That when you come to an important measure like this, let me, for one, go back to the Third Assembly District of Erie County and say there was no undue haste. I am again for the bond issue. I am a Republican and I am for this proposition and I therefore ask that it either be postponed, according to the suggestion of the gentleman from Westmoreland, or be recommitted, in order that I may go back to the people of the Third Assembly District of Erie County—and I again repeat it—and say that this Legislature, that we men here, considered these important things carefully and took plenty of time when we came to such great questions.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, I am done.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to say to the House, that you fully appreciate, no doubt, that this is simply whether we will present this question to the people. That is all this resolution means. It simply means, will we allow the people to express themselves on the proposition. It don't mean anything else and there will be ample time from now on to give full opportunity to the people to decide whether or not they like it. The members of the Legislature certainly understand it. The people should have a chance. The only question is whether you are going to send this to the people to pass their approval or disapproval on.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to recommit the bill?

The Speaker declared the Chair in doubt.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. R. J. BALDWIN and Mr. HUMES.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the roll be verified.

This was done as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of this committee, I do not care to vote on this question.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for the privilege of changing my vote from yea to no.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. Any time before the vote is announced the gentleman may have the privilege of changing his vote.

Mr. GLENN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recorded as voting aye.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I merely wanted to know if the gentleman was present when the roll was called.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce to the House that the gentleman's name was missed in the roll call and he will be recorded as voting aye.

Mr. WILTBANK. The hour of one o'clock has arrived, and I now call for the orders of the day.

The SPEAKER. The call for the orders of the day must be made on the exact moment. It is now after one o'clock and the House has waived the orders of the day for the present. The Chair is of the opinion that by extending the session until one-thiry the House will be able to finish the second reading Calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill 1647, as follows:

An Act authorizing and empowering municipalities to establish separate and distinct grades on the same street or highway

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the several municipalities in this Commonwealth shall have power to adopt separate and distinct grades for the sidewalks or foot ways and the road or cart way on the same street

Section 2 All laws or parts of laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1798, entitled:

An Act to amend the fifth section of an act approved the fifth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court the judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of common pleas and the judges of the Orphans' Courts" providing that the annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law in judicial districts having a population of two hundred and fifty thousand and less than five hundred thousand shall be ten thousand dollars

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the fifth section of the act of May fifth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and eighty-two) which reads as follows namely

"Section 5 The annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law in judicial districts having a population of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) and less than five hundred thousand (500,000) shall be eight thousand five hundred dollars ($8,500) in judicial districts having a population of ninety thousand (90,000) and less than two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law shall be seven thousand dollars ($7,000), in judicial districts having a population of less than ninety thousand (90,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law shall be six thousand dollars (6,000) but each of the judges of the court of common pleas of Dauphin County shall receive two thousand dollars ($2,000) additional for trying Commonwealth's civil cases" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Section 5 The annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law in judicial districts having a population of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) and less than five hundred thousand (500,000) shall be ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in judicial districts having a population of ninety thousand (90,000) and less than two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law shall be seven thousand dollars ($7,000) in judicial districts having a population of less than ninety thousand (90,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law shall be six thousand dollars ($6,000) but each of the judges of the court of common pleas of Dauphin County shall receive two thousand dollars ($2,000) additional for trying the Commonwealth's civil cases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Public Roads Committee, I would like to ask the consent of the House for the use of the hall of the House on next Wednesday evening in order that we might consider the $50,000.000 bond issue that has just been referred to the Public Roads Committee.

The SPEAKER. Would not the caucus room be large enough? It may be possible that the House will hold a session next Wednesday evening.

Mr. E. E. JONES. It is the desire of the Committee to have a room large enough to hold all the people who are interested in this proposition and who may appear before the Committee.

The SPEAKER. The meeting can be called, and if the House is not in session, the Hall of the House can be used, otherwise, the meeting can be held in the Senate Chamber or the Caucus Room.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1327, as follows:

An Act regulating the returns by constables of violations of the laws of this Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter in lieu of the return now required by law the constables of the various wards boroughs and townships of this Commonwealth shall make return under oath of violation of the law in their respective baliwicks at such times and subject to such conditions as the court of quarter sessions of the particular county shall fix by rule or standing order

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act as repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1809 (Senate Bill No. 316), as follows:

An Act to provide for the protection and preservation of elk and deer providing a method through which certain lands in the Commonwealth may be closed to hunting for a term of years and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the pasage of this act the Board of Game Commissioners of this Commonwealth shall have the power and authority to close for a term of years to the purposes of hunting elk and deer found in a wild state in any of the territory that may to the residents of that territory appear necessary to the protection of elk and deer placed or found thereon such territory in no instance to be less than one county in area and in no instance to exceed four contiguous counties in any one tract in this Commonwealth

Section 2 That whenever at least two hundred citizens of any county in this Commonwealth shall through written petition certify to the Board of Game Commissioners that in their opinion an absolutely closed season is necessary to insure the better protection and consequent increase of elk and deer found in a wild state in that county in which such citizens may reside and asking that such county be closed to hunting for a period the Board of Game Commissioners shall forward to said petitioners and others a blank form setting forth such questions as they may consider best suited to determine the quantity of game and game conditions in the county in question which said forms with replies to entitle such answers to consideration before said Board of Game Commissioners shall be returned to said board on or before the return day as fixed upon said forms such petitioners shall also publish for at least three consecutive weeks at their own expense in at least two prominent newspapers in the county to be closed the statement that such petition has been filed with its purpose and the return day for information as fixed by the Board of Game Commissioners and shall file with said board duly certified copies of such notices as published in each newspaper on or before said return day If the written answers as returned shall fail to satisfy said Board of Game Commissioners that such closed season is necessary or those opposing such action shall demand a hearing before said board then a hearing shall be had upon such date and at such place within the county to be affected as may be decided upon by the said Board of Game Commissioners the expense of such hearing to be paid by those demanding the same If after the receipt of the written answers or the public hearing or both the Board of Game Commissioners shall be satisfied such closed season is necessary to insure the better protection of elk and deer found in a wild state and its consequent increase they are herewith empowered and directed to declare a closed season not to exceed five years for elk and deer found in a wild state as the investigation may demonstrate is needy in that county or in those several counties not exceeding four in number and adjourning one another that through the separate action of its citizens has been in accord with the requirements of this act

The Board of Game Commissioners to make such closed season effective and binding shall be required to publish annually their decision and action regarding this matter in at least five newspapers if there be that many in each county affected thereby and to have notices of such ruling declaring such county closed to hunting printed upon cloth annually distributed in reasonable numbers throughout the affected territory

Each and every person violating the requirements of such ruling made by the Board of Game Commissions under the requirements of this act shall be liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars for each elk and one hundred dollars for each deer taken killed wounded or attempted to be taken killed or wounded upon said closed territory

Section 3 Each and every magistrate justice of the peace and alderman within this Comomnwealth shall have the power of summary conviction in matters pertaining to violation of any of the provisions of this act All actions for violation of any of the provisions this act except where the defendant is taken in the act of violating the law or in a pursuit immediately following such violation shall be commenced by affidavit made within one year after the date of such violation and any magristrate justice of the peace or alderman in this Commonwealth on complaint made before him by affidavit by one or more persons of a violation of any of the provisions of this act by any person is hereby authorized and required to issue his warrant under his hand and seal directed to any constable police officer game protector or any officer of the Commonwealth whose duty it is to protect the game and wild birds of the Commonwealth and cause such person to be brought before him such magistrate justice of the peace or alderman who shall hear the evidence and determine the guilt or innocence of the person accused and if such person be convicted of the offense charged he shall be sentenced to pay the full penalty prescribed by the section violated together with the costs of prosecution All penalties thus recovered in cases where the prosecutor is a salaried officer of the Commonwealth shall be immediately surrendered by the court receiving the same to the prosecutor who in turn as soon as may be shall forward or deliver such amount in full to the secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg Where any officer of the Commonwealth other than a salaried officer is the prosecutor one-half of any penalty thus collected shall be paid to such prosecutor by the court receiving the same and the remaining one-half shall be as soon as the case is fully determined before him forwarded by such magistrate justice of the peace or alderman to the secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg together with a statement of the cause for which such money shall have been collected the cost of which statement is hereby fixed at fifty cents and made a part of the costs of prosecution and it shall be the duty of said secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners to at least once a month make return of moneys thus collected to the State Treasurer who shall keep the moneys thus collected as a fund separate and apart solely for the purpose of wild bird and game protection and for the purchase and propagation of game under the supervision of the Board of Game Commissioners of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and for the payment of bounties under the provisions of law The several purposes to which the fund so received by the State Treasurer shall be applied to be clearly designated by an act of the Legislature either in the general appropriation act or by separate apropriation for the payment of bounties Any defendant being dissatisfied with the finding of the magistrate justice of the peace or alderman in a trial for a violation of any provision of this act shall be entitled to an appeal under the provisions of section fourteen of article five of the Constitution and the laws of Pennsylvania relating thereto which said court on the conviction of the defendant of such offense and his failure to pay the penalty in full imposed by this act together with the costs of prosecution shall commit such defendant to the common jail of the county for the time as prescribed by this act Provided That any person caught in the act or charged with a violation of any provisions of this act may at his descretion either before or after the bringing of suit sign an acknowledgement of the offense committed and pay to any duly authorized game protector or deputy game protector the penalty in full as fixed by the section violated together with costs if any to date and the receipt which he shall receive therefrom and which in all instances shall bear the imprint of the seal of the Board of Game Commissioners and the signature of its secretary shall be evidence of full satisfaction of the offense committed

Section 4 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And the said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1813 (Senate No. 430, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the nineteenth day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine entitled "An Act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act" as amended by an act approved the eleventh day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to amend sections nine and ten of an act entitled 'An Act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act' approved the nineteenth day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine by providing a final date for the registration of certain practitioners of osteopathy by defining what constitutes a reputable school or college of osteopathy within the meaning of this act and by vesting in the State Board of Osteopathic Examiners authority to determine the reputability of osteopathic schools or colleges and the right to determine reciprocal relations between States"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. CLAYCOMB. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk.

Amend section 1, line 4 by inserting before the word "tenth" the words "ninth and"

Amend section 1, line 4, by striking out the word "section" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "sections"

Amend section 1, line 28, by striking out the word "reads" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "read"

Amend section 1, by inserting after line 28 and before line 29 the following:

"Section 9. QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state is question.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, on page 379, of the pink calendar, I am credited with introducing bill No. 1732, which I did not introduce and wish to be relieved from that grave responsibility. I did, however, introduce the next one, with which I am credited, bill No. 1733.

REASON FOR VOTE.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file my reasons for voting "nay" on bill No. 709, regulating licensing clubs.

Under existing laws the court has power to regulate and control the sale of liquor in clubs, if they are violating the provisions of the Brooks license law. Clubs in Indiana county who violated the law have been closed upon admonition of the court, hence it is within the power of the courts throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to disband disreputable clubs who are violating the Brooks license law. Further that law-abiding social clubs should not be placed upon the same class as retail liquor dealers

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to and (at 1:43 P. M.), the House adjourned until Monday, April 7th, at 8 o'clock P. M.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 2, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 30, entitled "An Act supplementing and amending sections four six seven nine ten eleven twelve seventeen and nineteen of an act entitled 'An Act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof' approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven by providing for affixing the seal of the court to all official papers by increasing the jurisdiction of the court in civil actions to fifteen hundred dollars and extending the jurisdiction to include interpleaders in certain cases and regulating the practice therein by modifying the practice in replevin by extending the time in all civil cases for the date of hearing by changing the time before which process must be served and answer filed by requiring the defendant to answer in all cases and by changing the practice in entry of judgment by default by requiring the appellant in appeals to pay the costs in the county court and give bail for compliance with the final judgment and fixing the final liability for costs in appeals in certain cases providing for an appeal in forma pauperis prescribing under what circumstances appeals shall operate as a supersedeas and requiring notice to the opposite party when appeals are allowed by common pleas court by requiring defendants to plead set-off in amounts not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars changing the time when such set-off must be pleaded and providing for a reply thereto by plaintiff changing the effect of judgment entered by transcript in the office of the prothonotary and giving the county court power to issue writs of execution or attachment execution in certain cases prescribing the practice therein and providing that such execution and attachment shall not be a lien on or used for the sale of real estate by modifying the requirements as to docket entries in certain respects by giving the court power to suspend or exclude attorneys guilty of improper conduct and by making further provisions regarding costs."

JOHN K. TENER.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 34.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 2, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 34, entitled:

"An Act providing that when the judges of any judicial district are absent or incapacitated application may be made to a law judge in an adjoining district and the proper order made or rule or decree issued."

This bill, if it became a law, would enable any litigant, in the event of the judges of any judicial district being temporarily absent from a district, or incapacitated, to require the opposite party to travel outside the district in which he is resident and into an adjoining district, there to appear before the judge of such district locally, on twelve hours' notice, for the purpose of making his answer to any application, motion or petition made as against him there. I think this would be an unwise innovation and departure from the principles of jurisdiction and course of judicial procedure now established.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. McNICHOL. I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GERBERICH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

PRESENTING DISSENTING REPORTS OF MEMBERS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE VACCINATION COMMISSION.

He also laid before the Senate comunication which was read as follows:

The Pennsylvania State Vaccination Commission.
Philadelphia, Pa., April 1, 1913.

Honorable John M. Reynolds,
Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Mr. Dear Sir: I transmit to you herewith, for presentation to the Senate, two copies of my Dissenting Report as a member of the Pennsylvania State Vaccination Commission, which I have duly signed.

My Report is bound together with the Reports of the other dissenting Commissioners—Mr. Lippincott and Mr. Cope.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN PITCAIRN.

COMMUNICATION FROM COMMITTEE OF EMPLOYES TO ADVOCATE THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE PHILADELPHIA NAVY YARD.

He also laid before the Senate communication which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

COMMITTEE OF EMPLOYEES TO ADVOCATE THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE PHILADELPHIA NAVY YARD.

K|B

April 1, 1913.

Dear Sir:—

Our Committee represents six thousand men of the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

We urge that House Bill No. 952, introduced by John R. K. Scott, Esq., of Philadelphia, now in committee, be reported to the House for enactment. Your influence to accomplish this purpose is requested. The reasons for desiring the enactment of this bill are as follows:

(a) The health of the citizens of Philadelphia, visitors to the city, officers, sailors, and marines stationed at the Navy Yard is jeopardized by the continued use of night soil (human excrement) by the truck gardeners.

(b) The use of night soil (human excrement) provides a means for transmitting intestinal diseases by means of uncooked vegetables such as lettuce, salads, radishes, onions, cabbage, etc.

(c) It is estimated that there is about 1,000,000 cubic feet of night soil (human excrement) delivered annually to truck gardeners in Philadelphia and vicinity, and about one-half of this amount is delivered in South Philadelphia.

(d) The night soil (human excrement) contains germs of typhoid, dysentery and other intestinal diseases.

(e) Philadelphia is the only large city in the civilized world which to-day permits the use of night soil (human excrement) for the fertilization of vegetables. This practice is in vogue in the Chinese empire, where cholera and intestinal diseases are prevalent.

(f) Night soil (human excrement) is converted into fertilizer for sale to truck gardeners by the process of decomposition and drying which produces a powder. This powder is sometimes sold in bags. There are about 40 places in Philadelphia where Poudrette pits are maintained for the purpose of preparing this fertilizer. The most of these pits are located in South Philadelphia.

(g) In many cases the night soil (human excrement) when delivered to the truck farms is not properly covered and oftentimes pools of water are formed which provide breeding places for disease bearing flies and mosquitoes.

The practice outlined above of using night soil (human excrement) for the fertilization of vegetables is a menace to the health of the officers, sailors, marines and civilians of the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

(a) If this menace is not speedily removed a recommendation will be made to the Navy Department to withdraw the reserve fleet from the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

(b) Should the reserve fleet be removed from the Navy Yard it will affect the business interests of this city which have to do with the supplying of foodstuffs, clothing, amusements, etc., and will also reduce the number of civilians employed, due to the reduction in work.

In view of the above, the necessity for your co-operation for the enactment of House Bill No. 952 is clearly evident.

Very respectfully,

CLIFFORD T. MOORE,
Secretary.

COMMUNICATION FROM KERSEY GRANGE NO. 628 FAVORING THE PASSAGE OF SENATE BILL NO. 597.

He also laid before the Senate communication which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Agriculture:

Hall of Kersey Grange, No. 628,
Secretary's P. O. Kersey, Pa.

March 29, 1913.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate and House, the Pennsylvania Legislature, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Your petitioners, members of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry, respectfully represent that they and other citizens continue to suffer injustice and hardship by reason of defects in the statute governing the traffic in oleomargarine.

Under existing conditions the great dairy interests of our Commonwealth continue to suffer from unjust competition from the oleomargarine business and the consuming public to be deceived and defrauded. Senate Bill No. 597, presented by the Honorable James W. Endsley, is intended to remedy these conditions, and your petitioners respectfully pray for the passage of this bill by the present Legislature.

Read and adopted at a regular meeting of Kersey Grange, No. 628, Patrons of Husbandry, on the 29th day of March, 1913.

C. E. GREEN,
Master.

Attest: Mrs. HARRY GREEN,
Secretary Grange No. 628, Kersey, Pa.

HOUSE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives which were laid upon the table.

MOTION TO RESUME CONSIDERATION OF BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 231 (House Bill No. 185) on third reading, postponed for the present, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section one Article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, and members of this Senate, I am opposed to the motion of the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman. I stated my reasons, I think, reasonably clear last week. They are substantially the same, but I want to take this opportunity to again protest against the calling up of a bill under these circumstances. The single issue presented to this body by the motion is, whether or not, in violation of every rule of fair play, this bill shall be called from the Calendar by its enemies for the purpose of defeat when certain of the Senators of this body who are in favor of it are so sick that they cannot get from their beds. I claim the courtesy of the Senate because I have introduced a similar bill identical in terms and that bill is now in the committee. Certainly no one who favors woman suffrage or the question of equal rights for women can or will vote for this motion because the purpose is so apparent to everybody in the State of Pennsylvania, not alone to the Senators but to everybody in the State of Pennsylvania, that no one who claims to be in favor of equal suffrage for men and women can vote to support the motion made by the Senator. It is absolutely certain in the mind of every person in this Senate that the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman, is opposed to this question and calls up this bill for the purpose of procuring its defeat upon a snap judgment on Monday night when some Senators are absent and others are sick and when one of our members who favored it was last Saturday laid away. Now certainly no one who is in favor of equal suffrage for men and women can support the Senator's motion. But I shall not discuss the subject of equal suffrage for women. That is not the issue. It is the question of referendum of this question to the voters of this State, and certainly no one who is in favor of or who is pledged to a referendum of important legislative questions to the people of the State can vote in support of the Senator's motion. No one who has claimed in the past the courtesy of this Senate, and no Senator who in the future expects to claim the courtesy of this Senate, can vote to support the motion of the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman. As I said, I am not going to discuss the question of equal suffrage, I will not even discuss the question of the referendum. I will say nothing about fair play. These are not absolutely germane to the motion that is made by the Senator, but I do claim the time of this Senate for a few minutes to discuss the question of party pledges. These are things that are before this body and before the people of this State just now.

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I do not believe this is germane to this question. The question before us is simply this: Shall we proceed to the consideration of this bill, and then a discussion of this bill and the party pledges and the party platforms are before the Senate, and I want a decision on that point of order.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I believe I have made perfectly apparent that the purpose of this motion at this time is inimical to the legislation desired, and I claim that I have the right to discuss the pledges of the members who sit upon my left and the members who sit upon my right as to what their attitude upon this question is.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I insist upon a ruling upon the order raised by the Senator from Berks, Mr. Herbst.

The PRESIDENT. The merits of the bill are clearly not a subject for discussion at this time. As I understand it the Senator disclaims any such purpose.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I do, yes, sir.

The PRESIDENT. Some latitude must be allowed undoubtedly in the assignment of reasons against the motion of the Senator from Dauphin. The Chair would suggest, however, to the Senator from Allegheny that he confine himself as much as possible within the proper limits of the suggest I have already given.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I will endeavor so to do, and I will agree to confine myself at least within five minutes. On May 1st, 1912, the Republican Convention of the State of Pennsylvania assembled at Harrisburg resolved "That we request the next Legislature to give this great question of woman suffrage careful consideration with the view of submitting the proposition to a referendum vote when a reasonable public sentiment demands it." On May 7th the Democratic party pledged itself to provide for an immediate referendum on the question of giving to women the right of suffrage. On July 5th the Keystone party: "We favor the submission to the voters of the State of a constitutional amendment extending the right of suffrage to the women of Pennsylvania." On August 7th: "The Progressive party pledges itself to the task of securing equal suffrage to men and women alike." On January 7, 1913, the Governor of this Commonwealth, elected by the voters of one of the greatest parties represented in this Senate today recommended in his message that appropriate legislation be enacted to the end that the voters may be given an opportunity to decide by the submission to them of the constitutional amendment whether or not women shall have the right of suffrage in Pennsylvania. I claim that any Senator who votes for this motion at this time and is a member of any of the four parties whose platforms I have read is aligning himself against his party, and that is the question I raise and not the question of the right or wrong of any of these matters.

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I again must insist upon my point of order. It is certainly not right that we should be put to the task of answering the arguments before the question is before the Senate. It is not the question whether woman suffrage shall pass here or that an amendment to the Constitution shall pass that is before the Senate. It is merely the calling up of this question and upon the merits of this question we are to argue and nothing else. We will be ready to meet the arguments when the time comes. He has no right to misjudge us.

The PRESIDENT. In the judgment of the Chair some latitude must be allowed in the discussion of the question and the Chair is inclined to think that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, is within the limitation.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, what party he represents.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I was nominated and elected after a very bitter fight at the regular Republican primaries of the Forty Fourth Senatorial District with every organization politician in that District against me. I was nominated and elected fairly and a fair count had of every vote in the District by the voters of that District—one of the best class districts in the State of Pennsylvania, and I came here as the nominee of and elected by Republican voters. I came here and found that I was not to be allowed to represent my district and one-half the time when I did not follow the desire of certain other Senators from certain other districts I was threatened to be read out of the Republican party. I am to-day a better Republican than many who claim that title. I was nominated and elected as I say upon a regular Republican platform. Again I was called upon in the State Convention of May first after a very bitter fight in the State of Pennsylvania to become the candidate and standard bearer of the Republican party in that State and was the unanimous nominee of that Convention for one of the great offices of the State. I attended the National Convention of that party and after the expression of about four million of voters of that party in one way I went to that Convention and public officers of this Commonwealth devoted their entire time to defeating the will of the voters of the Republican party, and the result of that was that when the tally was taken in Pennsylvania, the greatest Republican State in this United States on November 6th, the Republican party who had been accustomed to having a majority of 539,000 had a total of 273,000 votes. Out of seven men who claimed to be Republicans—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is inclined to think that the Senator is more than answering the question.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I will not take up more than one moment of the Senate's time, but it seems to me that these women are entitled to at least a few day's grace, so that they can get here their strength in the Senate to vote on this question. Certainly no man sitting in this room wants to take undue advantage of them and while I am going to vote with them I have not taken any part in this matter, but I hate to see any word on the floor of this Senate except fair play, and I do not think while two or three of the Senators are away sick in bed and one just buried that they are getting fair play if this is forced to a vote. I talked with Senator Sproul today and he said that if he did not get back to vote on any other question he would like to be here to help the women and I agree with him.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, we have since this question has been discussed had our attention directed a number of times to the fact that we are not standing up to party pledges, and for the information of the Senator from Allegheny as well as for the information of this Senate I have in my possession a certified copy of proceedings of the last Republican State Convention and on page 24 of that I find there was introduced by Mr. Drake who was elected from Philadelpjhia, I believe, this resolution:

"Resolved, that the Republican State Convention favor the submission to the voters of the State of a constitutional amendment extending the right of suffrage to the women of Pennsylvania." And, Mr. President, that question was referred to the Committee on Resolutions and on page 37 I find this:

"By Mr. Flinn. Mr. Chairman, the Committee on Resolutions is ready to report. The Committee on Resolutions have instructed me to report the following resolutions: In deference to the ladies we will report the resolution that affects them first." The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

'Whereas, this Convention deems it expedient at this time to commit the Republican party of Pennsylvania to an endorsement of woman suffrage, yet me must recognize the growing general sentiment in its favor, therefore

'Be it Resolved, that we request the next Legislature to give this great question of woman suffrage careful consideration with a view of submitting the proposition to a referendum vote when a reasonable public sentiment demands it.'

Mr. Flinn. Mr. Chairman I ask the adoption of this resolution or do you take them all together?

The Chairman. All together.

Mr. Flinn. The Chairman has said that we will vote on the entire proposition as a whole. The Committee has instructed me to report with a negative recommendation this resolution. The resolution was read by the Secretary as follows :

'Resolved, that the Republican State Convention favors the submission to the voters of the State of a constitutional amendment extending the right of suffrage to the women of Pennsylvania." Further on down in the proceedings I find a member of this Senate, on page 58 of the proceedings:

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Chairman as a member of the Committee on Resolution and as a delegate to this Convention I say that we are here at this time to play fair with the people and let us play fair with the women. This resolution is nothing more nor less than a downright cheat. Let this Convention be either for or against the women. All I want Mr. President, where there is a commitment in the proceedings of the Republican State Convention where they negatived the resolution placing this question squarely before the people as a plank in the platform, when they say by the resolution which was adopted "we deem it inexpedient at this time to declare in favor of woman suffrage and call upon the members of the Legislature when reasonable sentiment demands it. Mr. President, there can be no contradiction but that the last Republican State Convention was absolutely dominated by Mr. Flinn and Mr. Van Valkenberg, one of the proprietors of the Philadelphia North American who now takes occasion to assail every member of the Senate—a man who conducts a newspaper. I respectfully submit, without any desire to be honest with the people of Pennsylvania, because to-day that paper is run under two corporations, one holding the property and machinery and the newspaper itself conducted by a corporation with nominal capital stock. And why, Because, I submit they may have suits for libel and recovery had before a jury, when they can rise up and say you cannot recover, we are not worth the money. They have no desire, Mr. President and members of this Senate, to be honest.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President. I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell will state his point of order.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, my point of order is, not that the North American needs a guardian, but I don't think this is germane to the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thinks that the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I respectfully submit that if Mr. Flinn and Mr. Van Valkenburg had been honest in endeavoring to submit this question to the people of Pennsylvania and not endeavoring to cheat them they would have put in the Republican platform a declaration in favor of woman suffrage, and when we as members of this Senate take the time and give it attention and ascertain what is the sentiment of the people of Pennsylvania and in our senatorial districts, whether it is for or against woman suffrage, and we find that that sentiment is against submitting the question to the people, then it becomes our duty as members of this Senate not to shift or shirk responsibility but to vote as the majority of our constituents want us to vote. And, Mr. President, in casting my vote on this question I wish to say that ninety-five per cent. of the people of my county are against this proposition, and I say it without any fear of successful contradiction. Mr. President, I submit that it is just as fair that we should ask this Senate to pass upon this subject now as it was fair for the Senator from Allegheny at the public hearing upon this question before the Committee on Judiciary General when he stood for some time in the way of postponing action in the committee for a period of one week upon the statement that it was his desire to be absent from the Senate and he wanted quick and hasty action on the resolution in order that he be in his seat to vote in favor of it. If the question of hasty action applied in the committee, why doesn't it apply now? If the Senator from Allegheny was so anxious to have this bill reported from committee then, why doesn't it apply now. If the Senator from Allegheny was so anxious to have this bill reported from committee immediately upon its hearing why was he here last Wednesday and why here tonight asking for postponement when the very reason it appeared upon the Calendar when it did was due to the desire for hasty action on the part of the Senator from Allegheny. I hope, Mr. President and members of this Senate, that this motion will prevail and that we will settle this question once and for all so far as this question goes tonight.

Mr. NULTY. Mr. Pesirdent, I just want to add a word here at this time in behalf of the Democratic convention that was held in the City of Harrisburg. I was one of the men that tried to inject in the platform of the Democratic party the right of suffrage to women. It is a very important question I think, and a question that belongs to the people of Pennsylvania, not to this body of men here, to settle this question. I think it is a question that belongs to the people and I cannot see for the life of me the fear of the entry of women into politics. I have heard arguments here on both sides of the question why women should vote, and I think they have good reason for us to support that right. I have had the arguments on the other side why they should not vote, but I do not think they are good reasons. Now I trust that my Democratic friends here on this side of the Senate will not lend their assistance to the Republican party in trying to prevent this important question from being brought before the people of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, it seems to be the impression, or was at the time of the State convention, of Senator Salus, sitting on my right, he seemed to think the women were not getting fair play. Senator Beidleman seems to think they are not getting fair play now. I hope the Senate will not act in any way whereby the public in the future will think that the Senate did not give them fair play.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, just one word. I would like to know whether the Senate believes that this action is careful consideration with a view to submitting the proposition to a referendum vote when reasonable sentiment demands it. If Mr. Flinn was wrong, I am against him. If Mr. Van Valkenburg was wrong. I am against him. If they were wrong I am against them and if the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman, can substantiate what he says, then let us put Mr. Flinn and Mr. Van Valkenburg in the hole and show the people of the State that this Senate is more fair than they are.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I simply want to ask a question. I voted to postpone this resolution a week ago with the understanding that the matter would be threshed out either today or tomorrow. Now from the drift of the conversation here tonight I think this is going to be postponed indenitely, and if we are going to wait until all the seats of this Senate are filled, I am very much afraid we ought to vote for the motion, for otherwise to my mind it would be postponed indefinitely. They speak of one Senator who, I feel assured, will not be able to fill his seat during the balance of the session and I would like to have a definite time fixed when we are going to take this matter up.

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I think we are all ready to vote on this question, whether to postpone further action or not. The merits of the question are not before us and I think my point of order was well taken. But I agree perfectly with the Senator from Lackawanna. If you want to wait until every seat in the Senate is occupied you might as well postpone it indefinitely, for this session, because I do not believe we will have a more full Senate during any other time at this session of the Legislature, and I therefore hope the question will carry and we will have the question brought up and decided.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I don't see that it makes any difference to this body what the opinion of the Senator from Dauphin County is of Mr. Van Valkenburg or Mr. Flinn. It seems to me the main question before the Senate tonight is whether we are going to commit this important question to the people for their consideration. It is not a question at the present time whether we favor woman suffrage or not. The question is whether we are willing to pass this referendum bill for the popular consideration of the people. We can tonight support the referendum and later if we wish to with all freedom campaign against it when it comes up before the people for their consideration. Gentlemen, I wish to say that this was one of the important progressive issues before the people last fall. It was such a live issue that none of the parties had declared against it. The Democratic party, the Republican party and the Washington party all had it written in their platform in order to win favor with the people. Now Mr. President, this progressive issue I think we must take very seriously. It was more prominent two years ago than it was four years ago; it was more prominent last year than it was two years ago, and it is more prominent today than it ever was. The people have gotten to the place today that they don't care whether it is the Democratic party, whether it is the Republican party or whether it is the Washington party or what other party may be in power, but they do demand that the party of the future that they will support will be of the highest standard of usefulness in securing legislation in the interests of the people everywhere. Mr. President, this being the case every member of this Legislature of the session of 1913 who votes for progressive legislation is aiding his party to be the party of the future and raise its standard of usefulness. This being the case I hope that every man who favors progressive legislation will support this issue here tonight. We can't call ourselves progressives unless we back it up by standing by progressive leigslation. Our people at home will not consider us progressives or the people anywhere in the State. Gentlemen, I want to call your attention, if you will bear with me a minute to the Allentown Convention. We shall not forget that Allentown Convention and we never will. We had a protest against that convention to the extent of several hundred thousand votes for the Keystone party. We came along two years later and we all remember the National Convention held at Chicago. We had a protest before that Convention and the once strong Republican party went down to defeat for the betrayal of the people at that Convention to the extent of only carrying two or three states of the Union. It seems to me it is about time to seriously consider this and pass this progressive measure. I ought to repeat again that this measure is one of the main issues advocated in the last campaign. Let us turn it over to the people and let us follow it up by some more of the progressive measures first of the minimum wage scale, and the child labor bill, and by doing so we will help the people of Pennsylvania and not only that but we will put Pennsylvania among the progressive States of the Nation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Powell and Mr. Heacock and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22.

Beidleman,	Fisher,	Kline	Morgan,

Against.....

The officers holding said elections shall keep tally sheets and make returns of votes in the same manner as tally sheets are kept and returns made in the election of officers and the submission of other questions as now provided by law The said returns shall be filed with the prothonotary of the court of Common Pleas and the said court shall compute the returns and cause the result thereof to be filed in the said court and the said prothonotary shall certify the result to the council of the proper city In case of special elections the said prothonotary shall lay the returns of election before the said court at a meeting or session of the said court to be held on the Tuesday succeeding said election for computation as aforesaid If it shall appear that more persons have voted for said ordinance than against it the ordinance shall take immediate effect the same as if it had been approved by the mayor and there had been no referendum vote thereon If the vote is against said ordinance it shall be lost and of no effect

Before any referendum election is held on any ordinance as hereinbefore provided it shall be the duty of the city clerk to publish or cause to be published a copy of the ordinance which is submitted to a vote of the people one insertion in at least two newspapers published in the respective city and if two newspapers are not published in the city then in two newspapers published in the county if there be such said publication to be not less than five nor more than twenty days before the respective election and a copy of said publication duly verified by affidavit shall be filed by the city clerk in the prothonotary's office of said court with the result of the election as computed and filed by the court"

ARTICLE XXI

Definition and Repeal

Section 1 The term "cities of the third class" shall include only

First All cities of the proper population which have been incorporated under the provisons of an act of Assembly entitled "An act dividing cities of this State into three classes regulating the passage of ordinances providing ior contracts for supplies and work for said cities authorizing the increase of indebtedness and the creation of a sinking fund to redeem the same defining and punishing certain offenses in all of said cities and providing for the incorporation and government of the cities of the third class" approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four which may hereafter be incorporated under the provisions of this act

Second All cities of the proper population which have accepted the provisions of said act of the twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four in the manner prescribed in the fifty-seventh section thereof

Third All other cities of the proper population or any city of less population than ten thousand inhabitants incorporated prior to May 23rd one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four by a special act of Assembly only from and after the date of their acceptance of the provisions of the said act of twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four in the manner prescribed in the fifty-seventh section thereof and any city which has been incorporated under the provisions of the act of May twenty-third one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation and government of cities of the third class"

Section 2 No right or interest which has become vested under acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith or supplied by the provisions hereof shall be destroyed or impaired by the operation of this act or by the exercise of any power granted therein All officers of each of said cities of the third class in office at the date of approval shall except where otherwise herein provided continue to hold their offices for the term for which they were respectively elected but all ordinances of any of said cities heretofore legally passed not inconsistent with such provisions are hereby made valid and shall be and remain in full force and virtue until altered or repealed

Section 3 It shall be the duty of the council of every city of the third class forthwith to pass such ordinances in accordance with the provisions of this act as may be necessary to carry into effect the requirements thereof

Section 4 All acts of Assembly or parts of acts relating to cities of the third class not inconsistent with the provisions of this act shall be and remain in full force and all acts and parts of acts general special or local appertaining to the subject matter covered by this act so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions thereof be and the same are hereby repealed except that nothing in this act shall be interpreted to repeal abridge or in any way effect the provisions of an act approved the twenty-second day of April Anno Domini nineteen hundred and five entitled "An act to preserve the purity of the waters of the State for the protection of the public health"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, before the Senate disposes of this question finally I again desire to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the provisions of this bill. Mr. President, in my opinion this bill is the most radical piece of legislation that has been presented to this body. I know of nowhere where you will find a corporation with a capital ranging anywhere from ten to seventy-five million dollars—fifty millions in the city in which I live—where the transaction of the entire business of that corporation if left to five men at salaries of $2,500 a year. I endeavored to procure amendments to this bill and in offering these amendments surely no one can urge that I had any selfish motives in presenting them. The amendments which I proposed to this bill would have carried over every mayor who is now in office for an additional year, and every city treasurer who is now in office for an additional year, and the men who occupy those positions in the city which I represent are now members of opposite political party faith from me. Mr. President, this bill provides that every third class city of this Commonwealth, and there are twenty-six or more of them in this State—shall do away with its present system of government and you shall wipe out the office of mayor and city treasurer and city assessor and instead you shall elect five men who shall represent each third class city at large and have in their power every piece of business that is suggested for the government of this municipality. It provides that each of these members shall be at the head of a department. It provides that these five men shall pass ordinances. That they shall administer the ordinances that they pass; that they shall elect their city treasurer and their city solicitor, their city assessors, and the members of council shall be the members of the Board of Revision of Taxes; so that you take five men in every third class city in this State and you have these five men passing ordinances, executing the ordinances, assessing the properties, collecting your taxes, and spending the money that they collect without anybody having any curb upon them. I want to ask as a simple, fair proposition to the members of this Senate where this Commonwealth would be if the Senate were not acting as a check on the House and the House as a check on the Senate and the Governor a check on all of us, and yet, Mr. President, by voting this bill into law you wipe out every one of these checks that now exist in the administration of city affairs. It has been suggested by men representing second class cities that it would be well to try the experiment. Mr. President, I respectfully submit if you want to try the experiment, why try it on twenty-six municipalities of the Commonwealth. I want to say that I know there are members of this Senate who have received messages from some trade bodies or civic bodies in their respective municipalities—I know there was offered in one of the bodies of my own city a resolution endorsing this bill, bill No. 13—when the members of that body had never seen the bill and never read a line of it and did not know its provisions. But I respectfully, submit, Mr. President, that if the members and the citizens of the respective municipalities of the third class will devote their time and attention to the provisions of this bill they can reach no other conclusion but that it is vicious legislation that strikes at the foundation of every third class city of the Commonwealth and puts the government of that city, whatever its population may be, whatever its assessed valuation of property may be, in the possession of five men who do not have salaries exceeding $3,000 in the larger third class cities of the State and $2,500 a year in the city which I represent. I do not believe, Mr. President, in the exercise of sound judgment that the members of this Senate will strike down the government of third class cities and put them into the possession of five men, and I respectfully submit that those who know the game of politics well know that when you have the government of a city in the hands of five men, the people who want legislation put through will not seek to interest the five men but they will find out three in favor of their proposition, so that when you read this bill into a law and apply it to the third class cities of Pennsylvania you practically put the government of the cities in the hands of three people and not five, because three are a majority to do business. According to the terms of the bill itself, four members of the five can pass any ordinance that is proposed; it requires no unanimity of action. I respectfully submit, Mr. President, that I vote against this proposition upon the conviction that it is absolutely wrong and if it is enacted into law I predict that the third class cities will be crying out for the repeal of this bill after it has gone too far and the present city governments are stricken down and destroyed. I ask, Mr. President, the earnest consideration of this Senate of this bill, and if they give it that I feel that they will never consent that it shall be written into the law.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I do not know that it is necessary for me to indulge in any forced respiration in the way of explanation or argument on this bill. If the gentleman's statement is reliable that the board of trade of the City of Harrisburg adopted a resolution endorsing this bill and had never read this bill they ought to have some provision of law, a commission form of law or guardianship. This bill started like its predecessor, like the charter under which all the cities of the third class are now operating, which was passed in 1889, and come forth from investigation that was started in much the same way as the investigation which underlie this bill started. They were started by a number of people who were called to intermunicipal conventions and it emanated outside of the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and relates to cities of the third class. So this bill Mr. President, while the gentleman speaks so bitterly against the effects of this bill, this bill has been asked for by twenty out of twenty-three of the cities that form this group and I think, Mr. President that I have the documents here to prove what I say. Let us take the city of Allentown and read briefly this: "Our organization stands ready to support this measure in any way necessary and will even be willing to go to Harrisburg in a body when this bill comes up for action before the Legislature, should this action be thought necessary or advantageous by your committee." That is signed by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Civic bodies in our respective cities are the very heart of our business communities. Civic organizations in Erie and in Altoona and in other cities are composed of the very best citizenship. The City of Allentown, through its councils, passed a resolution endorsing this commission form of government and earnestly prays the coming legislature to enact it into law. The City of Bradford, through its mayor, has expressed itself strongly in favor of this movement not only once but many times. The City of Erie, through its Chamber of Commerce, has considered this proposition many times and it is composed of a membership of over 1400. The board of trade of the City of Erie is composed of a membership of a great many. The Businessmen's Exchange is composed of a membership of some six or seven hundred; our city treasurer, our city mayor and our city councils have expressed themselves in favor of this measure. I have here a letter received giving the opinion of the city council of Reading a few nights ago when they voted in joint session 15 to 6—15 to 5, as I remember it. I have the letter here, asking that the Legislature of Pennsylvania or that the Senate would pass this bill. McKeesport is on record through its various civic societies. I have a communication here from the City of New Castle, where a great deal of opposition to this bill came from and over 85 per cent of the citizenship of New Castle is in favor of this bill. Here is a telegram from the civic bodies of Meadville, Pa., that they are in favor of the bill. Here is a telegram from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., that their organizations there, all of them, are in favor of this particular bill. It is unnecessary for me to continue on this, but I think I am safe in saying that there are many other cities. The City of Chester, through its civic organization, has put itself on record. I want to say that this bill has not been drawn as the result of a day's deliberation. It has been drawn as the result of best thought, as the result of the investigation of this important question. Pennsylvania in her care and nurture of her school system has been a splendid pioneer, and Pennsylvania in her natural development and in her commercial prosperity stands at the head of the country, but in this matter of municipal government so far as the cities of the third class are concerned, she is behind the times. You talk about this bill being a bad bill. I am not pessimistic, I do not believe that if this bill should fall or pass that the pillars of government are going to topple on their faces in the ruins of a tattered constitution. I think that if this bill passes the people of this group of cities will get what they have asked for, not only this year, but have asked for it for many years, have asked for it as earnestly and intelligently as they know how. Mr. President, it is the political instinct and the educational instinct of some nationalities to delberate, and it is the politcal and business instinct of the United States to act. Of course, there are states in the Union that differ in some degree in this matter. We of Pennsylvania have always prided ourselves on being conservative. There was a time when the propositions embodied in this bill were not looked upon favorably. They were considered the dreams of the visionary. They were considered wild and impracticable, but we have deliberated long enough. This plan that has been worked out by the Civic Association has been inactual enforcement in the United States for a period of fifteen years. We find this plan adopted in the State of Washington, we find it in the State of Maine, we find it in the State of Texas, we find it in the State of California, we find it in Massachusetts, Indiana, and Ohio, and we find it in 260 of cities of all kinds with a population of from twelve hundred up to nearly four hundred thousand, and not one city has gone back to the old cumbersome, archaic form of municipal government. And the results have been somewhat remarkable in favor of this form of municipal government. Its growth has been somewhat astounding but it is in the line of executive efficiency that it has been most successful. Taxes have been lowered, improvements have been created and the people have been satisfied. Mr. President, I am trying to echo and trying to express to this Senate what I beleive to be the sentiment of the men who are behind this movement. The gentleman spoke of concentration of power in the hands of five people. There would not be as much concentration of power in the hands of five people who might be elected to run our municipal affairs as there is concentration in the hands of this Senate. If you take the seven million people forming the population of Pennsylvania for which we have fifty members in this Senate making one for about 120,000 people and if you divide any city of the third class by five see what representation you get for one member of Council. It is much similar to the concentration of power and is not nearly as great. We have, Mr. President, about 711 members of Council doing business for these 23 cities not including Lancaster. That is a great number of solons doing business in municipalities and more than double the number that comprise the entire membership of the State Legislature. It is more than the membership of Congress including both the Senate and the House, and it does seem to me that we have thirty-nine members for instance in one municipality in this group and that municipality is Harrisburg and that it is altogether too cumbersome. The serious objection to this bill has come from Dauphin County, and yet Dauphin County is not opposed to it entirely. Members of the Council have informed me this very day that they are in favor of this bill. Some of the best citizenship in this city have acquainted me with the fact that they are in favor of this bill. One of the men who has served this city and served it splendidly and will serve it now I presume and who stands very high in this community, told me not long ago that the City of Harrisburg in 1901 was asleep and contented and dirty, and that it was owing to the awakening of a few people who got together and subscribed some ten thousand dollars and went out through the city on a campaign that was carried into the newspapers and was carried on the streets, workships and into the pulpit finally and the result was the appointment of a commission that has served ever since and in this report of the league of third class cities are statements made by the learned city solicitor who opposed this bill that the functions of the city government of the City of Harrisburg were nothing but legislative; that everything was done through commissions and that is precisely what we are seeking to do here and form a limited number in the way of a commission, where responsibility may be fixed, who can transact this business and when we want something done that we can go to it. Go down on Front Street and see how long they have been putting a pavement on Front Street. Talk with your citizens and find out. They have been doing it since last year and haven't got it done yet. It is not fair to take one city and argue from that city that the form of government is good or bad, but this we may be sure, that this form of government that these men are asking for is a form of government that has been tried and not found wanting. It is not necessary for me to go into the details of this bill. The same measure in large part has been before this Legislature and was presented two years ago and is here now. It has been discussed and has had great publicity and I hope the members of the Senate will feel that they can support this measure.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Erie I desire to say that he is not entirely familiar with the government of the City of Harrisburg. When he speaks about Harrisburg being dead until 1901 when some public spirited citizens raised a fund of $10,000 for the purpose of getting Harrisburg going he does not know what transpired in the elections that followed. It was impossible, Mr. President, after eight o'clock in the morning in the City of Harrisburg at any poll to secure a ballot against the public improvements. The people were in favor of that and they stood in the way of the people and voiced their sentiments against the passage of that proposed loan. The people of Harrisburg are thankful for that proposition, and as I said to the members of this Senate last week, in discussing this proposition, that at the time that we were putting into effect the very proposition which the Senator from Erie proposes by his bill, the matter of referendum, to the people, Harrisburg today would be without any of its street paving. It was because council was obliged to force upon the people of this municipality the paving which we now have, so today councils find themselves unable to raise money fast enough to pay for the paving of intersections of streets that the people are asking to have paved. And when he talks about the paving of Front Street, he has not been properly informed. There has been a discussion as to whether or not the lines are correct and should be permitted to remain where they now are. Harrisburg is entirely satisfied and glad for the method of government which she has, and I simply desire to tell the members of this Senate that with our councils constituted as they are, the city treasurer, the mayor, and the controller, and the assessors elected by the people, and without a single aspersion against the administration of the law in this city in the expenditure of something in the neighborhood of $2,000,000 for public improvements, Harrisburg today is contented and satisfied and rests in the conviction that Senate Bill No. 13, as proposed by my friend from Erie, will strike down our government and put us to the test of something which our people do not desire.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 7th, 1913.

The House met at 8:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. John Elliot Wright, offered the following prayer:

O God, we thank Thee for this great Commonwealth, the praises of which have just been heralded by these children of the schools. We thank Thee that they are trained to regard and reverence the State of their birth or of their adoption. We pray that they may grow up loyal, patriotic, virtuous, order-loving men and women. We thank Thee for the material prosperity of this Commonwealth; for its populous cities and its prosperous towns, and its thriving villages; for its mountains and its rivers; for its mines and manufactories. We thank Thee for the teeming populations of people of every class and condition of life; for the industry and order and activity everywhere manifest. We thank Thee for the work which is done; for the intellectual and moral uplift and improvement of the people. We rejoice in the privilege which is ours of representing them. We play that Thy blessing may be upon Thy servant, the Governor of the Commonwealth, and upon the judges who administer its laws, and upon the legislators who frame and shape the laws; upon Thy servant, the Speaker of this Assembly, and upon all upon whom in any way the ordering of affairs in connection with this work depends. Give to us Thy blessing at the opening of this legislative week, and preside in all its sessions, and Thy name shall have the praise of it, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday's April 3rd, 1913, proceedings, when on motion of Mr. Mather the further reading of the Journal was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The SPEAKER. The title of the bill will be read for the information of the House.

The title of the bill was then read by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the introduction of the bill? The Chair hears no objection and the clerk will receive the bill.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following motion:

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 68, file folio 1793, entitled "A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the improvement of the highways of the Commonwealth," was recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads be reconsidered.

Mr. ROBINSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information. I ask how did the gentlemen vote? the gentleman who made the motion and the gentleman who seconded it.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentlemen vote.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I voted aye.

Mr. ROBINSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted aye.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen both voted aye on the motion to recommit the bill.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this motion is to reconsider the vote by which the Senate bill for the constitutional amendment was referred to the Committee on Public Roads. This bill was referred to the Committee on Public Roads for the purpose of giving a hearing upon the merits of that legislation, and for the purpose of giving information on legislation that might accompany this constitutional amendment. This legislation is of very vast importance. It is legislation which has vast merit to it, because it is legislation for the purpose of establishing good roads in our Commonwealth. It is legislation which will carry with it, the expenditure of a great deal of money. It is legislation to place an indebtedness of fifty million dollars upon a State that tonight stands without a dollar of indebtedness against it. The motion that was successfully carried the other day, was not a motion for the purpose of stifling this legislation, it was rather, Mr. Speaker, a motion for the purpose of getting real light upon this very important bill. When it was referred back to the committee it was referred after the subject had been fully argued. It was referred back after the attention of the House had been called to the fact that the Chairman of the Committee on Public Roads had failed to give a public hearing; and after it had been referred back to the Committee that Chairman, for whom every member of the House has the highest respect, announced from the floor of the House that on next Wednesday night he would give a public hearing upon this legislation. And now, Mr. Speaker, we are met with a motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill was sent to a public hearing. I wonder whether this administration appreciates what this motion means! I wonder whether the great executive of this great Commonwealth appreciates what it means to him tonight to have members of his cabinet lobbying in this House, appealing to members on this floor to vote for this motion, I wonder whether he appreciates that this means a gag! Whether he appreciates that the vote tonight means that you and I, representing our constitutencies, are not entitled to a public hearing upon a bill which aims to give fifty million dollars to one of the Departments of this Commonwealth to expend!

Mr. Speaker, a great error is being made here to-night, not only an error for one who needs in his high office with more than a year's service the respect of the community, not alone an error by an administration drunk with power, but an error by many of the members sitting in their chairs ready to vote to carry this motion. I appreciate, Mr. Speaker, that this motion will more than likely prevail. I appreciate that to-night this House will likely recall this bill not alone from the Committee on Public Roads, but will recall the consideration of this bill from the consideration of the people. I appreciate that the carrying of this motion to-night will not only carry with it the success of the motion, not only carry with it the condemnation of many throughout the Commonwealth against those of us on the floor who allow this character of procedure, but will bring against this legislation many of those who to-night want to support it. Mr. Speaker, this motion means that the bill now before the House, the bill sent to the Committee for consideration, the bill, which, if it becomes successful before this Legislature, and later successful before the people, will mean that fifty millions of dollars will be spent upon our roads. This will be to vote upon on second reading, and in a few more hours on third reading, without one whit of information. Now, what information would the public hearing bring about? This resolution, being a constitutional amendment, give this administration, of course, no power to expend fifty millions of dollars. When we pass the joint resolution in this legislature as did the last legislature, the question then goes before the people next November, and is voted upon either to success or defeat. When the bill is being pressed before this present House, a House that will be out of existence before next November, we haxe the right to know before we vote on the bill what is the purpose of the administration. Is it one of the three courses he has before him to take, to have a special election while this legislature sits, and then come back to this legislature successful before the people, and ask us to pass enabling acts, or is it the purpose of the executive, after this legislature has adjourned and after the people in November have ratified the joint resolution to call an extra session for the purpose of having legislation or is it the purpose that in this legislature, without a special election to have us vote upon legislation which will give this present administration the power to bond the State to the extent of fifty millions of dollars, and its expending during the term of the present administration. None of us know, none of us can tell, we have no information. Now, what did we ask, last Thursday by a successful vote of the House. We asked merely that this bill go back to the Committee on Public Roads, and that we be given the hearing we were promised there, and at that hearing that the chief of the Highway Department would appear before that Committee. We hoped the Attorney General's office would be represented and that we could ask these simple questions, so that those of us either for or against this very important piece of legislation, could come back into this House and vote on second and third reading on this joint resolution intelligently. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there indeed must be something very grave behind this motion. There must be some real reason for the great haste, there must be some reason for the great disappointment that this vote on last Thursday caused and then there must be something most important that compels the administrative powers of this Commonwealth to have this House covered with its friends advocating the carrying of this motion. What is it? Why are we deprived of a simple hearing? Why are we deprived of a simple right to have the farmers, the mechanics, the merchants, the professional men of this Commonwealth come forward and oppose or advocate this great piece of legislation? Why are we stopped from having the few simple questions that we ask answered? Is it that the Highway Department fears to come before a public meeting? Is it that a man who has won his fame throughout all this land as a builder of roads is fearluf to come before the Public Roads Committee and disclose his plan as to legislation, or as to the expenditure of this money? Is it possible that the Attorney General's office fears to come before the Committee to be asked the simple question as to what legislation it offers and whether in its opinion legislation to this Legislature, before the amendment is passed upon by the people, can be constitutional. Is, Mr. Speaker, not the Executive of the State being betrayed by his friends? Are we not in the enthusiasm of our partizanship, in the soreness of our pique, going beyond all bounds, and simply sacrificing the Executive and his aids, are we not simply going headstrong against that which is right, and that which is logical? Why, Mr. Speaker, if the friends of this legislation were its worst enemies, they could take no better course to play into the hands of the other side than this motion to-night. If the gentleman and his second have a desire to kill this legislation, they could do it in no more effective manner. Mr. Speaker, it goes out broadcast at the next November election, with the great contest raging throughout the various counties of this Commonwealth, that the Legislature was gagged, that the Legislature was whipped into line, that the Legislature was not allowed the information that it asked, and was compelled to vote for this measure? Are the people of this great Commonwealth going to submit to that character of treatment? Are we not bringing upon our party, upon our friends a fitting rebuke if we carry out such a course? Mr. Speaker, this motion is ill-advised. This motion has been given birth from a source that is unworthy of us. This motion should not be carried merely because the motion of the other day happened to be successful. The press of many sections of the State, especially in the City from which I came, speaks about the vote of Thursday as being an attach upon the administration. Mr. Speaker, there is no truth in that. There is no one in this House who has more respect for the Governor than the gentleman who made the motion on last Thursday. In many things I do not agree with him, but there is one thing that I do beliece, that the Governor of Pennsylvania is a strong, big, manly, honest man, and I do not believe that he deserves the treatment that his friends are attempting to give him to-night. His worst enemy could not do more against him than is being done by those who advised him in the course this Legislature is taking. We are holding him up to the scorn of this whole Commonwealth if we refuse to have a public hearing forty-eight hours from now on a bill involving fifty millions of dollars of indebtedness upon free Commonwealth. Mr. Speaker, and members of the Huuse, I hope that this motion will not carry. I hope that mere narrow partizanship will not allow you men to go misguided upon this question. Vote down this motion. Let the Chairman of the Public Roads Committee carry out his announced intention of giving a public hearing. Let us hear those who advise fifty millions of dollars of indebtedness. Let us hear from the gentlemen who is Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee what is his course as to legislation on taxation announced by the Commission of which you, Mr. Speaker, were one of the leading members to this Legislature. Before we bond this great Commonwealth for fifty millions of dollars, let us determine that we need to. Let us then find out what is the intention of this adminisration in the way of legislation, or in the way of a special election, or in the way of an extra session. One of there three courses the administration must take if it intends to have a dollar of this money to spend during the incumbency of the president executive and his cabinet. What is the reason of all this haste, this clubbing into line, this gagging? What is the use of it? What is the necessity of it. Is it merely for the purpose of giving a defeat to those of the House who have been independent enough to express a voice that is not in accord with the voice of the executive, must the voice of the people be stiffled merely for the purpose of a victory for a great Commonwealth's executive department against a Legislature. Well then, Mr. Speaker, if that is the purpose, all I have to say is that the prevailing of this motion to-night simply adds one more step on the downard path of the Republican Party from her high position of being the leading Republican state of this Union down again to defeat.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I am exceedingly sorry that I must take issue with my friend from Philadelphia. I have listened to his masterly address with a great deal of interest, as I suppose most of us have, but it does not have much logic in it and I find that there is a great deal more oratory than good sense in what he has said. I am going to say, and no doubt a great many of you will agree with me that the recommitment of this bill, as I understand it, was made on Thursday last, when there was only one hundred and twenty-seven members in this House. I was one of the missing. I had good reasons for being absent and I don't think that the vote that was taken then was a fair or even an average sign of what the majority wanted in reference to this bill. I believe it was an unfortunate time to present it to the House and to have this bill recommitted. The gentleman from Philadelphia has not advanced one single reason for objecting to the reconsideration of the vote on this bill. He has not, in fact, said anything against it, but has on the other hand said that it has merits and he gives reasons and in one breath he says he would like to know the intentions of the administration and he questions the adimnistration. You can know that this must be voted upon by the citizenship at large in Pennsylvania. We have not the last say, nor has the great Governor of Pennsylvania the last say. It is for the people of Pennsylvania to say whether or not we should vote on in this great Commonwealth for fifty million dollars. I don't agree with the gentleman when he says it will stop legislation on this bill. It is admitted by him that there is considerable merit in it and for the purpose of questioning the Attorney General and the intention of the present administration, he now opposes action. I consider it nonsensical to state that there would be or might be a special session for the purpose of passing and enobling act. I don't think any friend from Philadelphia is justified in asking this House to question the Governor as to any unfair intent in reference to it. I don't believe that there is any member here who does not know that this same question has been considered by other assemblies and there has been discussions in the past and there has been considerable notoriety through newspapers and it has been in the Senate and passed there and we have had it before this House here and the Chairman of the Public Roads Committee reported it out and there has not been any oppositiion. Is it not rather singular that the gentleman himself does not tell what effect it would have if this is not brought before the people? In so far as the City of Allegheny and Philadelphia is concerned, we have no special interests in this measure. Little or any of that money is going to come to our large cities. It will not come into Philadelphia or Pittsburgh and you men who come from up State sections of Pennsylvania, why do you request this legislation? You go before your constituents and state that this State shall take its place as to good roads among all the States in the country and ask that we shall have a better road system. I am not going to discuss that phase of it. The resolution would never have passed the Assembly or the Senate if that was not the object back of it. There is not a county in the State of Pennsylvania that is not for it. There is not a newspaper in the State of Pennsylvania that is not for this resolution or there may be some that question portions of it for some local reasons but why I know not and care less. During the present administration or while our present Executive is the incumbent of the office we don't want any picayune reason presented to stop the course of this measure in this Legislature of Pennsylvania. It is going to give our farmers an opportunity to get their produce to market. It is going to give them the same power so far as their commercial and social interests are concerned, as have been given to other countries who have been favored with a good road system, by reason of the good roads which are contemplated. The vote of last Thursday would not have been taken according to my mind nor will not be taken to-night by some of the gentlemen who voted under a misapprehension. It might be that some of the men who voted against it might deny that the Governor has any whip on this House. If he has, it has not been lashed over my back or over my colleagues. I myself know that when I heard that the vote had been taken when I was up in Pottsville, that I thought it was an outrage and I certainly would raise my voice and vote against it and I made up my mind that I would help to do just as much as I could in the interests of this measure and had proposed to do the same thing as the gentleman who moved and seconded for the reconsideration of that vote. You men of the country districts understand that this is your fight, not ours from the city. I pledge you this, that if you men see fit to be in favor of this bill, to-night, to reconsider the vote, and have it come before the House, I will pledge you that the city men will stand for you and give you what Pennsylvania has been crying for, for a number of years, a good great big public road system. I will state and I will pledge you that you will have the vast majority of the votes of the Philadelphia delegation with you and I think that Allegheny will stand by you too.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention to make a speech but after listening to the oratory from the gentleman from Philadelphia, I wish to say that I was prompted to make this motion to reconsider, for the reason that I think it is the proper thing to do. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, has told this House that this is an important bill. I say it is a bill of very great importance and I want to inform you that the State of Pennsylvania is losing thousands of dollars this year by reason of her very poor roads. If that is the case, I think the gentlemen should all vote to reconsider the action of last Thursday morning.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I perhaps should be more in favor of this bill than any member of this House. I thought the bill which preceded it was not proper legislation. Unfortunately I think the bill passed in 1911, which carries over eight thousand miles of State roads, is a great mistake. When that bill came before this House, it had the approval of the State engineers and it carried something less than five thousand miles. By the pleasure of the Speaker of the last House, I was made a member of the Committee on Public Roads. The Chairman of that committee made me one of the three members of a sub-committee on roads, what was known as a sub-committee on roads—the Sproul Road Bill. We had before that sub-committee, perhaps, every country member of this House from time to time, demanding more roads within their districts. In our wisdom, after talking over the matter of the addition of these roads, we with the State Highway Engineer, refused the addition of these roads, because they were too expensive and unnecessary or for some other good reasons. But in spite of our protest, these roads were added, something like over three thousand miles were added. (Mr. R. J. Baldwin later corrected the speaker, calling his attention to the fact that he had said "roads" instead of "miles." He said three thousand miles instead of three thousand roads.) There are quite a number of miles to be added to-night. The bill will then stand with at least five thousand more mileage than it should be. There were originally five thousand miles, which should have been built to give you a good comprehensive road system, with the addition of those other three thousand miles, which had been allowed because the men who got these added miles are supposed to have sufficient pull to have their roads built and they would get five thousand miles put in good shape and built while the other would not be built at all and it would be left undone for a long time to come. That is what will take place, in my mind, and the men who expect these good roads will not live long enough to see them. This bill as it leaves this House will carry nearly ten thousand miles. The entire country has only fifty thousand miles of roads and just think of it, we want to build nearly one-fifth of the number of mileage that is necessary for nearly the entire United States. It is in your interest to get good roads quickly and promptly to get them of a good character and to do something that will get before the people some measure of this kind so the ideas of the people may be had on this measure to see that you can get and what you are after, and which will enable you to get good roads in a reasonable time, and if you will endeavor to get ten thousand miles of roads as this bill requires and at a cost of fifty million dollars, you will find out that it will not be fifty million dollars but nearly two hundred and ninety million dollars to get the kind of roads that are desired.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McAleer, intended to say three thousand miles when he said three thousand roads.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir; of course, I meant three thousand miles.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to correct one statement made, that a hearing will be denied to this bill, if it is not acted upon now or if the reconsideration of this vote is carried. That is not it at all. There are now nearly two hundred and seventy-four bills that have to be passed, that are passed on second reading, and so this bill will have to come upon the second reading calendar, where there are now one hundred and seventy-four bills. I think that would make this bill one hundred and seventy-five, if it should be passed to second reading and it is merely a question of getting the bill back in the House. I cannot be certain just when it would be but probably it would be the last part of next week. There will be every opportunity for all the public hearings you want. You may have a dozen of them if you desire. All the members can come and be heard and then when it comes up on final passage they can say whether they desire to support the measure or not. I find that there is one word still left out of this resolution which it would be necessary to make an amendment. If we are going to leave this bill lie in committee and the House will take no action on it, there is a possibility that the bill will be entirely lost. There is a possibility, and I am surprised that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, should plead to this House that this bill will pass to third reading while he knows as well as any man in this House the rules of the House and he must know that there is two hundred and seventy-four bills in the House that cannot be reached without a special order, as there is no human probability that any one will take up this bill on a special order and then it is absolutely important that this bill be again placed on the calendar. A vote to-night on this motion will indicate whether you are in favor of presenting this proposition to the people or whether you are going to deny that to them. It is merely a proposition whether it should be submitted to the people of the State of Pennsylvania. That has been considered for two years and you understand it.

It is merely a proposition to bring this legislation out of a committee where any amendment can be added or where any discussion may be had on the measure. Then, after whatever discussion may be made in the hall of the House, probably we would reach it week after next or as soon as we can reach it on third reading. The House should bring it back out of committee and put it on the calendar and add the amendment I have before me, which cannot take more than two weeks, which is the proper thing to do with this bill.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted against sending this bill back to the Committee on Public Roads, and I had not been instructed to the Governor how I shall vote to-night, but I want to say this: That the people throughout the country districts are exceedingly anxious that action be taken on this bill as soon possible. I cannot see any reason why there should have been offered a motion here to refer back. It has not been made clear to my mind that there was any real cause for doing so. There is a refrain from all over the State why are we not pasing progressive legislation that has been outlined by every platform of the three platforms that we represent to-night? We have been spending more time in dilatory motions of this character than we should, and I feel that it is the duty of this House to put this bill back on the calendar. And, if I am correct, if the gentleman from Philadelphia wants to make any amendments to this bill, he can make them on second reading. He can prepare whatever he thinks would be a proper way to control the expenditures of this money; but let us by all means act on this bill at once and gratify the people of this Commonwealth, whom it concerns. It does not concern the City of Philadelphia much, but it does the people of the rural districts, and I may say, in regard to the remarks of the other gentleman from Philadelphia, that it will take about 50,000 miles of road in this Commonwealth to accommodate the people. Five thousand might possibly accommodate a road from county-seat to county-seat for automobile purposes, but it will not accommodate the country people of this Commonwealth or enable them to send their crops to market, and I appeal to this House that this bill be put back upon the calendar, and then let it be amended if necessary and pass as soon as possible.

Mr. STONE. Mr. Speaker, it is true that this is one of the great public questions of the State of Pennsylvania. It is also true that the people throughout the country districts, as well as throughout the cities, are vitally interested. It is not true that all of he questions of interest concerning his bill are fully understood by the country people of the State of Pennsylvania. Within the past week there has been a bill introduced in this House as to the equal distribution between counties of the pro-rata shares of each county of the funds set apart for road building. Now, I don't believe, Mr. Speaker, that the Gentlemen of the House are fully determined upon this question here to-day. I do not believe that public discussion of this question will hurt anybody. I believe that a full, fair and broad discussion of all of the questions that bear upon the interests of the State in reference to this bill will give the members a better understanding after discussion than they have now. And if there is one thing above another that I desire as a member of this House, it is to vote to take back and debate the resolution which has been voted upon by the House. I am opposed to that sort of action. Now, I am not opposed to the bill and don't want to be understood by any member of this House that I am opposed to this bill. I am not opposed to the men that are at the head of it. I am not opposed to the administration. I am not opposed to the measures that have been introduced for an equitable division of the funds which will arise from the fifty millions, or any other funds which we now have that are available; but I do believed, as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, has said, that we will make a mistake, if we vote to put this back upon the calendar to-night, rescinding the motion that was made last week, until we have had a full discussion. It will be forty-eight hours at best; it will simply post every man how he is to vote on this fifty-million dollar proposition. And just as sure as you thrust this motion upon this House to-night for reconsideration, I believe you will hurt the proposition. If I had voted against this proposition to refer it back, I would vote against this motion to-night for reconsideration. I think every membre of this House ought to do it. I believe we will be glad, after Wednesday night, that we have done so. The people from the country districts are not fully posted, and we should consider all the questions that are pertient, that they are interested in, concerning this proposition. So let us have this discussion and vote down this proposition for reconsideraton.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I only want to say to the Gentlemen of the House that I am glad to have this opportunity of voting in favor of good roads. We voted on this measure two years ago; everybdy was satisfied. The gentleman from Philadelphia was perfectly satisfied, and continued to discuss this measure, as we have been for some time. It seems to me that it is only intended to defeat the bill. I hope every member in the House that is in favor of good roads, wants good roads, will vote for this resolution.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to a remark made by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, I want to say that I do not so understand that a vote against this motion means a vote against the fifty-million bond issue, and I do not propose to be understood that way. I am in favor of submitting to the people the fifty-million bond issue, but am not in favor of recalling this motion to-night. I do not want to be misunderstood.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The motion is not seconded.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Public Roads Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. E. E. Jones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. E. E. JONES. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether or not there has been any public hearing in relation to this bill.

Mr. E. E. JONES. There has not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman, further, whether or not other bills that were in his committee received public hearings before they were brought out before this House.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether or not any of those bills would have carried with them fifty million dollars or anything like that sum.

Mr. E. E. JONES. No, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I was not aware of those conditions and so I ask those questions at this time, and it does appear to me strange that the action just taken here to-night is taken at this time, and I fail to comprehend just what the action means. It has been suggested, and very truly, that any matter of any considerable merit that has been proposed in this House, from the very beginning of the session, has received a most open consideration. Public hearings of all kinds have been held, and, as is now stated, matters of much less importance to this great Commonwealth than the matter now before us. In addition to that, Mr. Speaker, as I understand the position of the present bill, there would be no harm, no harm could come from a few days' delay whereby a public hearing might be held. There is reposing in the hands of committees at this time some of the most important legislation that has been introduced into this House, and we as members of this House expect, before ths House adjourns, to pass those bills. Now, we have before us a bill that has already passed one branch of this Assembly. It has had its time there, its full time. It has passed third reading, has been messaged to this House, and all that bill has to do in this House is to pass two more readings, and yet there are bills, as I said a moment ago, reposing in committees, that are almost as important to the welfare of the State as this bill, and not one member on the floor of this House, notwithstanding the rule which upon the books that he can call out, after ten days delay, has made a motion at any time to call any one of those bills from committee. And yet, those bills must pass, not only this House, but they must receive the consideration of the proper committees in the Senate and then pass that House on three readings before they reach the Governor. Now, why this undue haste, and we may well ask, why? I do not know. I only wish that some gentleman who has spoken in favor of this motion had told this House why. It has been suggested that no argument has been made that was good in relation to the action that this House took last Thursday. I come back and hurl this challenge. That no argument has been made this night that showed why this bill should not receive a public hearing before it comes out upon the floor of this House. There is not such great need for this thing; ah! more than that; more than that. When you want to raise suspicious and try to jam something for somebody through the public press, or by whispered words which are poured into the ears of the members here with a club behind them—if those words indicate nothing, why this undue haste? Then, perhaps, I might be one. I don't even say, Mr. Speaker, but that, when this original motion was made last Thursday, had I been on the floor of this House at that time, I might have voted against that motion then, but not now. No, because it seems to me that there is too much behind it. Is it right? Is it right, Mr. Speaker, that this House bow to the will of any Department of the State? Is it right that this House close eyes and ears to all that goes on? Is it right that I, as a member on the floor of this House, must listen to the whim or wish of any man of any Department or anybody?

I am here, Mr. Speaker, as a representative of the constituency away back home, and I proposed before I go blindly over the hurdles to-night, to know where I am going to light on the other side. Ah, Mr. Speaker, there must be something in the wood pile. It would look well for the members of this House, after the very Department that had first been called to the attention of the members of this House and to the public through the press of this great nation, if it was entrusted, and without one single word of hearing and the hearing to-night by orders denied, for this House to rush ruthlessly and headlong into the pitfall. Ah, it might mean favors cut off; but no favor, Mr. Speaker, no favor that might be extended, would justify any man upon the floor of this House in doing that which he ought not to do. There is no reason, Mr. Speaker, for this undue haste. There is none needed. This House, even at this moment, Mr. Speaker, as you well know, has refused to even set the date at which this House shall adjourn. There is nothing that stares any member of this House in the face that will justify him in saying that action on this bill might not be had on the glorious Fourth of July, for all we know; this or any other bill. Haste! Why this great haste? We have nothing to do but legislate; not a thing in the world; and we, Mr. Speaker, have been entrusted with that sacred duty, and it is a sacred duty. We are making laws for no individual. We are making laws for no department. We are making laws for no machine. We are making laws for the people of this great Commonwealth and we are here to protect their rights. There is no one here, Mr. Speaker, upon the floor of this House that is more willing than I that all the good roads that are possible should be built. But we want to build roads. There is no one here, Mr. Speaker, that is more willing than I that this State should shoulder a burden if it sees fit; but there are people here, and they come not from Allegheny County and they do not come from Philadelphia County, but they do come from the rural counties, that want to know whether the money is going to be spent on city boulevards or country roads. Ah, it is all right to bond this State fifty millions dollars, but I stand right along with my country friends. Our roads are good. I stand right along with these fellows that come from the rural districts and I say, where are you going to spend it and what are you going to do with it. Tell us that first and then we will give you the money. Give us some idea of where it is going. But until you do, until you do, let us at least have a voice and be open and frank in that voice. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that if this question were as the Chairman of the Road Committee suggested, when the bill was referred back, laid open and public hearings might be had, that perhaps there would be some legislation accompanying this bill out that would be more than satisfactory to the city element and more than satisfactory to the country element upon the floor of this House. I believe that when this question may finally be referred to the people, that there is no question as to what the people's action might be. Further than that, Mr. Speaker, at the proper time, and I am frank and open to say it, at the proper time, and with the proper safeguards thrown around, and I believe that all that we have before us at this time justifies us in asking for a few safeguards. I shall go right along with this bond issue; but until that time comes, until there is some satisfactory demonstration upon the part of those who have the handling of this money, upon the administration, if you please, something tangible, something that is at least a chart, something that point out the way, until that happy moment arrives, I shall adhere to the principles that the people of this Commonwealth have a right to appear and to express their wish in the matter, and I shall so stand and vote.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I really did not know that it was possible to have so much chaff with so few grains of wheat in it. Do you realize that the proposition presented to you only consists of thirty-four words. I have just counted them. Why, you might suppose by the speeches that were made against bringing this question back into the House, that it involved some proposition that would fill a volume or that nobody could understand without the greatest possible care. Why, I really do not think that the gentlemen mean what they say when they talk about jamming legislation through. I owe this House, under these circumstances, an explanation. While the remarks of the gentleman who oppose the calling of this bill from the Committee may not mean anything, it certainly has every appearance that some power has moved the gentleman from Delaware. It has been placed part of the time on friends of department of the State and sometimes in the hands of the Executive. As a matter of fact, let me say that the gentleman who introduced this bill in the Senate, was the Senator from my county, who is now confined to his bed and has been for the past five weeks, very, very seriously ill. He has sent me the titles of each and very bill that has been introduced in the Senate by him, asking me if I would not try and take care of the bills when they came over to the House and when necessary to be prepared to make the explanation, so that the bills might be thoroughly understood. No department head, no Executive approached me prior to last Thursday. When the bill came along I never dreamed there would be any opposition to it, the proposition was so simple, so plain; advertised for two years, passed two Legislatures, had laid upon the calendar since the twenty-eighth day of February; understood thoroughly by every member in this House, and when it came up for second reading to my utter surprise I found there was opposition to the bill. I did not think it was serious at all. I prevailed on them to allow me to make a small amendment, correcting the grammar; and the language is the very identical words contained in the legislation advertised and passed in the previous session. Why all this cry about the department and the executive coming over here and trying to use a lash upon the members of this House. To my mind it is absolutely an imaginary proposition without any true whatever in fact. I have been asked in a hundred letters to support the resolution. No Executive, no person in the State, no body in the State outside of my county could have prevailed upon me to support this bill. I think it is a proposition that every member in this House knows, that it is a resolution to amend the Constitution; that if you alter or amend, alter a word in it, the bill falls and is thrown back two years, and, as I told you before, this bill involves the waste of more than two hundred thousand dollars of the people's money spent in the previous advertising of the bill. Why, to tell this House that we are jambing the proposition through, that the House don't understand it, when almost any school child in the State understands the proposition? Why a school child that has three years in the public schools would know exactly what these thirty-four words stand for. Why, surely, surely, the intelligent members of this House are not going to allow the question to be befogged in that manner and to say that somebody has a whip jambing this legislation, that anybody understands the force and effect of. Why it becomes absolutely ridiculous. I do not know how men can lash themselves into a belief that this is a proposition that we do not understand. Why, of course we understand it. And why, because of some reason I do not know, it was sent back to the Committee where the gentleman with the legislative experience, who was in the moment, knows that you cannot change a line or one word or the bill is lost.

Every member of experience in this House knows this bill cannot be passed and could not come before this House on final passage before the last of the week without a special order and when it comes to getting the bill on special order. I will stand with the gentleman from Philadelphia, opposing special order for the bill, and let it take its course. In the meantime, don't undertake to tell this House that you cannot have a public meeting where the people can come to express their feelings on this bill. Do not get an idea in your mind that anybody is holding a whip on anybody. There is nobody holding a whip on me No department is holding a whip on me and no department asked me. The bill is one that the State understands and I really think two-thirds of the people want it. The only question involved is whether the people desire it and we will offer the opportunity to them to say whether or not they do. I do not see any use in befogging this question and bring politics into it. There is no politics involved. I will not take time to discuss the political question. It is not worthy. The statement that somebody has a whip on this House and is trying to place a gag on this House is absolutely without foundation and exists only in the minds of those who are not trying to find it. Nobody is going around this House, (if there is I have no knowledge of it). Yes, the heads of departments have expressed their opinions on it, and why shouldn't they? I would pay no more attention to the Governor of the State or the head of one of the departments than any other citizen who I recognize has the right to come and tell me about it, or talk to me on this measure, and I believe that the gentleman who talked on these lines goes repeatedly to the heads of the departments for advice and information; and I ask you place this bill upon the calendar.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia how many Thursdays he has been in this House since we organized on the seventh of January?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have been here every Thursday.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I am speaking of Thursdays.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have been here every Thursday since the House was organized, and I intend to stay every Thursday as long as my friend from Philadelphia stays.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I would desire to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit further interrogation?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILTBANK. Did not I say to-day that if you should go away on Tuesday, you would get yourself into trouble in Philadelphia?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. No. Mr. Speaker, I think what the gentleman said was, that if I kept on voting on these reform measure I would.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman who is the ringmaster that used the whip to keep us here last Thursday?

Will you state that?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, that language is foreign to us reformers.

Mr. WILTBANK. It is not foreign to our records of the members who were here on Thursdays and Fridays.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a great deal of attention to the various gentlemen who have advocated this motion to recall the bill to the House, I have yet Mr Speaker, to find any answer to the request of those of us who want a hearing before the Roads Committee. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speiser, has advanced practically no argument for his position. He states that the Philadelphia delegation and the Allegheny delegation will vote along with the gentlemen from the other sections of the State without giving this House any reason why this motion should prevail. He further states that there is no lash over him and that his vote is entirely free. Now surely, Mr. Speaker, there is no argument from that source that can sustain this motinon to-night. The gentleman from Indiana offers as his reason for voting for this motion that we may offer amendments to this Joint Resolution for a Constitutional Amendment upon second reading. Well, of course, Mr. Speaker, at the moment it slipped his attention that no amendment could possibly be offered to this resolution unless it was for the purpose of destroying the resolution itself, because the amendment would destroy it. So, therefore, from that source there is no reason for this motion to-night. But the attempted reason given by the gentleman from Delaware, to my mind, voices most strongly the reason why we should have a public hearing. He is on the floor of this House representing—as the floor leader of the administration—he is on the floor of this House voicing the thoughts of the Executive, but we have failed—

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated by the gentleman from Delaware?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. I will.

Mr. SPEAKER. I would like to know whether the gentleman gets his authority to make that statement?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, upon one occasion the gentleman told me that the opportunity to become so was very great, and I see that he has grasped the opportunity.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentleman will withdraw that remark because he certainly is mistaken. The gentleman is mistaken. He must withdraw that remark.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, may I proceed?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia has the floor.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. The gentleman from Delaware has advanced no reason for the prevailing of this motion, unless it is that his silence has advanced a real reason why the bill should have a public hearing. He has heard of the floor of this House last Thursday and to-night that we ask a hearing in order that we may interrogate without parliamentary restrictions the genlteman representing the Highway Department, and the gentleman representing other departments of the Executive, for the purpose of finding what is the real intent and course so far as this legislation, and the legislation relating to it is concerned. But, his silence on the floor of the House, after having occupied the time of two speakings, has failed to give us any real light as to what is the inteded course. He says it is simple. He says we all understand it. He said that a child three years of age could understand this amendment, that it only contains thirty-four words. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that the gentleman from Delaware understands this legislation. If he does Mr. Speaker, he understands more than I do, because I want to say that I am entirely in the dark as to what this legislation means. Unless this administration has no thought of this constitutional amendment being used for the purpose of raising money to be expended by this administration, we are working in the dark. There must be one of three courses as I said before. Still we have heard the gentleman from Delaware stating that this is a simple proposition. That it is a simple question, that is is a question that the people must later pass upon and that everyone in the Commonwealth knows that it has been discussed time and time again. He fails to state on the floor of this House, in committee, or in the public press the intended course. He takes the further position. He says we can have a public hearing if we put this bill back on the calendar for second reading. That you can have that public hearing and have your people before you. Yes, that is so, Mr. Speaker, and those that will be before that public hearing will be simply those who are now in the dark, and we will have no one to ask. But let that bill stay in the Roads Committee and let the gentleman who holds the chairmanship of that Committee, demand as the chairman, the appearance of the head of the Highway Department, and let him ply the questions to him, that will be asked by those of us who are now in the dark, There are many of us, who want good roads, who are seeking here to advance good legislation, who wants to help the hands of the Executive. We do not stand here opposing the present administration. When the Workmen's Compensation bill recommended by the Executive, came to this House, it had almost the unanimous support of those of us who to-night stand here and ask for light upon this very important piece of legislation, offered by the Executive of this Commonwealth. And further, Mr. Speaker, a vote to have a public hearing. does not mean a vote against the fifty million dollar resolution. It rather means a vote for it. We have seen in the public press the head of the Highway Department pilloried as one extravagent in the expenditure of public money. We have heard on the floor of this House the statement that over two hundred millions of dollars must be spent for the purpose of building the ten thousand miles of road that are contemplated in the Sproul Bill. We have the right to inquire upon that subject. That is due not only to this Legislature, but it is also due to the Executive. Now, what answer have we to that, Mr. Speaker? Has the light from Philadelphia or from Delaware or from Indiana blasted the darkness which surrounds this Legislation? Oh, no! Have not we the right to insinuate as was done by the eloquent gentleman from Allegheny that there is something in the woodpile? The vote for this motion to-night really retards this legislation, and a vote against this motion means this: that on Wednesday night a public meeting will be had. We will go out of that Committee for this legislation, or intelligently aganst it. What is to be gained by gagging us. What is to be gained by refusing us light and compelling us to go blindly into this vote? This motion has not been actuated by those who really think at heart that it is good legislation. The gentleman from Lackawanna says, that he offers this action because he believes in this being good legislation. I believe that when he so states it on the floor of the House, he states it as he believes, but in making his motion he really is doing harm to the legislation that he attempts to offer. Mr. Speaker, to deny that there is a lobby working here for this motion is absurd. We all know that there is a strong force working here. We all know that it has been working for this motion ever since Thursday. The gentleman from Delaware says there is no lash over his head. Of course, there is no lash over his head. Of course there is no restriction on his vote. No one has any thought of the gentleman from Delaware being instructed as to his thought or his vote. He has here advanced this motion as he thinks for the betterment of this legislation. But, Mr. Speaker, to say that the Executors is not using a force in this House is idle.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Not at this timfie. I find here, Mr. Speaker, and the gentleman getting on his feet reminds me. I find there is no lash. Of course there is no visionable lash, of course, there is no visib e force. The force that comes here to this House is a subtle force. The outsider and many of us on the floor of the House do not see it, we feel it, and when we see the Chairman of the powerful Appropriation Committee, with the power in this Committee to make or unmake legislation, stand upon the floor of the House, and without any argument state that the votes for this motion for good roads, we know, Mr. Speaker, there is a force that is here to-night. We know that there is a power that is here to-night, and it is a power, Mr. Speaker, that might prevail to-night. I have stood on the floor of this House year after year, and helped that power through its force, and I have seen that same force and power like a flood come on us and crush us down to defeat, and power that is working to-night for this little simple motion is the same power that we will feel in the next few months upon us. Mr. Speaker, many of us are for good roads, and all of us are for good legislation, and I dare say that those who oppose this motion are to be a man with the Governor of Pennsylvania, with good legislation. We have stood by him where he has pledged himself for good legislation and we have aided him when those who are supposed to be his friends left him, and we are aiding him to-night by asking that this legislation be brought out into the light, clean of all suspicion. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the members of this House will not allow themselves to be so short-sighted as to vote for this motion, nor will stultify themselves for the whim of any branch of the Government by casting their vote for this motion. I hope that they will use their own individual power and character, and vote against this motion, even thought you to a man vote for the legislation that we now have under discussion.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I don't know much about the kind of roads that the Highway Department constructs, but the roads down our way are Belgian blocks streets and the city pays for every inch. The only big Highway I am interested in and ask the Legislature to interest itself in is the noble Delaware river which runs on its course to the sea and within a stone's throw of where I live. I think a little bit of deliberation on the proposition before us now will clear up the situation very nicely. I have listened with much admiration to the splendid address of the gentleman from Allegheny and also to the address delivered by the gentleman from Philadelphia and I think I would like to be in the Legislature of 1915 to listen to the arguments when this comes up then when they will be likely to vote for the bill. The question now is, shall the people vote upon the amendment authorizing the General Assembly after the ratification of this amendment giving to the General Assembly a right to issue bonds up to and not exceeding fifty millions of dollars for good roads? If this resolution goes to a Committee it may be final; there are evidently one of two purposes involved:—Sympathy or sentiment for the resolution or sentiment adverse to it. Now then this matter has been brought very forcibly to every intelligent member and it has been called to the attention of the people of Pennsylvania and they should instruct their members how to vote when this resolution comes up on third reading, and what is to be gained by sending it back to the Committee? As the gentleman from Philadelphia has very profitably said you cannot do an "I" or cross a "T" or do anything to this bill and the only thing to be done is to get this bill back from the Committee to enable the people to act upon this proposed amendment and that can be done very well by having the State arouse itself and express its sentiment or have the constituency have its wishes presented to its Representatives, so that we might voice their sentiments when we vote for the bill on third reading. Moreover on the question of the Highway Department, I desire to state, that is a matter which comes up in 1915. I don't care if the Highway Department would submit a report to the Good Road Committee, that would take until the Fourth of July to read. Would that bind the Legislature of 1915? Would the Highway Department or any department or would an advocate for or an opponent against this bill ask the Legislature to issue these bonds? Why, gentlemen of the House, you cannot argue that question. It is too simple for logical men to discuss and I say here we simply wish to present to the people the proposition whether or not the State shall bond itself to the amount of fifty millions for good roads then your Highway Department and then your governmental officers shall be considered by subsequent Legislators and the people can enact this in a part of our Constitution and then will come up the very splendid question and an opportunity for very able arguments of the gentleman of Allegheny and the gentleman of Philadelphia.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, whether the gentleman from Philadelphia is Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, in his Committee various bills that were referred and have those bills been reported out yet.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, No, sir.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, if the legislation that is in your Committee and has been recommended by the Commission appointed by the legislation of a session ago, becomes a law later will there be any necessity for the raising of fifty million dollars?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, we cannot actually estimate at this time how much income will be derived as far as the State Treasury is concerned from these acts suggested by the general Tax Commission. Unquestionably there will be a great deal of money come from these new bills. I think I may observe that I don't think that this is a pertinent question of the matter to submit to the people whether or not there shall be a bonded debt.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman further, what amount of revenue will be raised to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania if the bills recommended to this Legislature by the tax commission be enacted into law?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, that cannot be actually estimated at this time. The counsel for the Committee who spoke here one night before a general session of the Senate and House said that it would be somewhere between six and seven millions.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, permitt himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speak, Yes, sir.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to have the gentleman tell us whether or not he voted on this question two years ago?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I voted on this question two years ago.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman how he voted.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I voted on the affirmative. This session, I have been in doubt as to how I will vote, but if I am kept continually in the dark for self protection, I will vote in the negative.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if he accepted the measure two years ago when it passed the House?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, two years ago, it was brought into the House in connection with the Sproul Bill. It was not discussed or argued because we knew that it was the first Legislature that passed upon it and we knew another Legislature had to pass upon it before taking it before the people. We understood it as a Constitutional amendment coming before the first session of the Legislature and at that time, not having any discussion we understood it then as merely a constitutional amendment and voted for it the first time.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia, re'ative to the Appropriation Committee of the House being used as a club to carry out legislation, I want to say to him and to every member of the House when he made that statement, he made it without due consideration. I want to say and I want it further understood that no club can be used to further or advance legislation or retard any legislation, by means of the House Appropriation Committee if the chairman has any knowledge of it.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Susquehanna, Chairman of the Roads Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Susquehanna, Mr. E. E. Jones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether there was a request for a public hearing to the Chairman of the Public Roads Committee prior to last Thursday by anybody?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Spaker, I would say that the Chairman of the Public Roads Committee didn't understand the gentleman Mr. John R. K. Scott or any one else had asked for a public hearing in this Committee but the gentleman from Philadelphia made an inquiry but it was not understood that he had asked for a public hearing. Had the gentleman been so understood or had he understood it any other way, the request would have been granted. I cannot deny but what the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, in his understanding of the situation did make such a request. It was in an informal way and I didn't so understand it then. At the same time, it may be construed as a request for a hearing.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I might say to the Chairman on Roads that he understood properly or rather interpreted it properly. Mr. Scott's request was made because I was present on that occasion. Mr. Scott did make a request of the Public Roads Committee with reference to this bill and I might say that was a long time ago, before this bill was on the Calendar. Every member and every man could have had a public hearing. It strikes me most pertinently that if a measure of this importance known by every citizen that can read any language because I think the constitutional amendment was printed in every language that is printed in any newspaper in Pennsylvania didn't see fit to ask the Chairman of this Committee or any of his associates on the Committee for a public hearing, that there was any public desire for such a hearing and if my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, did make this request, he surely put it in a most informal manner, so informal that even the Chairman of the Committee, himself, misunderstood it to be a desire for a public hearing but he really understood it correctly. Truly the explanations have been sufficient to show the members of the House that there is nothing at the bottom of the request to have it stay in Committee. We have no reason for that whatever. We have the negative side of this question. It is the duty of the affirmative side to tell you why it should be kept there. Mr. Roney has well said that you cannot change the bill in Committee. Is the intent of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, after an informal request, to work up sentiment against the bill? If that is his object, are you members of the House going to help him do that? Truly you don't want to. I think the argument has been splendidly brought out on both sides. I think the gentleman from Delaware and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, have practically verfied the situation. You are compromising the good roads measure of Pennsylvania in keeping it in Committee. Is it not worth anything to anybody to expect to have good roads in the county? You can keep it there ten days and at the end of ten days you can presevere and have it kept there for another ten days. In that way you can have this session extended until next Christmas, because the present administration cannot spend the money and cannot even get the money. Gentlemen, let us vote on it in a sensible and intelligent manner. This effects only the country districts. There is certain other important matters to be considered and when you go home at the end of the week, I think you can do it with a great deal of grace if you vote to reconsider the vote by which this bill was recommitted to this Committee.

Mr. E. G. M. KUHNS. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me absurd. I was on the floor of this House last Thursday after listening for the greater portion of one hour and I am here kept back for one hour and a half tonight. What have we done? Mr. Speaker, let me tell you there are reasons to have this joint resolution come back from the Committee of Roads of which I am a member and those of you who know me, know my stand two years ago on this concurrent resolution. Mr. Speaker, I want you all to take fair notice then and I warn you that I want to protect this resolution. I want it to go through. I don't want it chocked and throttled, and many other funny names that have been given to it, in the Committee. When this joint resolution came over from the Senate, and you must not forget to understand that there are some new members in that Committee and there was quite some little discussion in that Committee. They wanted to hold this resolution in that committee for further discussion, and I make the cause clear before the people of this Commonwealth and before the members of the House. I was one that wanted this resolution to come forward. This motion to recommit was made last Thursday night in regular order. It has been wisely said, there were only 127 members present last Thursday. Whose fault was that? Was it my fault? Was it the Speaker's fault, or was it the individual member's fault? That bill was reached on second reading on the Calendar in regular order. This motion was made to recommit to the Committee on Public Roads in regular order. It was discussed and it was recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads in regular order. I want to assure you gentlemen again that I want this resolution to go there. There is not a man in this Commonwealth more in favor of good roads than the little Dutchman. Mr. Speaker, I ask the members of the House to vote this motion down and save this resolution and not choke it by this motion. Let the work of the members who were present last Thursday prevail. Let the resolution go back to the committee. Let us instruct these new members so that they can go home and instruct their constituents how to vote properly next November.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with attention, and especially to my friend, Mr. Speiser, from Philadelphia, when he said that the country districts were clamoring for the passage of this bill, to which we agree. I want to make it plain that there is not a member of this House that is more in favor of the passage of this bill than Matt. I voted for this resolution two years ago. I take great pleasure in supporting it again, but when you hold a club over a man and tell him that the worst things you can do tonight is to vote against this measure; then I refuse, because I think that when you railroad this through, you are only sharpening the knife when it comes before the people, a thing which I am very sorry for.

I want to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speiser.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPEISER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from whence he received this information that the people of the country districts were clamoring to get this bill through this House.

Mr. SPEISER. If the Speaker pleases, I have been informed by a great many of my colleagues who represent that sort of constituency.

Mr. MATT. That is all, Mr. Speaker. I think, when the vote is taken upon this measure as to whether or not it should come from the committee, the various members will speak for their constituents.

Mr. CLAYCOMB. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Reuben Howard, Peters, Keegan, Sassaman, Strauss, Cochran, E. G. M. Kuhns, McKay, Hemminger, Charles A. Shaffer, Mather, Stone, Ely, McAllister, Spangler, Bass, Fahey, Heyburn, Martin, Lenker, Wildman, North, Brosius, Snyder, and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT and Mr. SAMUEL B. SCOTT.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

This was done as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. HOBBS. The reason why I voted for the motion is because there is no change that can be made to the bill without destroying the purpose of the proposition.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following reasons for vote on the motion to reconsider vote recommitting Senate Bill No. 68 to Public Roads Committee:

I have become convinced that it was a mistake to recommend this bill last Thursday, largely because it has been interpreted as an action unfriendly to the bond issue, which I am sure many of those so voting did not intend. Inasmuch as this resolution merely puts it up to the voters to decide whether the General Assembly shall have the authority to issue bonds for road purposes, most of the points that have been raised against this bill should more properly be raised in connection with any enabling legislation that may come up for consideration. The demand for submitting this resolution to the voters is certainly sufficient that the Road Committee could do nothing else but re-report it to the House after the hearing. The action to reconsider need not interfere with any hearing that may be desired, and inasmuch as there will be plenty of time for members to investigate and consider before the resolution is reached on third reading, I have voted to reconsider.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following reasons for my vote.

My reasons for voting "aye" on this bill, Senate Bill No. 68, are: first, I favor a public hearing; second, my constitutents favor the bill.

Mr. ADAMS. I desire to offer the following reasons for my vote.

If I had voted on this bill last Thursday I would have voted "No," as I could see no reason to refer the Joint Resolution to Public Roads Committee, therefore at this time I would take the same position as last Thursday, had I voted then, and vote "aye" so the matter can stand before the House exactly as it did on Thursday last.

The SPEAKER. When this bill was last before the House the question was:

Will the House agree to the first section as amended?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have a further amendment. I find there is an omission of the word "of."

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, are we now on second reading?

The SPEAKER. The bill has been brought up by virtue of the motion to reconsider, which has been carried and the bill is therefore before the House.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that this business is now out of order. This bill is not on second reading and the motion which has been passed upon by the House is merely the placing of this bill back to its position on second reading on the Calendar. We are not now on second reading business.

The SPEAKER. The motion before the House was a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was recommitted. As the Chair understands the practice, the reconsideration of that vote brings the bill before the House as it was when the motion to recommit was adopted.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I insist upon my point of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will, in the absence of any other light, have to overrule the point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, will the Chair allow me to speak upon my point of order?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will be glad to have any light upon the subject or knowledge the gentleman may have to impart upon the point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I may not be able to enlighten the Chair, but my thought, without having a precedent before me, is that the logical view of this matter must be that the only question in order was the offering of the motion. The motion then to reconsider places the bill back on the Calendar in the position that the bill was. When we reach second reading, then the discussion as to the various sections of this bill will be properly in order.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I differ with the gentleman from Philadelphia. When this bill was under consideration on second reading, the action of the House was interrupted on second reading, with a motion to send the bill back to the committee. Without action upon the bill on second reading, the House decided to refer the bill to a committee. Now when the House changes its decision and brings the bill back into the House, it brings it into the House and places it in exactly the same position as it was when it left the House. When the bill left the House it was under a proposition to pass second reading. Therefore, in my judgment, the Chair is absolutely correct. The bill comes back to the House in exactly the form in which it left the House, which is under consideration for second reading and open for further amendment. I raise the point that the gentleman's motion comes too late. He permitted the bill to be amended, if I am not mistaken, and after amended he then raises the point. In my opinion, first, he is mistaken in his understanding, and secondly, his motion comes too late, as action has already been taken on the bill.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman is logical in his position, then the business that we concluded subsequent to passing this bill would be all out of order. We have gone beyond the calendar of this bill. In fact, last Thursday we finished all bills on second reading and then we adjourned. Now surely it cannot be held by the Chair that this motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was sent to the committee brings back the whole calendar. If the gentleman from Delaware is correct then the motion would carry with it not only the placing of the bill back to position on the second reading calendar, but would bring the whole calendar up. When we reach our second reading bills then we take our position and proceed with our vote on this measure. It is exactly the same as though there had been a motion to place this bill on the postponed calendar adversely. Say an opponent of the bill had made a motion to postpone the consideration of the bill to a specific date and that motion was reconsidered and was carried, would it bring that bill back from its postponed position to the House on the acting of that bill out of order, or would it bring that bill for that postponed position and place it on the calendar on whatever reading that bill happened to be. I therefore ask that my point of order be sustained.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, we certainly have been going along this whole session doing exactly what is proposed to be done. In other words, the Speaker has ruled to-night as he has repeatedly ruled in this House and no gentleman has ever made an objection, not even the gentleman from Philadelphia. The members of this House understand that if a bill be defeated and after reconsideration it means immediately the passage on that position, whatever that position is. I think the gentleman from Philadelphia is entirely mistaken, and he must know that it has been the practice of this House this session that the bill takes the same place in the House when it is brought back from committee that it had originally, and that it is on second reading now does not mean that it will be necessary to call it up on the second reading calendar when that order is reached, but means that action can be taken on it now.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of parliamentary information. I believe that the stand taken by the gentleman from Philadelphia is absolutely correct. It is very easy to see how the other idea has grown up. In this House almost all our motions for reconsideration have been motions to reconsider the vote by which bills have failed on final passage. These motions have always been made during the time when on third reading and final passage are in order, and therefore, when the motion to reconsider prevails the bill comes up at the time when it is naturally in order, and that has happened so often that the idea has originated and finally become deeply settled that the bill must be acted upon immediately after this motion to reconsider. But the logic of the situation is that the motion to reconsider merely undoes what was done. What we did was to send the bill to the Committee, and what we have undone is to send the bill back from the committee to the calendar of the House absolutely in the same place that it was before, namely, on second reading. Bills on second reading are not in order at this time, and if the members of this House stand by the Rules of the House, then this bill is not in order at the present time.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I maintain that the Speaker is correct in his ruling. When the action of the House was taken on last Thursday, recommitting this bill to the committee, the House was then on the second reading calendar. The calendar for that day was disposed of, the second reading calendar was disposed of. Now then if this bill is not on second reading when it is brought out of the committee, if it is not before this House just as it was before it was recommitted, I would like to know in what position it is now. Is it postponed for the present, or is it on the second reading calendar, or where is it? I say that the bill is before the House and subject to the action of the House just the same as if it had not been recommitted. This has been the practice of the House in all of the time that I have been here as a member.

The SPEAKER. It appears clear to the Chair that the bill is properly before the House, and therefore, the point of order is not sustained.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the appeal.

The SPEAKER. An appeal from the decision of the Chair is called by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, and seconded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott. The gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, will take the Chair while this appeal is being disposed of.

(MR. WILLIAMS IN THE CHAIR.)

On the question,

Shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the decision of the House?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the privilege of saying a few words.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the question is not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in order that there might be no misunderstanding, I call the attention of the House to Rule No. 3.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I insist upon my point of order. I insist upon my point of order that this motion is not debatable.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to read Rule 3, which says: "He shall decide all questions of order, and appeal from his decision shall be made by two members, or the Speaker may, in the first instance, submit the question to the House ....."

The SPEAKER. The Chair withdraws his decision, and recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Allen.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the question of the appeal seems to me to be perfectly plain. As I understand the attitude of this House, on Thursday last, when this bill was reached in due process on the second reading calendar, by a motion duly made, it was referred to a committee, or recommitted to be exact. The session of Thursday closed in due time thereafter, and that session adjourned finally until Monday evening, this evening, at eight o'clock. The rules which govern this House, and which we adopted by the House at the very beginning of the session, provide in Rule 8: "Order of Business." "After the reading of the Journal each day, the order of business shall be as follows: First, Report by the Speaker of his reference to committees of bills, letters, petitions, memorials, remonstrances, and accompanying documents." The Journal has been read. Such documents as may have been submitted have been referred. "Second, Reports of standing committees and select committees may be made." The committees have made their reports to the House, and we then proceed to the third order of business. "Third, Leave of absence may be asked." It was done and they are closed.

"Fourth. Resolutions," and under the head a motion was introduced to lift this bill, if you please, from the committee to which it had been referred and place it again upon the calendar. When the bill left the calendar, Mr. Speaker, that bill was on second reading, and when by the action of the House it was just taken—by the action of this House that bill was again placed upon the calendar under the proper heading by resolution duly offered under the head of Resolutions, and when the House had done that, remember, Mr. Speaker, we are still under the head of Resoluitons, when the House had done that it had done that it could to this bill or any other bill on second reading this night without unanimous consent. And why? Because of the fact, Mr. Speaker, that the amendments were pascsed over the head of Resolutions, and it is provided under the rules of this House, which every member of this House has adopted as his rule of action. It is provided, "Fifth. After the foregoing orders have been finished, the following shall be the orders of the day:.....and it is finished when action is taken upon any resolution that is offered. "After the foregoing.....the following shall be the orders of the day: For Mondays—First—motions to recommit may be made. Second—unfinished business (other than bills) may be considered. Third—Bills on first reading," and there is the whole program for Mondays and nothing else. Now, Mr. Speaker, it is a question, a vital question, and it is no parley for time. Perhaps as I stand here some one may be so unkind as to say that it is a battle for time. Nothing of the sort; It is a battle for fairness. A majority of the House has spoken and I bow to that will in relation to this bill. They have said, we will again place the bill back where it was, but you will place it back on second reading, and you don't pass bills, Mr. Speaker, on first reading, on second reading or on third reading under the head of Resolutions in this House. Never! Never! You don't pass them there. You have laid down your program for the action of this House and this House is entitled to a decision made by this House as to whether or not that rule means what it says. If it means what it says, we are still under Resolutions, and I presume, perhaps, that a resolution made by any one to set aside this rule for the evening for the purpose of considering this bill, if it be of so great importance, and in such haste, upon second reading. But, we are under Resolutions, and we have acted upon that resolution and we have placed the bill back upon the calendar and we are ready to proceed with the regular order of business, and the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia should be sustained by this House, if there be any fairness in this House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I would like to state a proposition to the gentleman from Allegheny. Supposing a resolution was offered by unanimous consent to take up a bill for immediate action, and the bill is on final passage, and the House allows that resolution to go in on unanimous consent, and the resolution brings a bill up for final passage, although we are working under the order of bills on first reading. Then I want to know if it does bring it up for immediate action. This resolution does not say to place the bill on the calendar at all. The substance of the resolution was to bring the bill from committee for consideration. It brought the bill from committee for consideration. It is being passed under the resolution presented for that identical purpose just the same as a resolution by unanimous consent to take up a bill out of place on the calendar to be passed under that resolution. The bill takes the same position and the Chair is undoubtedly right and it has been the practice of this House.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, when the motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill was sent to the committee was being argued, the gentleman from Delaware stated to the House that this bill would be heard on second reading on Wednesday, and then we could have our public hearing at that time. There was no thought of this reconsideration bringing this bill up now for second reading. There is no order of business or second reading on a Monday. As has been well stated by the gentleman from Allegheny, this motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was sent to the roads committee, merely undid what we did on Thursday, and it merely put this bill back in its line of bills where it was before.

If the Chair is correct in its ruling, then a bill that would be indefinitely postponed and the motion to reconsider that was brought about on a Friday when there is no third reading order of business, unless all other business be dispensed with. It would be possible for that bill to be postponed, if the Chair is right and proceed then with third reading. Why, it would be an absolute offset to the procedure of this House. We have our bills on certain days for first reading and certain days for second reading and certain days for third reading. It is at that time that this bill, when it reaches the proper day, should be considered. Mr. Speaker, if the Chair was right in this matter, you can see how easy it would be to bring out a bill that was on a postponed Calendar, because sending it out to a committee takes it out of its line and by placing it on postponed Calendar an enemy of the bill could call it up on third reading when there was no third reading on the Calendar and by a reconsideration of vote the bill would be postponed. I can say too, as far as that vote was reconsidered and brought in, when third reading was not in order, when the House was not full, would it not then be possible for the using of this parliamentary proceeding? This is the very precedent that the Chair intends to offer to kill legislation. Now there are no rules, Mr. Speaker, that are incorporated in the rules of the Legislative body, except rules that grow out of a logical conclusion. This point of order was raised here that this bill cannot be considered unless it reached the regular order of business. Why is not the judgment of the House right when these various bills are to be met upon their various readings? The reconsideration of this vote on Thursday surely does not bring this bill back to the House when there was second reading in order. I therefore, move that the point of order is well taken and that the Chair has not properly decided upon it and the appeal should be sustained.

Mr. ALWORTH. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me that when this was taken up on second reading, when by motion it was recommitted that it was taken from that order and placed in the Committee. Now then when this motion is made to reconsider bill action of this House is that the bill return to the same position it was in at the time the motion was made to recommit. I believe that the action of the Speaker in deciding this rule is practical and absolutely logical.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I think the Chair was right in his ruling on this point. I desire to read from the New Cushing's Manual of Parliamentary Practice, authorized revision by Charles Kelsey Ganies, from page 103 and the top of page 104, which is as follows:

"The effect of a reconsideration is not to reverse the vote reconsidered but simply to set it aside as if it had never been taken, being the question to which it related again before the Assembly to be disposed of in any way which would have been allowable before it was voted upon. The Assembly may then reaffirm its former vote, or reverse it, or take some other action. The only exception is the reconsideration of a vote ordering the Previous Question; for this, according to general usuage, in itself annuals the order and opens the pending question to debate."

Now, Mr. Speaker, the Chair had ruled properly on it and the House should sustain the Chair in their votes because it seemed to be in harmony with Parliamentary Practice.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I think that the Speaker, was right in ruling that this bill is before the House because the bill had been read, and because the Committee of the whole had been dispensed with, and therefor the bill was before the House and must be dispensed with in one manner or another, either by motion to postpone or recommit. The bill has been read, the Committee as a whole has been dispensed with and the bill is now before the House.

The SPEAKER. The question is shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the decision of the House?

The Chair is sustained.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment to the first section.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware desires to offer an amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section one line eighteen after the word "million" insert the word "or"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section as amended was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the improvement of the highways of the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT and Mr. ALLEN were as follows:

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the point of order on House Bill No. 648, entitled:

An Act to provide for the erection and organization of new counties out of parts of two adjoining counties and prescribing the manner in which the same may be done was sustained, be reconsidered.

Mr. ISLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, for information I would like to know whether or not the maker and seconder of the motion voted "aye" on sustaining the point of order.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Carter, vote on sustaining the point or order?

Mr. CARTER. The constitutionality of the point of order.

The SPEAKER. Did the gentleman vote "aye" or "no"?

Mr. CARTER. I voted "no."

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I raise the point of order that he cannot make this motion.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The maker and seconder of the motion must be members who voted in the majority.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, if I may correct the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Carter, he answered under a misapprehension, when he said he voted "no". I feel sure that he voted "aye." He voted the same as Mr. Isler. We had no yeas and nays on the roll. It was a standing vote, and I am positive that I am correct.

Mr. CARTER. I stand corrected; Mr. Adams is right.

The SPEAKER. Then the gentleman who makes the motion and the gentleman who seconds the motion both voted for sustaining the point of order.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the maker of this motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARTER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman to explain to the House the reasons for reconsideration of this action.

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, my reason for making this motion to reconsider this vote is this: There was a very slim House present at that time, and I have myself seen bills fall here that were reconsidered afterwards, and I think that under those circumstances Mr. Adams should have that courtesy on the floor of this House, and give Mr. Adams, the sponsor of that bill, a chance. That is my reason.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. I submit, Mr. Speaker, that the reasons given by the maker of this motion are absolutely without any validity. When he says that he would desire to have this more fully discussed, I ask him whether or not this House did not debate at some length when the question was submitted to this House in order to secure the advice and argument of the legal members on the floor. The bill was called up by the gentleman from Luzerne, the sponsor of the bill, and was not caled up by anyone hostile to it. The question of whether or not there was a large House here was a question for that gentleman to decide. Now, Mr. Speaker, the Constitution of Pennsylvania has not changed since last Monday night; the Supreme Court of this State has not given any new determination or interpretation of the seventh section of the third article since last Monday night, to my knowledge. The bill was declared unconstutitional on the point which was admitted by the sponsor of the bill that it could affect but two counties of the State; and I cited the Supreme Court decision that when you determine the application of a bill to counties upon a geopraphical determination, it is not constutitional; and I cited the case. If this had not been so thoroughly discussed, I would cite again those decisions, it was plainly admitted by the sponsor of this bill that it could apply solely to two counties, Schuylkill and Luzerne. In order that I may clear up in the minds of some members of the House here the question as to whether or not they can create counties, I want to read to you the title of a bill which—

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, this is not the proper time to discuss the validity of the bill. It is a question now as to whether or not this bill should be reconsidered. The gentleman, Mr. Carter, voted "aye", I feel sure, as a great many other members voted in the House. It was a case of reciprocity. I asked him, as I asked others, to vote for the bill, and he naturally would vote against a measure being unconstutitional.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state to the gentleman that a motion to reconsider brings up the whole question. The point of order is not sustained.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I regret that it is necessary for me to go into this discussion. I apprehend that the House is tired of the discussion of these questions of reconsideration, but it is too important a question to be allowed to go, simply because, in the judgment of the sponsor of the bill which was defeated, it ought to be reconsidered. I want to raise again my point of order and discuss it. I will cite again to this House the decision in eighty-eight Pennsylvania and read in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Patton, from the syllabus of the case.

"There can be no proper classification of cities or counties except by population. Geographical distinctions cannot be resorted to without entering the domain of special legislation." Page 260, same case we read,

"The Act of 1874 classifies cities by their population. The Act of 18th April 1878, can hardly be said to be a classification by counties. It is true it speaks of all counties of more than sixty thousand inhabitants. But it goes on to say, "And in which there shall be any city incorporated at the time of the passage of this act with a population exceeding eight thousand inhabitants, situate at a distance from the county seat of more than twenty-seven miles by the usually travelled public road." This is classification run mad. Why not say all counties named Crawford, with a population of over eight thousand, and situated twenty-seven miles from the county seat? Or all counties with a population of over sixty thousand watered by a certain river or bounded by a certain mountain? There can be no proper classification of cities or counties except by population. The amount we resort to geographical distinctions we enter the domain of special legislation, for the reason that such classification operates upon certain cities or counties to the perpetual exclusion of all others.

Now, the sponsor of the bill has admitted that this bill can only apply to the counties of Schuylkill and Luzerne.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would request that I be allowed to finish, when I would be willing to answer any questions that he may wish to ask

There can be no proper classification of cities or counties except by population. The moment we resort to geographical distinctions, we enter the domain of special legislation, for the reason that such classification operates upon certain cities or counties to the perpetual exclusion of all others. This question is affirmed in two hundred and twelve Pennsylvania and affirmed and cited in two hundred and seventeen Pennsylvania in passing upon the Pittsburgh and Allegheny cases. It has been cited in one hundred and twelve Pennsylvania, Morrison versus Bachert. In speaking of this subject of special legislation, Justice Paxson says in part, as follows:

"Prior to the adoption of the present Constitution there was hardly an approach to uniformity in the fees of public officers throughout the State. Local acts had been procured for many of the counties, in some instances through the influence of the officers themselves, fixing the fees more in harmony with their own greed than the interests of the people, who may fairly be presumed to have known nothing of it until they came to pay the fees. It was to cut this system up, root and branch, with other exils of like nature, that the clause in question was inserted in the Constitution. It was a wise provision, and will be sternly enforced. It is our purpose to adhere rigidly to that instrument, that the people may not be deprived of its benefits. It ought to be unnecessary for this court to make this judicial declaration, but it is proper to do so, in view of the amount of legislation which is periodically placed upon the statute book in entire disregard of the fundamental law. Much of this legislation may remain unchallenged for years, only to be overturned when it reaches this court. In the meantime, parties may have acted upon it, rights may have grown up, and the inconveniences and losses entailed thereby may not be inconsiderable. As we view it, this note of warning at this time is needed.

"That the Act in question is in direct conflict with the Constitution is too plain for argument. It is only necessary to read the title to this Act to see this. It excludes perpetually from its operation all counties having a population of over one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants. This makes it a local law. If it can exclude Philadelphia and Pittsburgh it may exclude every other county in the State but the one county seeking such special or local legislation.

"Nor can this legislation be sustained upon any rational theory of classification. In point of fact, there is no attempt at classification; it was a mere exclusion of certain counties. In Com. v. Patton, supra, it was said, referring to the Act of April 18th, 1878, to provide for the holding of courts in certain cities of this Commonwealth: "Said Act makes no provision for the future, in which respect it differs from the Act of 1874, which, in express terms, provides for future cities and the expanding growth of those now in existence. That is not classification, which merely designates one county in the Commonwealth and contains no provision by which any other county may, by reason of its increase of population in the future come within the class.'"

Now, it is admitted by the sponsor that this bill excludes sixty-five counties of this State from its operation. Now, how can we say that a bill which excludes sixty-five counties of this State is not a special law?

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, when the vote was taken on this floor, it was discovered afterwards that the majority of the legal profession, members of this House, had voted against the unconstitutionality of the bill, and I would like to know, therefore, why their judgment is not just as good as the decisions.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, understand that I am yielding to the gentleman from Luzerne, but not being interrogated.

Mr. ADAMS. You can answer that interrogation. I would like to have that interrogation answered, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, the question may arise in the minds of the members as to the distinction between these acts. The fact is that the Act of April seventeen one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight (Pamphlet Laws seventeen), applied to Luzerne county, whereby in one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine the County of Lackawanna was created. Now mark the distinction between that act and this. That is a general act, entirely constitutional while the act for which the gentleman is sponsor is special and local, and therefore not constitutional. Here is the language of the first section of the act of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, (Pamphlet Laws seventeen):

"That whenever any county of this Commonwealth shall attain to a population of one hundred and fifty thousand or more, or that has already reached the same, it may be divided, and a new county erected therefrom, upon consent of a majority of the qualified electors of the proposed new county district voting at an election to be called for such purpose."

This is general because it is based wholly upon population and does not exclude any counties from its operation.

The gentleman goes on further and shows to the members of the House that his bill can only apply to Luzerne and Schuylkill counties. Now if the House reverses its position taken on last Monday night, it will put us in an absurd postion. Upon a question of policy, it may be proper to reconsider the action of the House upon any measure, but I submit that nothing has happened between that time and this which should cause any change in the decision of the House upon this question. I therefore ask the House to vote "No" upon this motion.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this vote should be reconsidered, briefly for the reasons which I will give you. First of all, in looking over the record I find that rule three of the Rules of this House was not followed, namely, that the Constitutional question was put without being called for by five members and that

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state for the information of the gentleman that the rule provides that the Chair may submit the question to the House if it is a constitutional question, and must submit it on the request of five members. The Chair submitted it voluntarily because of a belief that it was a question which should be discussed and the rules of the House provide that no question can be taken up for discussion unless submitted by the Chair or called for by five members.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, there are other reasons why I believe this bill should be reconsidered. First, that we are passing bills day after day where there are serious constitutional questions involved and the point has never been raised. Just on the next bill after the bill on which the constitutional question was raised last Tuesday, a few minutes later we passed a bill raising the identical point and not a voice was raised; when the Philadelphia five judge bill was before the House, I think and I submit to you there is a serious question of constitutionality there, not one single voice was raised to object to this on the grounds of constitutionality. Now is it right that a bill which is so vital to the interests of the particular section of this Commonwealth should be stifled and put off in this manner. As I said a week ago this evening, the Constitution itself contemplates that there shall be classification when it comes to passing enabling acts for the creation of counties. The Constitution true forbids that special and local legislation of seventeen varieties or seventeen different classes, but the Constitution in its terms also contemplates classification. There is a classification of counties for the sake of paying county officers a salary or fee, a classification of one hundred and fifty thousand; that is, those above are to receive a salary and those below fees.

Classification of cities has been by population by reason of the act of 1874. Classifications of counties and cities have made in various ways. It has been stated to us a number of times by the gentleman from Schuylkill that classification of counties or classification in general of cities can only be made by population. I submit to you that that is not true. That classification has been made in different ways; classification of townships, for instance, is not a classification strictly of population, but it is a classification of population and area mixed. The classification of two contiguous cities—Allegheny and Pittsburgh—under the Act of 1896, which was declared constitutional in 217th Pennsylvania, was not a classification of population, but a geographical classification, a classifiation of two contiguous cities, and in that decision Justice Mitchell says that it is entirely within the provisions of the Legislature to classify, that the Constitution contemplates classification, and whether that classification is proper or not is for the courts to decide. The Constitution invites classification on the part of the Legislature.

Now, briefly I am going to say why this classification is reasonable and why I believe it should be upheld and would be upheld by the court. First, of all, when the Constitution of 1874 was drafter the framers of that instrument said, when new counties shall be created in this Commonwealth, they shall comply with three conditions. First of all the new county shall contain at least four hundred square miles; secondly, the parent county shall still contain at least four hundred square miles; thirdly, the old county, as well as the new county, shall not reduce below twenty thousand population; and in addition to that the county line shall not pass within ten miles of the county seat. There are thus three requirements for the classification pointed out to us in the Constitution. When the framers drafted the Constitution of 1874 they knew very well that there were a number of counties in Pennsylvania that contained less than eight hundred square miles and consequently those counties could not be divided and comply with this constitutional provision. My own county, Lehigh, is one of these, Philadelphia was one of these. There are eleven in number, if I care to mention them, which were excluded at the time the framers framed the Constitution, excluded from this provision for the creation of counties. Now if you say that the framers of the Constitution contemplated that only one county could be taken and substract a new county from it; in other words, that you cannot join contiguous counties, then the county must have at least eight hundred square miles and if you apply that test, there were at the time of the adoption of the Constitution twenty-four counties, and there are still that many, twenty-four counties having more than eight hundred square miles; but there is another provision cropping up and that is the boundary dare not pass within ten miles of the county seat and when you apply that test you will find that there are only ten counties remaining in Pennsylvania which can be divided because of that provision that there can be no division carryng the boundary line within ten miles of the county seat. Now I submit to you that when the framers inserted that into the Constitution they saw at once that it was impossible to have that apply equally to every county in the State of Pennsylvania and when the gentleman from Schuylkill cites from 88th Pennsylvania he cited a case which refers to mechanics lien, which obviously should apply to every county in the State. It has been decided that the matter of procedure, scire facias and mechanics liens and the like should of necessity apply to every county in the State and you must construe the language of the court in that case as applying to those particular facts when he says, When one county is excluded the act is unconstitutional.

I say to you that by the language of the Constitution every county cannot possibly be included in a classification of counties and this is a reasonable classification and whether it is a reasonable classfication is not so much a matter for the Legislature to decide. We know that it takes days and weeks for the highest courts in Pennsylvania to reach a determination upon this question and it seems to me that it is presumptious for us suddenly to take a stand on one side or another and say this question is constitutional or unconstitutional. I want to say that the act of 1878, under which Lackawanna county was cut off from Luzerne county, and which the gentleman from Schuylkill referred to, was at the time of the passage of that act, the provision of which was that counties having one hundred and fifty thousand population or more might be divided, at the time of the passage of that act there was only one county in Pennsylvania that could comply with it and that was Luzerne. Philadelphia and Allegheny were both too small in the matter of area to comply with the provisions of that act and after a bitter fight that act became a law and everybody knew at the time of its passage that it applied only to one county. Now the bill before you does not apply to only one county in Pennsylvania. It applies to a number of counties which lie continguous, Tioga, Bradford, Susquehanna, Potter, McKean, Crawford, Warren, Somerset, Fayette, York and Huntingdon, every one of them might come within the provisions of this act some time or other.

It may be that at the present time that the counties of Luzerne and Schuylkill are the only two counties which would come within this provision, that it would apply to them, but there are others which can grow into the class. Whether this classification is constitutional or not, I say as was said in 212th Pennsylvania, by Judge Mitchell, that it is a matter for the courts to decide upon the reasonableness of it and I submit to this House further, that the question of classification of townships has never been decided, the classification for the purpose of creatng new counties has never been decided by the Supreme Court. Each decision of this question of constitutionality has been upon its own fats and the decisions which have been cited here do not cover the bill in question. I submit to you that it is so important and it is such a mooted question, a question which is too weighty to stifle here and allow a section of Luzerne and Schuylkill county to go without demands that they are asking of you, and I submit that inasmuch as there is not a decision in the book covering the exact conditions in question, that it should be passed and that the court should pass upon it, because that is the place where the Constitution is interpreted.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, after sitting here for three hours and fifteen minutes, this evening, listening to the jangle back and fourth, I have been wondering where we are going to get at if we keep this up. One of the reasons that the gentleman gave for reconsidering this bill was that the bill should be fairly discussed. It seems to me that when this bill was up the other night that never in my legislative experience have I heard a bill so fairly and honestly discussed from a legal standpoint as this bill, and the arguments were so plain convincing to any one of legal training, but it seems to me that men of ordinary intelligence who listened to it would have no question in their minds but that the bill came entirely within the prohibition of the Constitution. It not only undertakes to classify by population, but it undertakes to classify by counties of two. It does not even say counties of two or more. Every county joins with another one along three or four different points. If the bill said two or more counties, it might be a little plainer. But it strictly limits it to two, and then goes on the limit it by square miles. The decisions read by the gentleman from Schuylkill of the highest courts of this State are so plain that there seems to be no question in anybody's mind that the bill comes within the prohibition article. I see no reason why the House reverse itself at this time.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROCKWELL. I will.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. SPEAKER. I would like to ask the gentleman from Tioga that if this august body was made up of journeymen, mechanics, blacksmiths, and laboring men, and we had no attorneys to decide the technicalities contained in this questions, who would decide them?

Mr. ROCKWELL. The House would, if submitted to the House by the Speaker.

Mr. DAVIS. Well, Mr. Speaker, if that is the case here, why can not the question be submitted to the House.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, it was.

The question recurring?

Will the House agree to reconsider the vote by which the point of order was sustained?

The years and nays were required by Mr. CONNIFF and Mr. ADAMS were as follows:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. GRAMLEY. Mr. Speaker, I raise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GRAMLEY. In the Legislative Journal of April first, I find that this book makes me say something which I did not say. This book says I said, "I read a letter written by a Superintendent residing in Centre County." What I did say was, "not residing in Centre County." The book omits the word "Not" and I desire to have the correction made.

The SPEAKER.The correction will be made upon the Journal.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.
